Senate Demos To Vote Own Opinions On Joe

Solons Won't Take Party Position On Anti-McCarthy Resolution

WASHINGTON (INS) —Senate Democratic leaders decided unanimously Thursday not to take a party position for or against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), when the anti-McCarthy resolution comes up for full-scale debate Friday.

The decision was announced by minority leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) after a four-hour session of the Democratic Policy Committee.

It was reached after Senate majority leader William F. Knowland (R-Calif) dropped his plan to avoid a direct showdown on the issue and invited a "full dress debate" which may run into next week.

Johnson told newsmen:

"It was the unanimous sense of the committee that the issue raised is a matter of conscience upon which each individual senator should vote his convictions without regard to party affiliation."

'Clear Cut Issue'

Five Democrats who have taken stands against McCarthy and who are not members of the policy committee attended Thursday's closed meeting. They included Sens. Henry M. Jackson, of Washington, and Stuart Symington, of Missouri, both members of McCarthy's investigating subcommittee.

The others were Sens. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark), lone senator to vote against further funds for McCarthy's subcommittee; Herbert Lehman, (D-NY) and Mike Monroney, (D-Okla), who have publicly criticized the Wisconsin Republican.

Fulbright said he thought more than 40 Democrats would vote to censure McCarthy if they got a chance to vote for a "clear-cut issue" but conceded a different vote might result if a move sidetracking the showdown were presented.

He told newsmen: "I think Democrats are too intelligent, too sensitive to the honor of the Senate (to oppose the censure move.) I don't think they want to bear responsibility for this man (McCarthy) being their agent. I know I don't."

He said that if the Senate evades the issue it will have "lost its sense of dignity and honor." Fulbright agreed, however, that it should not be made a matter of party policy.

Speeches Expected

Johnson admitted that suggestions were made in the Democratic meeting that the issue be made a party matter but would not disclose who made the recommendation. He said he expected a number of Democratic speeches when the issue comes up and added he does not expect a vote to be reached Friday.

He reported that Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), third Democrat on the McCarthy subcommittee, is expected back in Washington over the weekend.

Knowland said that supporters of the censure resolution against McCarthy have made the inference that "some senators don't want to stand up and be counted." Knowland said he wants to prove that this is not the case.

Knowland abandoned plans for tabling the censure resolution as another Republican introduced a substitute which would sidetrack the issue until well after this fall's congressional elections.

The substitute, by Sen H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) calls for a special committee headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon to study the problem of "McCarthyism" and report to the Senate next year.

Knowland said the Smith proposal did not have GOP leadership backing.

'Third Man' Statement Is Reported

Inmate Believed Prison 'Slasher'

By ROY CAMPBELL
And BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writers

A signed statement reportedly has been made setting forth that a third party was directly connected with the slaying of Prison Guard John Claussen on April 16.

It has been learned also that the third person involved was the same inmate who slashed another prisoner's throat while allegedly under the influence of benzedrine, a drug. The desire by some inmates to purchase benzedrine is believed to be the reason or motive for killing Claussen who was known to carry overly large sums of money with him.

County Attorney Frederick Wagener, who is a candidate for governor, was unavailable for comment on the latest disclosure in the investigation as he campaigned in Omaha during the closing days before the primary election. He has declined to give out further information concerning possible prosecutions for the killing, in addition to the two inmates already charged.

Split Reported

The money taken from the slain guard—his billfold was found empty beside his mutilated body—was reportedly split up between one of the men already charged and the third person whose identity has not been revealed. A sum of $8 was found in a vaseline jar in the cell of another inmate where it was deposited by the third and still unnamed convict, according to reliable information.

Guard Claussen suffered death by heavy blows about the head and his throat was slashed several times. The third man, who is thought to have been involved in the killing, is serving a life term for second degree murder after he was convicted of slashing a man's throat.

During his stops in Lincoln between campaign trips, Wagener has contended that to release information prior to the trial of Charles E. McClelland, 25, who has been charged with the Claussen murder, would be detrimental to the choosing of a jury. He did, however, release information concerning the charges against McClelland and Joseph E. DeYonghe, 21, who is in the State Hospital pending a determination of his sanity in order for him to stand trial.

Both DeYonghe and McClelland have professed their innocence of the Good Friday murder of the guard.

McClelland has allegedly accused a third party with direct involvement in the guard's death.

Wagener said that McClelland's trial on the murder charge will be the first on the docket in the fall term of the District Court.

Churchill Wins OK On Suez

Britain's Canal Base 'Outdated By H-Bomb'

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill successfully rode down a rebellion in his own party Thursday and won overwhelming approval in the House of Commons of his historic decision to withdraw British troops from the Suez Canal zone.

The House supported Churchill's evacuation policy by a vote of 257 to 26. It had just heard a government declaration that the H-bomb has made obsolete the billion dollar base Britain built and occupied for nearly three-quarters of a century.

More than half of the House, including most Laborites, abstained.

The 79-year-old Churchill, who declared in 1945 he had not become prime minister in order to liquidate the empire, had staked the life of his Cabinet on a motion demanding approval of the agreement initialed with the Egyptian government last Tuesday night.

The agreement, warmly approved by U.S. government leaders calls for transfer of the 83,000 British troops from their Suez base within 20 months after a detailed pact is signed. The seven-year agreement gives Britain the right to occupy the base in case of attack on Turkey or any of the Arab League states. The vast installations dominating the strategic waterway are to be kept in shape by British or civilian caretakers under contract to the British.

'Outdated'

Seeking to rally the backing of 40 Tory rebels, Churchill argued in a trembling voice that the whole British position in Suez had been outdated by "the appalling developments and the appalling spectacles which imagination raises before us.

"Merely to try to imagine in outline how to portray the first few weeks of a war as it is now . . . would convince you of the obsolescence of the base."

In the final test only 26 Conservatives, angered at the agreement to permit the crumbling of another bit of the empire, voted against the government. A group of 40 Conservatives had threatened to jump the traces on the issue.

The Labor party skipped a chance to overturn the government by adopting an official policy of abstaining on the vote. But five Laborites broke this ruling and voted with the government. Laborites long have urged the government to get out of Egypt.

Freak Mishap Kills Worker

HEBRON, Neb. (AP)—Vic Dobish, 44, of St. Paul, Minn., was killed Thursday evening as he was working on an earthscraper a mile south of here.

Dobish was preparing to weld the machine, when a tail gate, which was operated by a spring, came loose and slammed shut on him. His chest and head were crushed between the gate and a tire of the scraper.

The Hebron Fire Department rescue squad was called, but Dobish was pronounced dead shortly thereafter by County Attorney W. O. Baldwin, acting as coroner.

Dobish was an employe of DeVoss Brothers of Grand Island, subcontractors on construction of Highway 81.

He is survived by his mother, a brother and a sister.

Who's Complaining?

Martha Rocha, Brazilian runner-up in the Miss Universe contest, shows off the hips that some people say cost her first place in the beauty pageant. Experts say the ideal form is hips and bust the same, with the waist 10 to 12 inches less. Miss Brazil measured 36-23-38—two inches too much on the hips. "Miss Brazil's face was the most gorgeous in the contest," said a judge. "But we just couldn't discount those hips." Miss Rocha says she could take off some of the disputed poundage but claims that no one ever complained in Brazil. (UP Telephoto.)

Ike Offers Food To Europe

Flood Victims May Get Aid Worth $4 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — American food for the victims of Europe's floods, including thousands of hungry behind the Iron Curtain, was offered Thursday by President Eisenhower.

He disclosed that emergency assistance has already been extended to people living along the overflowing rivers in West Germany and Austria.

But whether the Communist governments in such countries as Czechoslovakia, Hungary and East Germany will accept American help was questionable.

An offer of 15 million dollars worth of food for the people of East Germany last July was denounced by the Reds as an American "propaganda trick." The Soviet high commissioner issued a protest against the plan.

Police Ignored

Nevertheless, the food was sent into Berlin and over a four-day period 650,000 East Germans ignored Red police to swarm across the border for the free packages.

The President's latest offer was made after the situation was discussed at a Cabinet meeting. It was the first application of a new law authorizing shipments of surplus food to distressed areas even though their governments are not friendly to the United States.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, reported that on the basis of a very rough estimate about four million dollars worth of food is needed in the inundated districts. He said the government had in mind sending such commodities as grain and probably butter from the huge surplus stocks in this country.

DIOR'S NEW PLANS FLATTEN OLD CURVES

By PEGGY LAMSON

PARIS (AP) — Fashion designer Christian Dior, who popularized the postwar "new look" set out Thursday to do it again with a fall and winter line that denies feminine curves are where they used to be.

Dior

Dior's mannequins appeared as if they were ready for a big night back in the Roaring '20s. They had flattened busts, waistlines where you might expect hips and hardly a natural curve in the house.

If Dior's ideas win acceptance—and he drew loud applause at the showings—it will be pretty trying for women who lack the sleek figures of Dior's models.

He calls it his "H-line" because that is what the new form is supposed to resemble. It also might indicate "hips," because that is where the emphasis is. The few belts that appeared on the costumes were draped consistently at the hips.

Dior appears to have disregarded last year's unsuccessful attempt by former fashion empress Coco Chanel to stage a comeback with similar beanlike figures. His styles—flat, boyish, slender, elongated and long-waisted—go even farther.

"The line," as fashion experts quickly dubbed it, looks less startling and more wearable in full flaring cocktail and dinner dresses.

One reassuring part of the changing fashion scene is the decision by Dior and other designers not to tinker with skirt lengths. They figure 17 inches from the floor is about right for hemlines.

Dior's salon was packed as he unveiled his creations in a press showing and for the scads of buyers in town.

Lancaster Goes On Defensive

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster County commissioners were thrown on the defensive after Douglas County appeared before the State Board of Equalization and offered comparisons of valuations on office buildings in Lincoln and Omaha.

Chauncey Barney explained that the Lancaster delegation come before the board with no intentions of making comparisons with other counties but merely to show the fairness of assessments made after a scientific appraisal and that it was the duty of the state board to make such adjustments between counties as appeared necessary.

"The pattern set at the hearing this afternoon indicates that next year every county will have to snoop on every other county in order to make equal presentations," Barney said.

Added Expense

He said that last year the board's actions provided what was believed to be "substantial equalization" between counties. He described how at added expense the county had completed a reappraisal of all property in a year and a half so that this year's figures would be fair to all other counties of the state.

Barney said the county equalization board used the full 40 days allowed by law and a number of nights to hear protests and equalize. He explained that while the statewide average of business inventories showed a 7.3 per cent decline in assessment Lancaster county increased this class of property by $5,661,435.

He said the average statewide valuation of farm lands decreased 3.7 per cent and town lots and improvements 8.1 per cent. Valuations of Lancaster County real estate, he said, were increased $7,472,370.

"Comparisons can be rigged by specific examples," Barney said in answer to comparisons made between Lincoln and Omaha office buildings. He salled attention to the fact that the highly praised Tax Appraisal Board in Douglas county was either working on 1947 formulas when the board was established or later valuations were out of line with earlier figures.

He explained that Lancaster County's formula was set up in 1952 at the peak of real estate prices. This was adjusted for 1954 values by using 70 per cent of appraised value for commercial property, 65 for farms and 60 on residential to equalize the drop in property values.

Same Yardstick

"We must use the same yardstick in every county if actual equalization is to be obtained," he continued. He insisted that it was not fair for the rest of the state to "have to carry the load" for the decrease of $196,000,000 in Douglas county valuations.

"We didn't know the evidence that would be introduced by Douglas County comparing valuations of buildings in the two cities or we would have obtained a comparison of the difference in rentals in the buildings," Barney explained.

Much Older

Lewis Sholes, chairman of the Douglas County Tax Appraisal Board, compared the assessment of the Stuart Building at $8.62 per square foot with the Insurance Building, Omaha, at $10.38 per square foot and noted that the Insurance building was much older.

He also compared the Sharp Building at $9.44 per square foot with the First National Bank building, Omaha at $13.48 per square foot. He offered no figures on comparative income from the two buildings but said the Lincoln buildings were only about 35 per cent of appraised value on the 50 per cent assessment basis.

Fred White and Alfred Kennedy representing large holders of real estate in Omaha objected to the hearing on the basis that the county had not received five days notice. C. C. Sheldon, assistant attorney general, on behalf of the board advised him that they could return in five days if they desired.

TAB Appraisals

Sholes described at length under questioning of Augie Ross, assistant county attorney how the TAB has been making appraisals. The work which started in 1947 has only completed work in the city of Omaha. He said the 1954 assessment is $692,000,000 more than was returned before the Legislature created the board.

Omaha residence assessments are "slightly higher" than those in Fremont, Sholes said in quoting figures of assessments and sale prices. He later explained that sale prices are not accurate as to values due to purchases on low monthly payments during housing shortages.

Whistle Toot Heralds Colorful 58th Annual Diller Festival

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Staff Writer

DILLER, Neb.—Once each year on a summer evening the town's "six o-clock whistle" serves as a special signal that turns Diller's business section into a scene of music, color and pageantry.

The whistle starts a parade for which this town of some 400 persons has become famous in this part of the state. The parade is the principal feature of the annual Diller Picnic, a homecoming event that has been staged for the last 58 years.

45 Units

The 1954 edition of the parade was presented Thursday night with a total of 45 units, taking nearly two hours to pass through the streets. The parade was divided into three sections with 15 units—bands, floats and horseback riders—in each.

The parade theme this year was pioneer living, and the parade floats depicted the religious and business activity of early Nebraskans. Setting the time for the parade were bands from Hanover, Kan., Diller, and Fairbury. Horsemen were on hand to represent saddle clubs from Gage County, Nebraska, and Washington County, Kansas.

Big Parade

With an average of one unit in the parade for each 10 persons in this small town, local streets were a scene of wholesale float-construction in the hours just before the big parade.

The Diller Picnic which is sponsored by the Commercial Club here included dancing on a newly-constructed cement platform, concerts by the Diller Band and horse shows by the saddle clubs. Members of the committee in charge of the parade were Claude Hewitt, Clarence Wolken, Mrs. Perry Weaver and Ernest Schulz.

The picnic will end Friday evening with a band concert in the park here, dancing and free stage acts.

Dr. Typer, the eighth president of Doane College, succeeds Dr. David L. Crawford.

Dr. Crawford retired and went to Washington, D. C., at the end of the 1953-54 term.

David Osterhout, Crete appliance store operator, has been acting president since March.

Doane, with an average of 300 students, is a Christian College, related to the Congregational Church.

On the committee to name the new president were The Rev. Harold Janes, Omaha Congregational minister, chairman; Robert Van Pelt, Lincoln; G. E. Darrington, Crete; Mrs. George Abel Lincoln; Dudley A. Aller, Omaha; George B. Hastings, Grant, and Dr. Arthur W. Taylor of Lincoln, superintendent of the Nebraska Congregational Conference.

Dr. Typer has been active in YMCA work and in various government positions here and abroad.

The past two and a half years he was chief of the work-study training section of the Technical Assistance Division, Foreign Operations Administration.

He had been on the staff of George Williams College in Chicago seven years, leaving in 1942 to become a USO training director.

Dr. Typer was in Crete Thursday and was brought in to the Board of Trustees meeting after his election.

"Everything I have learned about Doane College and its campus has been an inspiration to me," he said.

"The opportunity to serve the youth of this state is one that appealed to me," Dr. Typer said.

After seven years of government employment, he said, this will be a major professional change "and I'm looking forward to getting back into the educational field."

"My family and I are originally midwesterners," he said, "and we are glad of the opportunity to return and to be associated with a college which has an outstanding record of scholastic achievement."

IKE GETS BILL

President Terms It Cornerstone Of Program

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Senate Thursday night passed the Eisenhower administration's big tax revision bill carrying a wide variety of benefits for many individuals and corporations. The vote was 61 to 26.

Sen. Bowring (R-Neb) voted with the majority for passage. Sen Reynolds (R-Neb) did not vote.

Forty-two Republicans and 19 Democrats supported the bill. Three Republicans, 22 Democrats and one Independent voted against.

The measure, a compromise version already passed by the House, now goes to President Eisenhower. The President has called it the cornerstone of his 1954 legislative program.

The measure, the first complete overhaul of the tax laws in 75 years, goes to the White House with most of the key provisions in exactly the form that Eisenhower recommended in January.

Second Major Measure

It represents the second major item on his legislative priority list to go to the President on successive days. The previous Congress sent him the general housing bill. In this measure, however, the President's public housing features were cut far below what he had asked.

The tax bill cuts government revenues an estimated $1,363,000,000 in the first year. The revenue loss will be greater in future years.

Senate Democrats centered their attack on a provision giving a tax cut to stockholders on their dividend income.

This had been considerably watered down from the original Eisenhower request. But opponents still sought unsuccessfully to defeat the compromise bill so that it would have to go back to another conference with the House.

7½ Billion Cut Program

Final enactment of the bill completes a 7½-billion-dollar 1954 tax reduction program. This is the biggest one-year cut in history, a fact Republican orators expect to use throughout the nation in the fall elections.

However, Democrats stress that the two biggest cuts—three billion through a 10 per cent personal income tax cut effective last Jan.1 and two billion through expiration of the corporation excess profits tax on the same date—were fixed in a bill enacted in 1951 under Democratic rule.

The other reduction was the one billion cut in assorted excise taxes effective last April 1. The Treasury fought this, but the President signed it on recommendation of his congressional leaders.

Corporation Tax Extended

Offsetting a major part of this 1[illegible]-billion-dollar first-year revenue loss is a provision extending for one year the 52 per cent corporation tax rate. This will bring in an extra $1,200,000,000. Without the extension, the levy would have dropped to 47 per cent as of last April 1.

Many Democrats assailed the tax revision measure as loaded with benefits for the wealthy and for big companies, although there is general agreement the bill eliminates many injustices and inequities for special groups.

Republicans from the President down hailed the measure as a fair and balanced tax program that will sharply stimulate plant modernization and expansion, and lead to more jobs.

No General Changes

While altering various provisions of tax law, the bill makes no general changes in tax rates now in effect. The rates which it reenacts are expected to bring in slightly more than 60 billion dollars to run the government in the next year. That includes $30,300,000,000 in individual income taxes, $20,300,000,0 in corporation levies, one billion from estate and gift levies.

Most of the tax cuts in the bill are effective as of last Jan. 1, and thus could be reflected in returns filed next year.

For individuals, the biggest reductions would go to stockholders, families with heavy medical expenses, mothers who must work to support their children, retired persons, parents of college - age children who work, and farmers with large soil conservation expenses.

Biggest revenue loss in the measure is involved in the more rapid depreciation system authorized for both corporations and individuals, with the chief benefit for the former.

Senate Demos To Vote Own Opinions On Joe

Solons Won't Take Party Position On Anti-McCarthy Resolution

WASHINGTON (INS) —Senate Democratic leaders decided unanimously Thursday not to take a party position for or against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), when the anti-McCarthy resolution comes up for full-scale debate Friday.

The decision was announced by minority leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) after a four-hour session of the Democratic Policy Committee.

It was reached after Senate majority leader William F. Knowland (R-Calif) dropped his plan to avoid a direct showdown on the issue and invited a "full dress debate" which may run into next week.

Johnson told newsmen:

"It was the unanimous sense of the committee that the issue raised is a matter of conscience upon which each individual senator should vote his convictions without regard to party affiliation."

'Clear Cut Issue'

Five Democrats who have taken stands against McCarthy and who are not members of the policy committee attended Thursday's closed meeting. They included Sens. Henry M. Jackson, of Washington, and Stuart Symington, of Missouri, both members of McCarthy's investigating subcommittee.

The others were Sens. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark), lone senator to vote against further funds for McCarthy's subcommittee; Herbert Lehman, (D-NY) and Mike Monroney, (D-Okla), who have publicly criticized the Wisconsin Republican.

Fulbright said he thought more than 40 Democrats would vote to censure McCarthy if they got a chance to vote for a "clear-cut issue" but conceded a different vote might result if a move sidetracking the showdown were presented.

He told newsmen: "I think Democrats are too intelligent, too sensitive to the honor of the Senate (to oppose the censure move.) I don't think they want to bear responsibility for this man (McCarthy) being their agent. I know I don't."

He said that if the Senate evades the issue it will have "lost its sense of dignity and honor." Fulbright agreed, however, that it should not be made a matter of party policy.

Speeches Expected

Johnson admitted that suggestions were made in the Democratic meeting that the issue be made a party matter but would not disclose who made the recommendation. He said he expected a number of Democratic speeches when the issue comes up and added he does not expect a vote to be reached Friday.

He reported that Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), third Democrat on the McCarthy subcommittee, is expected back in Washington over the weekend.

Knowland said that supporters of the censure resolution against McCarthy have made the inference that "some senators don't want to stand up and be counted." Knowland said he wants to prove that this is not the case.

Knowland abandoned plans for tabling the censure resolution as another Republican introduced a substitute which would sidetrack the issue until well after this fall's congressional elections.

The substitute, by Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) calls for a special committee headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon to study the problem of "McCarthyism" and report to the Senate next year.

Knowland said the Smith proposal did not have GOP leadership backing.

'Third Man' Statement Is Reported

Inmate Believed Prison 'Slasher'

By ROY CAMPBELL
And BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writers

A signed statement reportedly has been made setting forth that a third party was directly connected with the slaying of Prison Guard John Claussen on April 16.

It has been learned also that the third person involved was the same inmate who slashed another prisoner's throat while allegedly under the influence of benzedrine, a drug. The desire by some inmates to purchase benzedrine is believed to be the reason or motive for killing Claussen who was known to carry overly large sums of money with him.

County Attorney Frederick Wagener, who is a candidate for governor, was unavailable for comment on the latest disclosure in the investigation as he campaigned in Omaha during the closing days before the primary election. He has declined to give out further information concerning possible prosecutions for the killing, in addition to the two inmates already charged.

Split Reported

The money taken from the slain guard—his billfold was found empty beside his mutilated body—was reportedly split up between one of the men already charged and the third person whose identity has not been revealed. A sum of $8 was found in a vaseline jar in the cell of another inmate where it was deposited by the third and still unnamed convict, according to reliable information.

Guard Claussen suffered death by heavy blows about the head and his throat was slashed several times. The third man, who is thought to have been involved in the killing, is serving a life term for second degree murder after he was convicted of slashing a man's throat.

During his stops in Lincoln between campaign trips, Wagener has contended that to release information prior to the trial of Charles E. McClelland, 25, who has been charged with the Claussen murder, would be detrimental to the choosing of a jury. He did, however, release information concerning the charges against McClelland and Joseph E. DeYonghe, 21, who is in the State Hospital pending a determination of his sanity in order for him to stand trial.

Both DeYonghe and McClelland have professed their innocence of the Good Friday murder of the guard.

McClelland has allegedly accused a third party with direct involvement in the guard's death.

Wagener said that McClelland's trial on the murder charge will be the first on the docket in the fall term of the District Court.

Britain's Canal Base 'Outdated By H-Bomb'

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill successfully rode down a rebellion in his own party Thursday and won overwhelming approval in the House of Commons of his historic decision to withdraw British troops from the Suez Canal zone.

The House supported Churchill's evacuation policy by a vote of 257 to 26. It had just heard a government declaration that the H-bomb has made obsolete the billion dollar base Britain built and occupied for nearly three-quarters of a century.

More than half of the House, including most Laborites, abstained.

The 79-year-old Churchill, who declared in 1945 he had not become prime minister in order to liquidate the empire, had staked the life of his Cabinet on a motion demanding approval of the agreement initialed with the Egyptian government last Tuesday night.

The agreement, warmly approved by U.S. government leaders calls for transfer of the 83,000 British troops from their Suez base within 20 months after a detailed pact is signed. The seven-year agreement gives Britain the right to occupy the base in case of attack on Turkey or any of the Arab League states. The vast installations dominating the strategic waterway are to be kept in shape by British or civilian caretakers under contract to the British.

'Outdated'

Seeking to rally the backing of 40 Tory rebels, Churchill argued in a trembling voice that the whole British position in Suez had been outdated by "the appalling developments and the appalling spectacles which imagination raises before us.

"Merely to try to imagine in outline how to portray the first few weeks of a war as it is now . . . would convince you of the obsolescence of the base."

In the final test only 26 Conservatives, angered at the agreement to permit the crumbling of another bit of the empire, voted against the government. A group of 40 Conservatives had threatened to jump the traces on the issue.

The Labor party skipped a chance to overturn the government by adopting an official policy of abstaining on the vote. But five Laborites broke this ruling and voted with the government. Laborites long have urged the government to get out of Egypt.

Freak Mishap Kills Worker

HEBRON, Neb. (AP)—Vic Dobish, 44, of St. Paul, Minn., was killed Thursday evening as he was working on an earthscraper a mile south of here.

Dobish was preparing to weld the machine, when a tail gate, which was operated by a spring, came loose and slammed shut on him. His chest and head were crushed between the gate and a tire of the scraper.

The Hebron Fire Department rescue squad was called, but Dobish was pronounced dead shortly thereafter by County Attorney W. O. Baldwin, acting as coroner.

Dobish was an employe of DeVoss Brothers of Grand Island, subcontractors on construction of Highway 81.

He is survived by his mother, a brother and a sister.

Who's Complaining?

Martha Rocha, Brazilian runner-up in the Miss Universe contest, shows off the hips that some people say cost her first place in the beauty pageant. Experts say the ideal form is hips and bust the same, with the waist 10 to 12 inches less. Miss Brazil measured 36 - 23 - 38—two inches too much on the hips. "Miss Brazil's face was the most gorgeous in the contest," said a judge. "But we just couldn't discount those hips." Miss Rocha says she could take off some of the disputed poundage but claims that no one ever complained in Brazil. (UP Telephoto.)

Ike Offers Food To Europe

Flood Victims May Get Aid Worth $4 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — American food for the victims of Europe's floods, including thousands of hungry behind the Iron Curtain, was offered Thursday by President Eisenhower.

He disclosed that emergency assistance has already been extended to people living along the overflowing rivers in West Germany and Austria.

But whether the Communist governments in such countries as Czechoslovakia, Hungary and East Germany will accept American help was questionable.

An offer of 15 million dollars worth of food for the people of East Germany last July was denounced by the Reds as an American "propaganda trick." The Soviet high commissioner issued a protest against the plan.

Police Ignored

Nevertheless, the food was sent into Berlin and over a four-day period 650,000 East Germans ignored Red police to swarm across the border for the free packages.

The President's latest offer was made after the situation was discussed at a Cabinet meeting. It was the first application of a new law authorizing shipments of surplus food to distressed areas even though their governments are not friendly to the United States.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, reported that on the basis of a very rough estimate about four million dollars worth of food is needed in the inundated districts. He said the government had in mind sending such commodities as grain and probably butter from the huge surplus stocks in this country.

DIOR'S NEW PLANS FLATTEN OLD CURVES

By PEGGY LAMSON

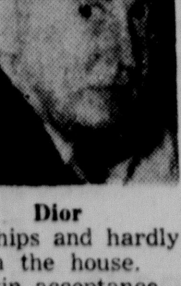
PARIS (AP) — Fashion designer Christian Dior, who popularized the postwar "new look" set out Thursday to do it again with a fall and winter line that denies feminine curves are where they used to be.



Dior

Dior's mannequins appeared as if they were ready for a big night back in the Roaring '20s. They had flattened busts, waistlines where you might expect hips and hardly a natural curve in the house.

If Dior's ideas win acceptance—and he drew loud applause at the showings—it will be pretty trying for women who lack the sleek figures of Dior's models.

He calls it his "H-line" because that is what the new form is supposed to resemble. It also might indicate "hips," because that is where the emphasis is. The few belts that appeared on the costumes were draped consistently at the hips.

Dior appears to have disregarded last year's unsuccessful attempt by former fashion empress Coco Chanel to stage a comeback with similar beanlike figures. His styles—flat, boyish, slender, elongated and long-waisted—go even farther.

"The line," as fashion experts quickly dubbed it, looks less startling and more wearable in full flaring cocktail and dinner dresses.

One reassuring part of the changing fashion scene is the decision by Dior and other designers not to tinker with skirt lengths. They figure 17 inches from the floor is about right for hemlines.

Dior's salon was packed as he unveiled his creations in a press showing and for the scads of buyers in town.

Lancaster Goes On Defensive

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster County commissioners were thrown on the defensive after Douglas County appeared before the State Board of Equalization and offered comparisons of valuations on office buildings in Lincoln and Omaha.

Chauncey Barney explained that the Lancaster delegation come before the board with no intentions of making comparisons with other counties but merely to show the fairness of assessments made after a scientific appraisal and that it was the duty of the state board to make such adjustments between counties as appeared necessary.

"The pattern set at the hearing this afternoon indicates that next year every county will have to snoop on every other county in order to make equal presentations," Barney said.

Added Expense

He said that last year the board's actions provided what was believed to be "substantial equalization" between counties. He described how at added expense the county had completed a reappraisal of all property in a year and a half so that this year's figures would be fair to all other counties of the state.

Barney said the county equalization board used the full 40 days allowed by law and a number of nights to hear protests and equalize. He explained that while the statewide average of business inventories showed a 7.3 per cent decline in assessment Lancaster county increased this class of property by $5,661,435.

He said the average statewide valuation of farm lands decreased 3.7 per cent and town lots and improvements 8.1 per cent. Valuations of Lancaster County real estate, he said, were increased $7,472,370.

"Comparisons can be rigged by specific examples," Barney said in answer to comparisons made between Lincoln and Omaha office buildings. He salled attention to the fact that the highly praised Tax Appraisal Board in Douglas county was either working on 1947 formulas when the board was established or later valuations were out of line with earlier figures.

He explained that Lancaster County's formula was set up in 1952 at the peak of real estate prices. This was adjusted for 1954 values by using 70 per cent of appraised value for commercial property, 65 for farms and 60 on residential to equalize the drop in property values.

Same Yardstick

"We must use the same yardstick in every county if actual equalization is to be obtained," he continued. He insisted that it was not fair for the rest of the state to "have to carry the load" for the decrease of $196,000,000 in Douglas county valuations.

"We didn't know the evidence that would be introduced by Douglas County comparing valuations of buildings in the two cities or we would have obtained a comparison of the difference in rentals in the buildings," Barney explained.

Much Older

Lewis Sholes, chairman of the Douglas County Tax Appraisal Board, compared the assessment of the Stuart Building at $8.62 per square foot with the Insurance Building, Omaha, at $10,38 per square foot and noted that the Insurance building was much older.

He also compared the Sharp Building at $9.44 per square foot with the First National Bank building, Omaha at $13.48 per square foot. He offered no figures on comparative income from the two buildings but said the Lincoln buildings were only about 35 per cent of appraised value on the 50 per cent assessment basis.

Fred White and Alfred Kennedy representing large holders of real estate in Omaha objected to the hearing on the basis that the county had not received five days notice. C. C. Sheldon, assistant attorney general, on behalf of the board advised him that they could return in five days if they desired.

TAB Appraisals

Sholes described at length under questioning of Augie Ross, assistant county attorney how the TAB has been making appraisals. The work which started in 1947 has only completed work in the city of Omaha. He said the 1954 assessment is $692,000,000 more than was returned before the Legislature created the board.

Omaha residence assessments are "slightly higher" than those in Fremont, Sholes said in quoting figures of assessments and sale prices. He later explained that sale prices are not accurate as to values due to purchases on low monthly payments during housing shortages.

Whistle Toot Heralds Colorful 58th Annual Diller Festival

By JOHN SWANSON

DILLER, Neb.—Once each year on a summer evening the town's "six o-clock whistle" serves as a special signal that turns Diller's business section into a scene of music, color and pageantry.

The whistle starts a parade for which this town of some 400 persons has become famous in this part of the state. The parade is the principal feature of the annual Diller Picnic, a homecoming event that has been staged for the last 58 years.

45 Units

The 1954 edition of the parade was presented Thursday night with a total of 45 units, taking nearly two hours to pass through the streets. The parade was divided into three sections with 15 units—bands, floats and horseback riders—in each.

The parade theme this year was pioneer living, and the parade floats depicted the religious and business activity of early Nebraskans. Setting the time for the parade were bands from Hanover, Kan., Diller, and Fairbury. Horsemen were on hand to represent saddle clubs from Gage County, Nebraska, and Washington County, Kansas.

Big Parade

With an average of one unit in the parade for each 10 persons in this small town, local streets were a scene of wholesale float-construction in the hours just before the big parade.

The Diller Picnic which is sponsored by the Commercial Club here included dancing on a newly-constructed cement platform, concerts by the Diller Band and horse shows by the saddle clubs. Members of the committee in charge of the parade were Claude Hewitt, Clarence Wolken, Mrs. Perry Weaver and Ernest Schulz.

The picnic will end Friday evening with a band concert in the park here, dancing and free stage acts.

New College Head Comes From Foreign Aid Post In Washington

Lincoln Star Special

CRETE, Neb.—Dr. Donald M. Typer, 49, of Washington, D. C., has been unanimously elected president of Doane College.

Announcement of his selection was made by Robert Van Pelt, Lincoln attorney, following a meeting of the Doane Board of Trustees Thursday.

Dr. Typer, the eighth president of Doane College, succeeds Dr. David L. Crawford.

Dr. Crawford retired and went to Washington, D. C., at the end of the 1953-54 term.

David Osterhout, Crete appliance store operator, has been acting president since March.

Doane, with an average of 300 students, is a Christian College, related to the Congregational Church.

On the committee to name the new president were The Rev. Harold Janes, Omaha Congregational minister, chairman; Robert Van Pelt, Lincoln; G. E. Darrington, Crete; Mrs. George Abel Lincoln; Dudley A. Aller, Omaha; George B. Hastings, Grant, and Dr. Arthur W. Taylor of Lincoln, superintendent of the Nebraska Congregational Conference.

Dr. Typer has been active in YMCA work and in various government positions here and abroad.

The past two and a half years he was chief of the work-study training section of the Technical Assistance Division, Foreign Operations Administration.

He had been on the staff of George Williams College in Chicago seven years, leaving in 1942 to become a USO training director.

Dr. Typer was in Crete Thursday and was brought in to the Board of Trustees meeting after his election.

"Everything I have learned about Doane College and its campus has been an inspiration to me," he said.

"The opportunity to serve the youth of this state is one that appealed to me," Dr. Typer said.

After seven years of government employment, he said, this will be a major professional change "and I'm looking forward to getting back into the educational field."

"My family and I are originally midwesterners," he said, "and we are glad of the opportunity to return and to be associated with a college which has an outstanding record of scholastic achievement."

IKE GETS BILL

President Terms It Cornerstone Of Program

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Senate Thursday night passed the Eisenhower administration's big tax revision bill carrying a wide variety of benefits for many individuals and corporations. The vote was 61 to 26.

Sen. Bowring (R-Neb) voted with the majority for passage. Sen Reynolds (R-Neb) did not vote.

Forty-two Republicans and 19 Democrats supported the bill. Three Republicans, 22 Democrats and one Independent voted against.

The measure, a compromise version already passed by the House, now goes to President Eisenhower. The President has called it the cornerstone of his 1954 legislative program.

The measure, the first complete overhaul of the tax laws in 75 years, goes to the White House with most of the key provisions in exactly the form that Eisenhower recommended in January.

Second Major Measure

It represents the second major item on his legislative priority list to go to the President on successive days. The previous Congress sent him the general housing bill. In this measure, however, the President's public housing features were cut far below what he had asked.

The tax bill cuts government revenues an estimated $1,363,000,000 in the first year. The revenue loss will be greater in future years.

Senate Democrats centered their attack on a provision giving a tax cut to stockholders on their dividend income.

This had been considerably watered down from the original Eisenhower request. But opponents still sought unsuccessfully to defeat the compromise bill so that it would have to go back to another conference with the House.

7½ Billion Cut Program

Final enactment of the bill completes a 7½-billion-dollar 1954 tax reduction program. This is the biggest one-year cut in history, a fact Republican orators expect to use throughout the nation in the fall elections.

However, Democrats stress that the two biggest cuts—three billion through a 10 per cent personal income tax cut effective last Jan.1 and two billion through expiration of the corporation excess profits tax on the same date—were fixed in a bill enacted in 1951 under Democratic rule.

The other reduction was the one billion cut in assorted excise taxes effective last April 1. The Treasury fought this, but the President signed it on recommendation of his congressional leaders.

Corporation Tax Extended

Offsetting a major part of this 1'-billion-dollar first-year revenue loss is a provision extending for one year the 52 per cent corporation tax rate. This will bring in an extra $1,200,000,000. Without the extension, the levy would have dropped to 47 per cent as of last April 1.

Many Democrats assailed the tax revision measure as loaded with benefits for the wealthy and for big companies, although there is general agreement the bill eliminates many injustices and inequities for special groups.

Republicans from the President down hailed the measure as a fair and balanced tax program that will sharply stimulate plant modernization and expansion, and lead to more jobs.

No General Changes

While altering various provisions of tax law, the bill makes no general changes in tax rates now in effect. The rates which it reenacts are expected to bring in slightly more than 60 billion dollars to run the government in the next year. That includes $30,300,000,000 in individual income taxes, $20,300,000,0 in corporation levies, one billion from estate and gift levies.

Most of the tax cuts in the bill are effective as of last Jan. 1, and thus could be reflected in returns filed next year.

For individuals, the biggest reductions would go to stockholders, families with heavy medical expenses, mothers who must work to support their children, retired persons, parents of college - age children who work, and farmers with large soil conservation expenses.

Biggest revenue loss in the measure is involved in the more rapid depreciation system authorized for both corporations and individuals, with the chief benefit for the former.

Gore Plans New Attempt To Unseat Sen. McCarthy

Far More Elaborate 'Joe Must Go' Drive In Making; It Will Be A Nationwide Try

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new move to unseat Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) will be launched after the November elections, Leroy Gore, chairman of the "Joe Must Go" clubs, announced Thursday.

Leroy Gore

As outlined, this will be a far more elaborate drive than the one that failed last spring. Not only will the 'Joe Must Go" people be after signatures from Wisconsin voters, but they also will launch a nationwide campaign to persuade citizens to write their senators. The aim is to make sure that, in case Wisconsin votes to unseat McCarthy, the Senate will go along with the decision.

Gore predicted he would encounter no difficulty in: (1) getting enough signatures to set up a recall election, and (2) defeating McCarthy in that election.

Gore Confident

"The people of Wisconsin have changed their mind about McCarthy," Gore said, "and he ought to have to go to bat again."

Gore, 50-year-old editor of the Sauk, Wis., Prairie-Star, was in town Thursday to line up backing for his renewed recall campaign and also to do what he could in behalf of the move by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) to censure McCarthy.

Gore said he would be talking with a score of political leaders of both parties, but he declined to identify any of them except Sen. Wiley (R-Wis). He added that Wiley was a personal friend of his and that he would not try to pressure Wiley into taking a stand on the recall move.

The Wisconsin constitution, Gore explained, provides that 25 per cent of those casting ballots in the last previous gubernatorial election must sign recall petitions before a special election can be held.

He said it was necessary to get 405,000 signatures after the 1952 elections but that he doesn't believe he will need to get more than 250,000 after the 54 vote. Gore showed up in town with a vast sheaf of papers and said it contained about 250,000 of the 355,000 legal signatures he asserts he collected.

"In the nationwide drive, in which Gore hopes to get two to five million persons on record on his side, the "Joe Must Go" people will be trying to line up support for a move within the Senate to unseat McCarthy.

Flop Predicted

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Any renewed effort to unseat Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) "probably will flop like the last one," Robert L. Pierce, Wisconsin Republican chairman, declared Thursday.

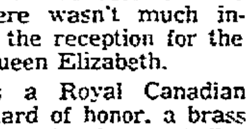
Pierce commented on an announcement in Washington by Leroy Gore, Wisconsin editor who heads the "Joe Must Go" club, that another recall drive against McCarthy would be staged after the November elections.

Pierce said Gore "has basked in the sunlight of publicity so long he probably likes it."

Harold Michael of Amery, president of the Joe Must Go club founded by Gore, said he approves of any new effort to unseat McCarthy.

Duke Is Paying Canada A Visit

OTTAWA (AP) — The visiting Duke of Edinburgh got right into the swim in Canada Thursday.



Philip

He doffed the natty uniform of a marshal in the Royal Air Force in which he arrived this hot and humid day for a three-week sightseeing tour, popped into bathing trunks and then into the pool at the Swan Country Club on the northwest outskirts of Ottawa.

The duke has said he prefers to see rather than be seen on this trip, but there wasn't much informal about the reception for the husband of Queen Elizabeth.

There was a Royal Canadian Air Force guard of honor, a brass band, 21-gun royal salute and dignitaries in top hats and cutaways.

"We are delighted to welcome you back to Canada," said Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, shaking hands warmly with the duke on the latter's arrival.

"Thank you very much: it's a pleasure to be here," said the duke, flashing his grin.

Tariff Hike Halts Elgin Wage Dispute

ELGIN, Ill. (AP)—Four thousand employes of the Elgin National Watch Co., here and in Lincoln, Neb., decided Thursday to forego wage demands because of President Eisenhower's order boosting by 50 per cent the tariff on imported watch movements.

Walter W. Cenerazzo, national president of the American Watch Makers Union (Ind.) announced the action.

The union had been negotiating with Elgin for a month on a new contract. It had asked for higher, though not publicly specified, wages, increased hospitalization and surgical costs, and settlement of seniority and transfer issues.

All points previously had been settled except that of the wage boost.

Cenerazzo said in a statement:

"The new contract will be printed and voted upon by the members at Elgin and Lincoln on Aug. 5. We believe it will be ratified."

Cenerazzo said the union also had cancelled a wage boost demand for its workers in the Waltham, Mass., plant of the Waltham Watch Co. because of the president's action.

Water Line Condemnation Suit Is Filed

A suit for the condemnation of some 1,000 feet of right-of-way for the city's water transmission line through Ashland has been filed in Saunders County Court by the Lincoln's city legal department.

A total of seven tracts are involved and as many owners, according to Deputy City Attorney Jack M. Pace. Owners, Pace said, have refused to consider offers made for the property.

Pace reported that there is now a possibility of settlement of another pending condemnation for property in the expanding Ashland well field site. A "friendly" condemnation will be instituted soon to acquire a ⅓ mile right-of-way for the transmission line through property owned by Mayor Clark Jeary west of Waverly.

Condemnation is made necessary by the charter provision declaring it illegal for an official of the city to contract with the municipality.

Pathologists Claim Pneumonia Cause Of Thorne Death

CHICAGO (INS)—Pneumonia was officially declared Thursday the cause of Montgomery Ward Thorne's death but bizarre circumstances point to a battle over his $2,600,000 estate.

The unanimous finding by a four-man panel of pathologists supercedes a previous report that the 20-year-old Fordham University student died of alcoholism or drugs, and possibly had been slain.

Dr. Jerry Kearns, chief pathologist for the Cook County coroner's office, announced the report and said needle punctures in the youth's arms "were made for the purpose of taking blood transfusions." Young Thorne had been a blood donor frequently.

Further Probe

A coroner's jury which was handed the report for a final verdict ruled that Thorne died of natural causes but recommended further investigation by "proper authorities."

The action of Coroner Walter McCarron in handing the report to the jury was made over protests of an attorney for the chief beneficiaries in a new will the heir to a mail order fortune made 10 days before his death June 19.

Young Thorne's will had cut his socialite mother, Mrs. Marion Thorne, from a major share of the estate to only one-eighth. It left one-half of the fortune to 18-year-old, blonde Maureen Ragen who said she and Monty had planned to marry in December, and one-quarter to her mother, Mrs. Aleen Ragen.

Peru Well Child Conference Gains Support

Lincoln Star Special

PERU, Neb. — When kindergarteners enroll at the Campus School at Peru State College this fall, 95 per cent of them wil have already received their immunization shots. At least that has been the case every year since the establishment of the Nemaha County Well Child Conference on the Peru State campus.

Founded April 6, 1948, as a county health project in co-operation with the State Department of Health and Peru State College, it is now operated jointly by the department and the college. It has the backing and co-operation of civic groups and many individuals who give time and money for its support.

The conference was one of the first in the nation to be used as a training center for student teachers. The fact that Peru State students assist with its operation has brought observers from health and educational institutions throughout the nation to study the setup.

Under the positive health program parents bring their child once each month for the first six months, once every two months the second six months, every four months the second year and once yearly until the child is six. The conference is held the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

Widow Gets Bulk Of Kushner Estate

A will of Max Kushner, Lincoln grocer who died July 15, has been filed for probate in Lancaster County Court.

Bulk of the estate was left to his widow, Mrs. Dorothy Kushner, under the will.

Specific bequests of $1,000 was made to each of five children, Dwayne L., Sheldon, Boris M., Gerald H., and Shirley Schaffer, all of Lincoln, and Sheldon Kushner of Harlan, Ia.

Left in discretionary trust was $3,000 each for two sisters, Rebecca Krostechevsky and Rachel Rozovsky, living in Russia.

Also left in discretionary trust for the benefit of the testator's grandchildren was $5,000.

Other bequests included $1,000 to Congregation Tifereth Israel; $200 to Chevrah Kadisha, and $200 to Mt. Carmel Cemetery Association.

Real estate and all other personal property was left to the widow, who was named executrix and trustee under the will.

High school seniors, who face 10 important years including—for the boys—at least two years of military service, will be given help by their schools in planning their futures.

A program, which uses as material three booklets, has been approved by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the accrediting agency for more than 300 colleges and universities and 3,500 secondary schools in an area bounded by Arizona on the west and West Virginia on the east.

Eleven pilot high schools gave the program a successful tryout last year. Included in the group were Teachers College, Northeast, and College View in Lincoln, West Side in Omaha, and the Minden High School.

Another section designed for girls discusses homemaking and how the fact that young men must face military service can be met from the feminine viewpoint. A section also describes military service for women.

The second booklet includes current information on the various branches of the Armed Forces and the third is a teachers' manual.

The program has the approval of the U.S. Department of Defense.

Those who produced the booklets include Dr. and Mrs. Knute Broady and Dr. Gale Childs, of the University of Nebraska; Dr. Charles W. Gore Plans New Attempt To Unseat Sen. McCarthy

Far More Elaborate 'Joe Must Go' Drive In Making; It Will Be A Nationwide Try

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new move to unseat Sen. McCarthy; (R-Wis) will be launched after the November elections, Leroy Gore, chairman of the "Joe Must Go" clubs, announced Thursday.

Leroy Gore

As outlined, this will be a far more elaborate drive than the one that failed last spring. Not only will the "Joe Must Go" people be after signatures from Wisconsin voters, but they also will launch a nationwide campaign to persuade citizens to write their senators. The aim is to make sure that, in case Wisconsin votes to unseat McCarthy, the Senate will go along with the decision.

Gore predicted he would encounter no difficulty in: (1) getting enough signatures to set up a recall election, and (2) defeating McCarthy in that election.

Gore Confident

"The people of Wisconsin have changed their mind about McCarthy," Gore said, "and he ought to have to go to bat again."

Gore, 50-year-old editor of the Sauk, Wis., Prairie-Star, was in town Thursday to line up backing for his renewed recall campaign and also to do what he could in behalf of the move by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) to censure McCarthy.

Gore said he would be talking with a score of political leaders of both parties, but he declined to identify any of them except Sen. Wiley (R-Wis). He added that Wiley was a personal friend of his and that he would not try to pressure Wiley into taking a stand on the recall move.

The Wisconsin constitution, Gore explained, provides that 25 per cent of those casting ballots in the last previous gubernatorial election must sign recall petitions before a special election can be held.

He said it was necessary to get 405,000 signatures after the 1952 elections but that he doesn't believe he will need to get more than 250,000 after the 54 vote. Gore showed up in town with a vast sheaf of papers and said it contained about 250,000 of the 355,000 legal signatures he asserts he collected.

In the nationwide drive, in which Gore hopes to get two to five million persons on record on his side, the "Joe Must Go" people will be trying to line up support for a move within the Senate to unseat McCarthy.

Flop Predicted

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Any renewed effort to unseat Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) "probably will flop like the last one," Robert L. Pierce, Wisconsin Republican chairman, declared Thursday.

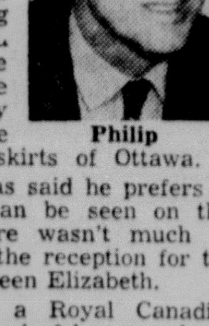
Pierce commented on an announcement in Washington by Leroy Gore, Wisconsin editor who heads the "Joe Must Go" club, that another recall drive against McCarthy would be staged after the November elections.

Pierce said Gore "has basked in the sunlight of publicity so long he probably likes it."

Harold Michael of Amery, president of the Joe Must Go club founded by Gore, said he approves of any new effort to unseat McCarthy.

Duke Is Paying Canada A Visit

OTTAWA (AP) — The visiting Duke of Edinburgh got right into the swim in Canada Thursday.



Philip

He doffed the natty uniform of a marshal in the Royal Air Force in which he arrived this hot and humid day for a three-week sightseeing tour, popped into bathing trunks and then into the pool at the Swan Country Club on the northwest outskirts of Ottawa.

The duke has said he prefers to see rather than be seen on this trip, but there wasn't much informal about the reception for the husband of Queen Elizabeth.

There was a Royal Canadian Air Force guard of honor, a brass band, 21-gun royal salute and dignitaries in top hats and cutaways.

"We are delighted to welcome you back to Canada," said Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, shaking hands warmly with the duke on the latter's arrival.

"Thank you very much; it's a pleasure to be here," said the duke, flashing his grin.

Tariff Hike Halts Elgin Wage Dispute

ELGIN, Ill. (AP)—Four thousand employes of the Elgin National Watch Co., here and in Lincoln, Neb., decided Thursday to forego wage demands because of President Eisenhower's order boosting by 50 per cent the tariff on imported watch movements.

Walter W. Cenerazzo, national president of the American Watch Makers Union (Ind.) announced the action.

The union had been negotiating with Elgin for a month on a new contract. It had asked for higher, though not publicly specified, wages, increased hospitalization and surgical costs, and settlement of seniority and transfer issues.

All points previously had been settled except that of the wage boost.

Cenerazzo said in a statement:

"The new contract will be printed and voted upon by the members at Elgin and Lincoln on Aug. 5. We believe it will be ratified."

Cenerazzo said the union also had cancelled a wage boost demand for its workers in the Waltham, Mass., plant of the Waltham Watch Co. because of the president's action.

Water Line Condemnation Suit Is Filed

A suit for the condemnation of some 1,000 feet of right-of-way for the city's water transmission line through Ashland has been filed in Saunders County Court by the Lincoln's city legal department.

A total of seven tracts are involved and as many owners, according to Deputy City Attorney Jack M. Pace. Owners, Pace said, have refused to consider offers made for the property.

Pace reported that there is now a possibility of settlement of another pending condemnation for property in the expanding Ashland well field site. A "friendly" condemnation will be instituted soon to acquire a ⅓ mile right-of-way for the transmission line through property owned by Mayor Clark Jeary west of Waverly.

Condemnation is made necessary by the charter provision declaring it illegal for an official of the city to contract with the municipality.

Pathologists Claim Pneumonia Cause Of Thorne Death

CHICAGO (INS)—Pneumonia was officially declared Thursday the cause of Montgomery Ward Thorne's death but bizarre circumstances point to a battle over his $2,600,000 estate.

The unanimous finding by a four-man panel of pathologists supercedes a previous report that the 20-year-old Fordham University student died of alcoholism or drugs, and possibly had been slain.

Dr. Jerry Kearns, chief pathologist for the Cook County coroner's office, announced the report and said needle punctures in the youth's arms "were made for the purpose of taking blood transfusions." Young Thorne had been a blood donor frequently.

Further Probe

A coroner's jury which was handed the report for a final verdict ruled that Thorne died of natural causes but recommended further investigation by "proper authorities."

The action of Coroner Walter McCarron in handing the report to the jury was made over protests of an attorney for the chief beneficiaries in a new will the heir to a mail order fortune made 10 days before his death June 19.

Young Thorne's will had cut his socialite mother, Mrs. Marion Thorne, from a major share of the estate to only one-eighth. It left one-half of the fortune to 18-year-old, blonde Maureen Ragen who said she and Monty had planned to marry in December, and one-quarter to her mother, Mrs. Aleen Ragen.

Parents, Children Benefit By Conference

Peru Well Child Conference Gains Support

Lincoln Star Special

PERU, Neb. — When kindergarteners enroll at the Campus School at Peru State College this fall, 95 per cent of them wil have already received their immunization shots. At least that has been the case every year since the establishment of the Nemaha County Well Child Conference on the Peru State campus.

Founded April 6, 1948, as a county health project in co-operation with the State Department of Health and Peru State College, it is now operated jointly by the department and the college. It has the backing and co-operation of civic groups and many individuals who give time and money for its support.

The conference was one of the first in the nation to be used as a training center for student teachers. The fact that Peru State students assist with its operation has brought observers from health and educational institutions throughout the nation to study the setup.

Under the positive health program parents bring their child once each month for the first six months, once every two months the second six months, every four months the second year and once yearly until the child is six. The conference is held the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

'Perfect' Thrill Slaying Boast Leads To Arrest Of 19-Year-Old

BROOKLINE, Mass. (INS)—A boast to girl friends of committing the "perfect crime" led to the downfall Thursday of a 19-year-old schoolboy athlete, accused of the "thrill" slaying of a 52-year-old four-times divorced dresssmaker.

Police charged Ronald S. "Ronnie" Blumenthal, son of Barney Blumenthal, a prosperous Boston liquor dealer, with the frenzied slaying Tuesday afternoon of red-haired Mrs. Ora Dwelley Schonarth in her apartment.

"I had an obsession—I went berserk, I guess," police quoted the handsome youth as saying.

Officers said the arrest in the apparently-motiveless murder resulted from a tip by a girl friend of the suspect after she read of the murder in the newspapers and recalled that he had boasted of committing a murder Tuesday in which a rolling pin and breadknife were the death weapons.

Mrs. Schonarth had been beaten with a rolling pin and stabbed with a breadknife, left protruding from her heart.

Gruesome Task

Except for his boasting to two girls, the crime might have proven perfect. The slayer worked so quietly at his gruesome task that even the occupant of the other apartment in the four-family duplex house heard no unusual sounds, and the body went undiscovered for almost 20 hours.

The strapping blond-haired youth with crew haircut told two former Brookline high girl friends how he had killed a woman, naming the weapons, which he said were without fingerprints. He told them it was a re-enactment of a story he had read in a magazine. He pledged them to secrecy, they said.

The girls thought it was a joke, but later one of them read newspaper accounts of the divorcee's slaying and called her parents home from a country club. Her father queried the Boston American and the tip was relayed to Norfolk County District Attorney Myron Lane.

Blumenthal, a student at Huntington Preparatory School, was picked up at his parents' palatial home and was questioned in the presence of his distraught parents before he was taken to Brookline police headquarters, where he allegedly "confessed."

Man Charged In Slaying Of City Official

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — A photo shop owner was charged Thursday with murdering a city councilman who lived next door. Less than an hour after the slaying the attractive wife of the accused slayer was killed when her car plunged into a canal, but the county attorney said following an autopsy Thursday that there apparently was no connection between the two deaths.

The accused man is William Demand, 35. He is charged with firing a .32 caliber bullet which pierced the heart of Councilman V. D. Frederick Tuesday night while Frederick was watching television.

Just before filing a murder complaint against Demand, County Atty. William Mahoney told newsmen there apparently was no connection between the Frederick slaying and the death of Mrs. Faye Demand, 29. Her body was recovered from the Arizona Canal 40 minutes after her car plunged in.

Demand was arrested shortly after his wife's car went into the canal. He drove up to the scene, following police sirens, to take pictures, he said.

Liquor Hearing

The State Liquor Commission Thursday ordered a hearing Aug. 17 for Loyd Holman, Plattsmouth, Neb., on a charge that he sold intoxicating liquor to a minor July 3. Holman holds a retail on and off sale beer license.

LAFB Share Of Building Bill Is $4,664,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The military construction authorization bill recently signed by President Eisenhower included $4,664,000 worth of work at the Lincoln, Neb. Air Force Base.

The authorization breaks down in this fashion:

Air field pavement, $2,193,000;

Personnel facilities, including barracks and officers club $1,224,000:

Communications and navigational aids, $23,000;

Operational facilities, $160,000;

Aircraft maintenance facilities, $271,000;

Training facilities, $137,000;

Utilities, $21,000;

Real estate facilities, $73,000;
Medical facilities, $109,000;
Storage facilities, $243,000;
Administrative facilities, $178,000;

Shop facilities, $32,000.

The Air Force asked for an appropriation of $4,405,000 to carry out its program. It had sufficient money left over from previous apropriations to spend $141,000 on a PX sales store and $118,000 on a theatre, items included in the $4,664,000 authorization bill.

The House Appropriations Committee reduced the requested $4,405,000 appropriation to $4,353,000. This was done by trimming $52,000 off the requested appropriation for a gymnasium. The gym was authorized but less money was appropriated than was asked for it.

The house passed the military construction supplemental appropriations bill. It is now before the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Dorris Pleads Not Guilty To Perjury Count

Joseph W. Dorris, 27, cab driver of 1423 P, has pleaded not guilty in Lancaster County Court to a perjury charge—the first filed in this county in about six years.

Dorris was arraigned Thursday by Chief Dep. Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele on the complaint which alleged the defendant as a sworn witness in Municipal Court proceedings on July 15, gave perjured testimony.

It is alleged that Dorris testified that his taxicab was at a complete stop and was backed into by another vehicle in a June 27 accident, while knowing that the true facts were that his taxi was moving and ran into the rear of a parked vehicle.

The alleged testimony involved a negligent driving charge against Dorris, of which he was found guilty and fined $10.

Judge Herbert A. Ronin set preliminary hearing in the perjury case for Aug. 14 and fixed appearance bond at $2,000.

Conviction of perjury, a felony, carries a penalty of $100 to $1,000 or one to 14 years imprisonment.

Nebraska Heritage

In the first month that Nebraska's Centennial Car has been visiting various communities in this state, more than 20,000 people have turned out to view its exhibits. This is a rather surprising response in the light of a month of disagreeable, punishing heat, and at the same time a most gratifying one.

History is an asset to the people of a state. Knowledge of their early beginnings, of developments that contributed to strength, and other happenings that contributed to weakness are of concern to the present generation. We ought to try to avoid the mistakes and to enlarge upon that which has contributed to growth and progress.

The Centennial Car will continue to visit sections of Nebraska through the month of August, concluding its tour with the Nebraska State Fair here in Lincoln in the early days of September. Before its return here, more than 100,000 Nebraskans, or an approximate one out of every 12, will have visited the car.

Hugh Butler's Last Words

Just a week before he died suddenly and unexpectedly in Washington, it has been disclosed, the late Sen. Hugh Butler of Nebraska put down in letter form what well could be the most significant utterance of his entire political career.

He cautioned his fellow Nebraskans to go slow, to have a second look and to give sober thought before they through their elected officials approved a proposed Missouri Basin compact for the distribution of the waters of the Missouri River and its tributaries among the 10 basin states. We find it impossible to follow the late Sen. Butler in the logic he employed to reach a conclusion in his own thinking about the proposed Missouri Basin compact, but it is everlastingly to his credit that he came up with the right answer. Sen. Butler felt that the proposed basin compact would place final authority in the federal government, stripping the basin states in an individual capacity of any voice in the development of each state's individual interests. That is precisely what advocates of a compact seek to avert. They say—and among its many advocates are most earnest, honest men—that if through agreement among themselves they can divide the Missouri's waters, then the awesome hulking figure of Uncle Sam will disappear.

The case against the compact rests upon other grounds than that mentioned in Sen. Butler's letter just before his death. Any agreement entered into under it relating to water rights, one of the most precious resources and assets in this Great Plains region, is rigid and uncompromising. It cannot be modified nor changed in the light of new developments and conditions 25 years hence. It is binding forever unless there is unanimous consent to modification. Nebraska could find its irrigation needs or its requirements for industrial and domestic purposes doubled or trebled 25 years hence, but the compact agreed upon by this state a quarter of a century earlier still would be binding and in force. It is true, as Sen. Butler indicated, that any Missouri Basin compact necessarily would have to make Uncle Sam and the various federal agencies dealing with this vital subject parties to the compact. But in altering its terms Nebraska or any other basin state would have to look either to Congress or to the courts for relief. The point is that once a compact is signed, there is no easy escape from its terms.

The oldest compact relating to water requirements in a region where water shortages are traditional and water itself so precious is on the lower Colorado. There California and Arizona have been at each other's throats for years in a dispute over the right to waters of the Colorado River to expand irrigation requirements. The fight has been in Congress and in the courts. Now an upper Colorado River compact is under negotiation, with the fight undiminished and six states in turmoil.

We are unacquainted with the circumstances which inspired the late Hugh Butler to outline his views in letter form. We knew firsthand of his interest in the matter, the study which he was giving it in carrying out what he thought was to Nebraska's best interest. Shortly Nebraska will be voting to select candidates for Congress, including both House and Senate, candidates for the state Legislature, and candidates for governor. Those seeking these offices should be as candid as Sen. Butler was in making known their views on the proposed basin compact.

Any compact will have much bearing upon the future of Nebraska.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

In what are Nebraskans interested as another primary campaign nears the final stages? There are varying reports of interest and lack of interest on the part of the voters as the aspirants for Senate and House seats in Congress, and for state office pump hard to get crowds out to listen to them. The conclusion is that another relatively light vote will be cast.

The Boot For Brother Benson

If Sen. Terry Carpenter had his way about it, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson would get some shoe leather where it would do the most good. "Terrible Terry" has told the voters that he favors giving Secretary Benson the boot. It may be a good idea—we are inclined to think it is—but it will take a whale of a lot of doing. Secretary Benson is answerable only to President Eisenhower and not to Congress. We can recall of no single instance recently where congressional hostility has been sufficient to compel a President to scalp a member of his official family. Out at Hastings at a well-attended rally addressed by most of the congressional candidates, there was a split on this issue of flexible vs. rigid price supports at 90 per cent of parity. Both Gov. Crosby and former GOP State Chairman Dave Martin of Kearney came out for flexible props. Rep. Carl Curtis, now seeking a Senate seat, said he voted for flexible supports at 82½ to 90 per cent of parity but he did not feel that flexible supports alone are the answer to the surplus problem. Unfortunately the news columns did not disclose what Mr. Curtis believes is the answer. Here in the First District, three Republicans—Ira Beynon, Phil Weaver, and Murray Rickard, Guide Rock farmer—all came out for rigid supports on the basis of 90 per cent of parity.

★

Mr. Beynon said a mouthful when he ridiculed the idea of crushing food surpluses in a hungry world. There are masses undernourished and hungry in many parts of the world—masses easily able to consume all and more than the present food surpluses Secretary Benson discusses at every opportunity. Trouble is, these people lack the dough to satisfy their hunger. They are both customers and not customers. All they lack is the ability to pay for what they would like to eat. And in present current Washington trends in the demands for higher tariffs, there is little likelihood that their position will be improved.

Carpenter Against The Field

In the Republican primary for one of the Senate seats, it appears that it is "Terrible Terry" against the field. Anyone who can figure that out in advance will qualify for the role of major prophet. Carl Curtis says he is being showered with expressions of gratitude from Nebraskans for his part in reducing their taxes on the federal level. Apparently there is some confusion about this. The news columns give credit to President Eisenhower for the revised tax bill. Mr. Curtis has been strangely silent in the matter of Nebraska reaction to his proposal for a revision of the social security program. He may have come to the conclusion that the less said, the better.

Could be a tribute to Nebraska fortitude that its voters are expected to get het up in 100-degree temperatures. It would be a grudging commentary to overlook the fact that they can take it. They have to, both from the weather and from the candidates.

On Miss Molotov

Moscow's master minds are no longer permitting Mr. Molotov's shapely, and some say, lively daughter to visit foreign countries. They say she is a deviationist and might defect to the capitalistic side. After looking at her picture we say this is strictly jealousy. She certainly can throw better curves at the world than any pitcher the Kremlin has helded up to date.

Hearings Bear Fruit

Americans will wait a long time for any authoritative and forthright verdict on the Army-McCarthy hearings. It was one of those odd affairs in which everyone sounds off. Then the jury retires and never comes back.

But the Christian Science Monitor believes the Army came out on top. As evidence it cites the recent purge of members on McCarthy's staff plus the mounting sentiment in the Senate for a revised code of fair procedures to govern investigating subcommittees in the future.

Both, contends the Monitor, are tacit admissions that the McCarthy assistants could not vindicate themselves and that methods of investigation would not stand the test of close scrutiny.

If more acceptable investigators succeed those who have gone from the scene and their methods are more sensitive to America's sense of fair play then the hearings will have to be regarded as successful and fruitful. Whether one likes or dislikes McCarthy, all agree that a sub-committee to keep a watchful eye on the Reds is something the country should not do without these days.

Fulbright's Idea

Senator Fulbright of Arkansas has it figured out. He suggests that if the Democrats get control of Congress this fall President Eisenhower should resign.

We will say for the Arkansas senator. He plays them even. If one cudgels his memory hard enough it will be recalled that Fulbright thought Mr. Truman should resign when the Congress went Republican in 1946, and said so.

No doubt more than one American president has felt like resigning after taking a long look at a Congress dominated by the wrong party. But the constitution makes no provision for such an act and the President is considered to have a contract with the people to work for them for four years no matter what stumbling blocks they put in his way. Besides he would not be ending government by political division. He just would be putting his vice president in a hard spot.

Last Censure Of A Senator Was In 1929

WASHINGTON—Just two members of the current Senate were members of the 1929 Senate that took the last vote of censure against one of their own members. They are George of Georgia and Hayden of Arizona, both Democrats.

The man they both voted as bringing "dishonor and disrepute on the Senate" exactly 25 years ago was Hiram Bingham of Connecticut who had placed Charles L. Eyanson, of the Connecticut Manufacturers Association on his Senate office staff and let him sit in a meeting of the Senate Finance Committee.

The standards of the Senate seemed considerably higher in those days than during the current debate over McCarthy of Wisconsin. One year before, the Senate had voted to expel two of its own members, Vare, of Pennsylvania, and Smith, of Illinois, for spending too much money in their election campaigns.

Senators at that time felt keenly about the prestige and dignity of the body to which they belonged.

"The view I take of the question," Sen. George told the Senate, "is simply this: that the official act of each one of us has a public quality, and that act is either in the interest of the public good or it is contrary to the interest of the public. It either promotes confidence in the processes of government or it tends to weaken public confidence in the processes of government."

Sen. Bingham argued eloquently in his own defense.

"No senator is to be criticized," he said, "if he chooses to place members of his family in these clerical positions—if he appoints cousins, nieces, sons or daughters."

Senator Smoot of Utah, a Republican stalwart, introduced a resolution calculated to spare Bingham somewhat. It omitted his name. But George and Hayden, among others, were opposed.

"My interpretation of the resolution is this," said George, referring to the Smoot amendment, "and with this understanding I shall vote against the substitute, because I regard that as meaningless, something like the poetry at the head of Kipling's chapters, it has not anything to do with the real issue that has been raised here.

"We are concerning ourselves with the public morals, with the public interest, the quality of official conduct and act, the manner in which that conduct or that act affects the public welfare."

The vote, 54 to 22, decided that Sen. Bingham's action was "contrary to good morals and senatorial ethics and tends to bring the Senate into dishonor and disrepute, and such conduct is hereby condemned."

Note—Twenty years later, a Democrat, President Harry Truman, performed a great act of rehabilitation by appointing Bingham, a Republican, as chairman of the top loyalty board. Bingham had learned his lesson. He acquitted himself well.

"Flexible Flanders"

Vermont's rugged Sen. Ralph Flanders, once head of the Federal Reserve bank of Boston, who owns a thriving tool factory and has developed 29 industrial patents, good-naturedly complained that Sen. Lyndon Johnson has been pestering him.

Johnson has advised Flanders not to be too rigid, to permit some give-and-take regarding his resolution of censure against Sen. McCarthy.

The persuasive senator from Texas was so persistent with the stubborn senator from Vermont that Flanders remarked to a friend: "It looks like Lying-Down Lyndon wants me to be Flexible Flanders."

☆ ☆ ☆

Knowland Reverses

Sen. Knowland's buttonholing of GOP senators to stifle the Flanders resolution has got him on something of a hot spot. For too many senators remember how, no later then Feb. 24, Knowland announced that the Senate should abandon its present system under which senior members of committees become chairmen.

"They should be chosen, instead," Knowland said, "in accord with the policies of the majority party."

No man has backed the majority party more than the senator from Wisconsin. He has pilloried its secretary of the Army, criticized its secretary of state, set himself above the President.

Nevertheless, Knowland has now completely reversed his position of Feb. 24 and does not even want the Senate to vote on a censure resolution by a fellow Republican.

McCarthy-Go-Round

Paul Hoffman, the Republican who rebuilt Europe as head of the Marshall Plan, has been patiently trudging round the Senate Office building telling Republican senators they must vote against McCarthy and for the Flanders resolution . . . Sen. Potter of Michigan, who had the courage to vote against McCarthy on the firing of Roy Cohn and Don Surine, says privately he won't vote to censure McCarthy unless his GOP colleague, Homer Ferguson of Michigan, also votes that way. Reason: Homer is up for re-election and Potter doesn't want to embarrass him . . . Sen. Wiley of Wisconsin, McCarthy's colleague, plans to invoke rule 12 during the Flanders debate and won't vote one way or the other regarding his colleague from Wisconsin. Rule 12 permits a senator from the same state to avoid taking a stand on a colleague. Wiley will abstain despite the fact he knows McCarthy is working against him behind his back . . . It was interesting that the Communist Daily Worker took the trouble to report one of Sen. McClellan's primary campaign speeches down in Stuttgart, Ark. It quoted him as saying that "the McCarthy matter is not of such importance that it should be permitted to block legislation on important matters." (The Daily Worker frequently distorts.) . . . Flanders conferred with McClellan twice before he postponed his earlier resolution of censure. McClellan told his Arkansas colleague, Sen. Fulbright: "Bill, you know I can't go against the Flanders resolution."

John Defection To Reds Stirs Germany

BONN, Germany—If you can imagine J. Edgar Hoover having fled to Moscow and speaking over the Soviet radio, you can get some idea of the shock to West German public opinion in the recent flight of Otto John behind the Iron Curtain to East Berlin and his broadcast throwing in his lot with Communism. Nothing since the end of the war and Hitler's gotterdamerung on a funeral pyre in his chancellory in Berlin has caused such a sensation.

While John was head of the West German equivalent of the FBI, the analogy with Hoover is far-fetched. He had no great popular reputation. In fact, now that the case has broken in big black headlines, the revelations of his strangely checkered career make evident the reasons why many high officials, including Chancellor Adenauer, doubted him.

Considered both as a pawn in the tortuous game of power politics and as a human being caught in the fearful undercurrents of a time of turmoil, the John story could hardly be more dramatic. This, the first of two articles, will deal with John as a puppet—an important puppet but nevertheless a figure manipulated by forces beyond his control—in the power struggle that has wracked Germany for more than twenty years.

When he was made head of the office for the protection of the constitution in the ministry of interior four years ago, John was far from having unanimous support for the top security job. He was considered by many Germans to owe his primary allegiance to the British as a result of his escape after the July 20 plot against Hitler and his eventual flight to London. In London he worked as an evaluator for intelligence and propaganda authorities.

As interpreted by some German officials in the aftermath of his defection, John was doing the bidding of British intelligence insofar as high policy was concerned. They say that he helped to furnish the material for a series of articles in the London Daily Express on how Nazism was rising again in Germany. There has been much criticism in Britain of America's haste to reconstruct Germany and, in that haste, encouraging the resurgence of former Nazis.

Top American intelligence officials, putting together the pieces of this strange puzzle, believe that British-American rivalry for German influence and control had little to do with the case. After all, it was only in May that John was invited to America with all his expenses paid out of American intelligence funds. After visiting the principal cities, he spent ten days in Washington. In the capital he met with J. Edgar Hoover, Allen Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, and top military intelligence officers in the Pentagon.

But these are said to have been largely ceremonial visits. American officials describe John as a "front office man" who was never tied into the security network. They say that he got no American secrets and that the net gain to Communism on the security side will be small.

The German papers have carried sensational reports to the contrary, saying that dozens if not hundreds of agents in East Germany have already been seized. One of the principal members of the Adenauer government told this reporter that a minimum of 6 and probably 12 West German informants on the highest level in East Germany would lose their lives as a result of John's defection.

But the political and moral consequences inside West Germany may well refuse to compromise with the Nazi past. For their opposition it is easy to say, "You see, these people cannot be trusted—you can only trust the nationalists, those of us who have always believed in a strong Germany."

In the long pull this may be the real and lasting damage because it is a blow to belief; it is a blow to the faith of the west in itself. Therefore, just as in the case of Alger Hiss, the shadow of doubt extends far beyond the faithfulness of a single individual.

But Otto John's betrayal was first a betrayal of self and in his personal tragedy was the seed of the larger treason.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

No Hens, No Eggs—No Eggs, No Hens

By MONA B. PARKER

There have been repeated warnings to the young people of Sargent about swimming below the Middle Loup dam, in spite of which hardly a week passes that someone doesn't require assistance in reaching the river bank after venturing into the forbidden depths.

The Sargent Leader drove it home a little more forcibly in a front-page notice "To the Young'ns":

"Filling these columns with news is not a snap, at best. You can make it a more pleasant job by allowing us to say what a nice person you are—rather than what a nice person you were."

For those of Wilber inclined to complain about the weather, Stu Bohacek offers something to think about. On Mars, he says, science has shown that that noon-time temperatures are about 85 degrees Fahrenheit . . .

The pleasant summertime pastime of swimming is not allowed to interfere with a busy farm schedule in the Fairview neighborhood near Archer. The two are successfully combined, in fact.

"Swimming any time after six o'clock," read an advance item about one Sunday outing, "and food around eight. Come when you have made a good setting on long rows and swim and eat at your own pleasure, and leave when you need to make another setting."

The "Farmer's Wife" of Nebraska Signal columns received a travel booklet on France through the mail, and from her armchair where all the leisure time she has this summer will be spent, launched into a discussion of vacations and vacations . . .

"The Best Things in France Are Free," declared the gaudy brochure. Pictured were a gala evening at the Paris opera—which she doubted was free. Superb French cooking which included lobster on the half shell and pheasant under glass—the French Riviera, with conoes and ocean front—a trip to an exclusive dress designer's shop—and the only thing free was the little booklet which displayed them all.

With the typical philosophy of rural Nebraska, however, she caculated as how she might keep a wary eye on one of the young pheasants which have taken up abode near the farmhouse, and during season "it would be a simple matter to put him under glass."

From the Imperial Republican: "Frogs singing make pretty good music, too, considering what it takes to make them go into their vocal exercises. Rain's a fine thing."

The Blue Valley Blade is carrying an ad in its current issue asking for rain. And in its rain ads, it guarantees results or the ad is free, so it is hoping it costs Customer Ehlers "plenty of hard cash." The Blade has confidence in its own advertising, so much so, in fact, that "we have installed a new rain gauge so we can measure it."

A quarter-acre plot in Tecumseh has what its grower calls "citified corn." City "Farmer" John Hitzeman feels that maybe the hustle-and-bustle rush of city life has inflicted its fast pace upon a late variety of field corn which started tasseling just 41 days after it was planted. And one of Mr. Hitzeman's potato plants is pushing production somewhat, too, with 20 usable potatoes underground, and three more on the vine above the ground.

This being the rice-and-old-shoes season, Stanton Editor Jim Cornwell passes this on to the fathers of brides. Don't feel too badly, he consoles them. "Although you may be losing a daughter, you're probably gaining a bathroom!"

This is an excellent time for angel food cake making, says Helen Marr in the Walthill Citizen, what with the price of eggs getting lower and lower. Then there are plain hard-boiled eggs, deviled or scalloped for variety, and her family never seems to tire of the old standby, bacon and eggs, for breakfast . . .

By twilight, however, the temperatures drop to around 10 degrees, and by midnight go far below the zero mark. Leading Mr. Bohacek to the conclusion that it must have been a Martian who was the first victim of chills and fever . . .

A Fillmore County farm wife was overheard to say that she figured up and her chickens were losing her 75 cents a week, so "I just took them to town and sold them." Causing a columnist there to caution:

"Let's not overdo this chicken selling. There are still a lot of us who like fried chicken and it's not our fault nor the fault of the chickens that eggs are so cheap . . . Destroy the hens and there won't be any eggs. If there are no eggs, there won't be any chickens. If there are no chickens, there won't be any hens. If there aren't any hens . . ."

A Utility Board

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The city of Lincoln should have a utility board elected by the people of Lincoln, which would take full responsibility for the operation of Lincoln's municipal utilities, both water and light departments. This is a multi-million-dollar business (estimated valuation, $20, 00,000). Most cities of Lincoln's population and larger have utility boards.

The City Council and mayor admit they cannot do justice to the administration of these departments. I understand there is a water board and light department board acting without responsibility. Both these boards have good men appointed by the mayor. They simply listen to the projects put before them but they have no responsibility to the citizens of Lincoln. Why not give them proper authority?

The water and light department should have its own engineering department and thereby keep up with the growth of the city and the keeping of good engineering records. The present city engineering department has too much of a variation of work such as paving, sewers, street, etc. They are unable to give each individual section the proper attention. The water department office is about as large as it was 45 years ago when we had about 4,000 consumers. Now there are about 27,000 consumers of water and about 10,900 light consumers. It is a big business! There should be adequate space in the utility office to file properly all records, accounts, etc.

I do not criticize the $6,000,000 work program, but we could have had immediate relief by putting in a booster pump halfway between Ashland and Lincoln and building more reservoirs. No reservoirs have been built in recent years except the one in the new project, and some of the old small reservoirs near A Street have bad leaks and are not very reliable. The five-million-gallon reservoir built on the north outer drive is not enough for a reserve. Omaha is about three times larger than Lincoln and built a 25-million-gallon reservoir last year. The solution for Lincoln is more reservoirs and not high water towers.

I do not know just what action must be taken to get an official utility board. Would it require a bill passed by the state Legislature or can Lincoln take action under the home rule charter? The city legal department can answer that question. I do not see how the Council can, without authority of an election, appoint a go-between or a sort of city manager. The Council is shirking its responsibility so it can pass the buck. I have heard people complain that they have taken their questions or grievances to the head of a department and are shunted to the City Council. The Council refers them back again. Why does not the Council let the people of Lincoln vote on the proposition of whether or not they want a utility board?

I have lived in Lincoln for over 70 years and am interested in the civic progress of the city. I have worked in the water department for 17 years and was a city commissioner within that time. I have no ax to grind, neither do I want to get into politics. I am too old for that. But I would like to see the younger generation get interested in the welfare of their home town. There is certainly something wrong when the City Council is not informed on all phases of the city's business. Why should there be a go-between or a city manager? There is an old saying, "An expert is a man away from home." We have a number of good men right here in Lincoln who can successfully administer the operation of the municipal water and light departments.

Nebraska Heritage

In the first month that Nebraska's Centennial Car has been visiting various communities in this state, more than 20,000 people have turned out to view its exhibits. This is a rather surprising response in the light of a month of disagreeable, punishing heat, and at the same time a most gratifying one.

History is an asset to the people of a state. Knowledge of their early beginnings, of developments that contributed to strength, and other happenings that contributed to weakness are of concern to the present generation. We ought to try to avoid the mistakes and to enlarge upon that which has contributed to growth and progress.

The Centennial Car will continue to visit sections of Nebraska through the month of August, concluding its tour with the Nebraska State Fair here in Lincoln in the early days of September. Before its return here, more than 100,000 Nebraskans, or an approximate one out of every 12, will have visited the car.

Hugh Butler's Last Words

Just a week before he died suddenly and unexpectedly in Washington, it has been disclosed, the late Sen. Hugh Butler of Nebraska put down in letter form what well could be the most significant utterance of his entire political career.

He cautioned his fellow Nebraskans to go slow, to have a second look, and to give sober thought before they through their elected officials approved a proposed Missouri Basin compact for the distribution of the waters of the Missouri River and its tributaries among the 10 basin states. We find it impossible to follow the late Sen. Butler in the logic he employed to reach a conclusion in his own thinking about the proposed Missouri Basin compact, but it is everlastingly to his credit that he came up with the right answer. Sen. Butler felt that the proposed basin compact would place final authority in the federal government, stripping the basin states in an individual capacity of any voice in the development of each state's individual interests. That is precisely what advocates of a compact seek to avert. They say—and among its many advocates are most earnest, honest men—that if through agreement among themselves they can divide the Missouri's waters, then the awesome hulking figure of Uncle Sam will disappear.

The case against the compact rests upon other grounds than that mentioned in Sen. Butler's letter just before his death. Any agreement entered into under it relating to water rights, one of the most precious resources and assets in this Great Plains region, is rigid and uncompromising. It cannot be modified nor changed in the light of new developments and conditions 25 years hence. It is binding forever unless there is unanimous consent to modification. Nebraska could find its irrigation needs or its requirements for industrial and domestic purposes doubled or trebled 25 years hence, but the compact agreed upon by this state a quarter of a century earlier still would be binding and in force. It is true, as Sen. Butler indicated, that any Missouri Basin compact necessarily would have to make Uncle Sam and the various federal agencies dealing with this vital subject parties to the compact. But in altering its terms, Nebraska or any other basin state would have to look either to Congress or to the courts for relief. The point is that once a compact is signed, there is no easy escape from its terms.

The oldest compact relating to water requirements in a region where water shortages are traditional and water itself so precious is on the lower Colorado. There California and Arizona have been at each other's throats for years in a dispute over the right to waters of the Colorado River to expand irrigation requirements. The fight has been in Congress and in the courts. Now an upper Colorado River compact is under negotiation, with the fight undiminished and six states in turmoil.

We are unacquainted with the circumstances which inspired the late Hugh Butler to outline his views in letter form. We knew firsthand of his interest in the matter, the study which he was giving it in carrying out what he thought was to Nebraska's best interest. Shortly Nebraska will be voting to select candidates for Congress, including both House and Senate, candidates for the state Legislature, and candidates for governor. Those seeking these offices should be as candid as Sen. Butler was in making known their views on the proposed basin compact.

Any compact will have much bearing upon the future of Nebraska.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

In what are Nebraskans interested as another primary campaign nears the final stages? There are varying reports of interest and lack of interest on the part of the voters as the aspirants for Senate and House seats in Congress, and for state office pump hard to get crowds out to listen to them. The conclusion is that another relatively light vote will be cast.

★

The Boot For Brother Benson

If Sen. Terry Carpenter had his way about it, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson would get some shoe leather where it would do the most good. "Terrible Terry" has told the voters that he favors giving Secretary Benson the boot. It may be a good idea—we are inclined to think it is—but it will take a whale of a lot of doing. Secretary Benson is answerable only to President Eisenhower and not to Congress. We can recall of no single instance recently where congressional hostility has been sufficient to compel a President to scalp a member of his official family. Out at Hastings at a well-attended rally addressed by most of the congressional candidates, there was a split on this issue of flexible vs. rigid price supports at 90 per cent of parity. Both Gov. Crosby and former GOP State Chairman Dave Martin of Kearney came out for flexible props. Rep. Carl Curtis, now seeking a Senate seat, said he voted for flexible supports at 82½ to 90 per cent of parity but he did not feel that flexible supports alone are the answer to the surplus problem. Unfortunately the news columns did not disclose what Mr. Curtis believes is the answer. Here in the First District, three Republicans—Ira Beynon, Phil Weaver, and Murray Rickard, Guide Rock farmer—all came out for rigid supports on the basis of 90 per cent of parity.

★

Mr. Beynon said a mouthful when he ridiculed the idea of crushing food surpluses in a hungry world. There are masses undernourished and hungry in many parts of the world—masses easily able to consume all and more than the present food surpluses Secretary Benson discusses at every opportunity. Trouble is, these people lack the dough to satisfy their hunger. They are both customers and not customers. All they lack is the ability to pay for what they would like to eat. And in present current Washington trends in the demands for higher tariffs, there is little likelihood that their position will be improved.

Carpenter Against The Field

In the Republican primary for one of the Senate seats, it appears that it is "Terrible Terry" against the field. Anyone who can figure that out in advance will qualify for the role of major prophet. Carl Curtis says he is being showered with expresisons of gratitude from Nebraskans for his part in reducing their taxes on the federal level. Apparently there is some confusion about this. The news columns give credit to President Eisenhower for the revised tax bill. Mr. Curtis has been strangely silent in the matter of Nebraska reaction to his proposal for a revision of the social security program. He may have come to the conclusion that the less said, the better.

Could be a tribute to Nebraska fortitude that its voters are expected to get het up in 100-degree temperatures. It would be a grudging commentary to overlook the fact that they can take it. They have to, both from the weather and from the candidates.

On Miss Molotov

Moscow's master minds are no longer permitting Mr. Molotov's shapely, and some say, lively daughter to visit foreign countries. They say she is a deviationist and might defect to the capitalistic side. Afer looking at her picture we say it is strictly jealously. She certainly can throw better curves at the world than any pitcher the Kremlin has fielded up to date.

Hearings Bear Fruit

Americans will wait a long time for any authoritative and forthright verdict on the Army-McCarthy hearings. It was one of those odd affairs in which everyone sounds off. Then the jury retires and never comes back.

But the Christian Science Monitor believes the Army came out on top. As evidence it cites the recent purge of members on McCarthy's staff plus the mounting sentiment in the Senate for a revised code of fair procedures to govern investigating subcommittees in the future.

Both, contends the Monitor, are tacit admissions that the McCarthy assistants could not vindicate themselves and that methods of investigation would not stand the test of close scrutiny.

If more acceptable investigators succeed those who have gone from the scene and their methods are more sensitive to America's sense of fair play then the hearings will have to be regarded as successful and fruitful. Whether one likes or dislikes McCarthy, all agree that a sub-committee to keep a watchful eye on the Reds is something the country should not do without these days.

Fulbright's Idea

Senator Fulbright of Arkansas has it figured out. He suggests that if the Democrats get control of Congress this fall President Eisenhower should resign.

We will say for the Arkansas senator. He plays them even. If one cudgels his memory hard enough it will be recalled that Fulbright thought Mr. Truman should resign when the Congress went Republican in 1946, and said so.

No doubt more than one American president has felt like resigning after taking a long look at a Congress dominated by the wrong party. But the constitution makes no provision for such an act and the President is considered to have a contract with the people to work for them for four years no matter what stumbling blocks they put in his way. Besides he would not be ending government by political division. He just would be putting his vice president in a hard spot.

Last Censure Of A Senator Was In 1929

WASHINGTON—Just two members of the current Senate were members of the 1929 Senate that took the last vote of censure against one of their own members. They are: George of Georgia and Hayden of Arizona, both Democrats.

The man they both voted as bringing "dishonor and disrepute on the Senate" exactly 25 years ago was Hiram Bingham of Connecticut who had placed Charles L. Eyanson, of the Connecticut Manufacturers Association on his Senate office staff and let him sit in a meeting of the Senate Finance Committee.

The standards of the Senate seemed considerably higher in those days than during the current debate over McCarthy of Wisconsin. One year before, the Senate had voted to expel two of its own members, Vare, of Pennsylvania, and Smith, of Illinois, for spending too much money in their election campaigns.

Senators at that time felt keenly about the prestige and dignity of the body to which they belonged.

"The view I take of the question," Sen. George told the Senate, "is simply this: that the official act of each one of us has a public quality, and that act is either in the interest of the public good or it is contrary to the interest of the public. it either promotes confidence in the processes of government or it tends to weaken public confidence in the processes of government."

Sen. Bingham argued eloquently in his own defense.

"No senator is to be criticized," he said, "if he chooses to place members of his family in these clerical positions—if he appoints cousins, nieces, sons or daughters."

Senator Smoot of Utah, a Republican stalwart, introduced a resolution calculated to spare Bingham somewhat. It omitted his name. But George and Hayden, among others, were opposed.

"My interpretation of the resolution is this," said George, referring to the Smoot amendment, "and with this understanding I shall vote against the substitute, because I regard that as meaningless, something like the poetry at the head of Kipling's chapters, it has not anything to do with the real issue that has been raised here.

"We are concerning ourselves with the public morals, with the public interest, the quality of official conduct and act, the manner in which that conduct or that act affects the public welfare."

The vote, 54 to 22, decided that Sen. Bingham's action was "contrary to good morals and senatorial ethics and tends to bring the Senate into dishonor and disrepute, and such conduct is hereby condemned."

Note—Twenty years later, a Democrat, President Harry Truman, performed a great act of rehabilitation by appointing Binham, a Republican, as chairman of the top loyalty board. Bingham had learned his lesson. He acquitted himself well.

"Flexible Flanders"

Vermont's rugged Sen. Ralph Flanders, once head of the Federal Reserve bank of Boston, who owns a thriving tool factory and has developed 29 industrial patents, goodnaturedly complained that Sen. Lyndon Johnson has been pestering him.

Johnson has advised Flanders not to be too rigid, to permit some give-and-take regarding his resolution of censure against Sen. McCarthy.

The persuasive senator from Texas was so persistent with the stubborn senator from Vermont that Flanders remarked to a friend: "It looks like Lying-Down Lyndon wants me to be Flexible Flanders."

☆ ☆ ☆

Knowland Reverses

Sen. Knowland's buttonholing of GOP senators to stifle the Flanders resolution has got him on something of a hot spot. For too many senators remember how, no later then Feb. 24, Knowland announced that the Senate should abandon its present system under which senior members of committees become chairmen.

"They should be chosen, instead," Knowland said, "in accord with the policies of the majority party."

No man has bucked the majority party more tham the senator from Wisconsin. He has pilloried its secretary of the Army, criticized its secretary of state, set himself above the President.

Nevertheless, Knowland has now completely reversed his position of Feb. 24 and does not even want the Senate to vote on a censure resolution by a fellow Republican.

McCarthy-Go-Round

Paul Hoffman, the Republican who rebuilt Europe as head of the Marshall Plan, has been patiently trudging round the Senate Office building telling Republican senators they must vote against McCarthy and for the Flanders resolution . . . Sen. Potter of Michigan, who had the courage to vote against McCarthy on the firing of Roy Cohn and Don Surine, says privately he won't vote to censure McCarthy unless his GOP colleague, Homer Ferguson of Michigan, also votes that way. Reason: Homer is up for re-election and Potter doesn't want to embarrass him . . . Sen. Wiley of Wisconsin, McCarthy's colleague, plans to invoke rule 12 during the Flanders debate and won't vote one way or the other regarding his colleague from Wisconsin. Rule 12 permits a senator from the same state to avoid taking a stand on a colleague. Wiley will abstain despite the fact he knows McCarthy is working against him behind his back . . . It was interesting that the Communist Daily Worker took the trouble to report one of Sen. McClellan's primary campaign speeches down in Stuttgart, Ark. It quoted him as saying that "the McCarthy matter is not of such importance that it should be permitted to block legislation on important matters." (The Daily Worker frequently distorts.) . . . Flanders conferred with McClellan twice before he postponed his earlier resolution of censure. McClellan told his Arkansas colleague, Sen. Fulbright: "Bill, you know I can't go against the Flanders resolution."

John Defection To Reds Stirs Germany

BONN, Germany—If you can imagine J. Edgar Hoover having fled to Moscow and speaking over the Soviet radio, you can get some idea of the shock to West German public opinion in the recent flight of Otto John behind the Iron Curtain to East Berlin and his broadcast throwing in his lot with Communism. Nothing since the end of the war and Hitler's gotterdamerung on a funeral pyre in his chancellory in Berlin has caused such a sensation.

While John was head of the West German equivalent of the FBI, the analogy with Hoover is far-fetched. He had no great popular reputation. In fact, now that the case has broken in big black headlines, the revelations of his strangely checkered career make evident the reasons why many high officials, including Chancellor Adenauer, doubted him.

Considered both as a pawn in the tortuous game of power politics and as a human being caught in the fearful undercurrents of a time of turmoil, the John story could hardly be more dramatic. This, the first of two articles, will deal with John as a puppet—an important puppet but nevertheless a figure manipulated by forces beyond his control—in the power struggle that has wracked Germany for more than twenty years.

When he was made head of the office for the protection of the constitution in the ministry of interior four years ago, John was far from having unanimous support for the top security job. He was considered by many Germans to owe his primary allegiance to the British as a result of his escape after the July 20 plot against Hitler and his eventual flight to London. In London he worked as an evaluator for intelligence and propaganda authorities.

As interpreted by some German officials in the aftermath of his defection, John was doing the bidding of British intelligence insofar as high policy was concerned. They say that he helped to furnish the material for a series of articles in the London Daily Express on how Nazism was rising again in Germany. There has been much criticism in Britain of America's haste to reconstruct Germany and, in that haste, encouraging the resurgence of former Nazis.

Top American intelligence officials, putting together the pieces of this strange puzzle, believe that British-American rivalry for German influence and control had little to do with the case. After all, it was only in May that John was invited to America with all his expenses paid out of American intelligence funds. After visiting the principal cities, he spent ten days in Washington. In the capital he met with J. Edgar Hoover, Allen Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, and top military intelligence officers in the Pentagon.

But these are said to have been largely ceremonial visits. American officials describe John as a "front office man" who was never tied into the security network. They say that he got no American secrets and that the net gain to Communism on the security side will be small.

The German papers have carried sensational reports to the contrary, saying that dozens if not hundreds of agents in East Germany have already been seized. One of the principal members of the Adenauer government told this reporter that a minimum of 6 and probably 12 West German informants on the highest level in East Germany would lose their lives as a result of John's defection.

But the political and moral consequences inside West Germany may well refuse to compromise with the Nazi past. For their opposition it is easy to say, "You see, these people cannot be trusted—you can only trust the nationalists, those of us who have always believed in a strong Germany."

In the long pull this may be the real and lasting damage because it is a blow to belief; it is a blow to the faith of the west in itself. Therefore, just as in the case of Alger Hiss, the shadow of doubt extends far beyond the faithfulness of a single individual.

But Otto John's betrayal was first a betrayal of self and in his personal tragedy was the seed of the larger treason.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

No Hens, No Eggs—No Eggs, No Hens

By MONA B. PARKER

There have been repeated warnings to the young people of Sargent about swimming below the Middle Loup dam, in spite of which hardly a week passes that someone doesn't require assistance in reaching the river bank after venturing into the forbidden depths.

The Sargent Leader drove it home a little more forcibly in a front-page notice "To the Young-'ns":

"Filling these columns with news is not a snap, at best. You can make it a more pleasant job by allowing us to say what a nice person you are—rather than what a nice person you were."

For those of Wilber inclined to complain about the weather, Stu Bohacek offers something to think about. On Mars, he says, science has shown that that noon-time temperatures are about 85 degrees Fahrenheit . . .

The pleasant summertime pastime of swimming is not allowed to interfere with a busy farm schedule in the Fairview neighborhood near Archer. The two are successfully combined, in fact.

"Swimming any time after six o'clock," read an advance item about one Sunday outing, "and food around eight. Come when you have made a good setting on long rows and swim and eat at your own pleasure, and leave when you need to make another setting."

The "Farmer's Wife" of Nebraska Signal columns received a travel booklet on France through the mail, and from her armchair where all the leisure time she has this summer will be spent, launched into a discussion of vacations and vacations . . .

"The Best Things in France Are Free," declared the gaudy brochure. Pictured were a gala evening at the Paris opera—which she doubted was free. Superb French cooking which included lobster on the half shell and pheasant under glass—the French Riviera, with conoes and ocean front—a trip to an exclusive dress designer's shop—and the only thing free was the little booklet which displayed them all.

With the typical philosophy of rural Nebraska, however, she caculated as how she might keep a wary eye on one of the young pheasants which have taken up abode near the farmhouse, and during season "it would be a simple matter to put him under glass."

☆ ☆ ☆

From the Imperial Republican: "Frogs singing make pretty good music, too, considering what it takes to make them go into their vocal exercises. Rain's a fine thing."

☆ ☆ ☆

The Blue Valley Blade is carrying an ad in its current issue asking for rain. And in its rain ads, it guarantees results or the ad is free, so it is hoping it costs Customer Ehlers "plenty of hard cash." The Blade has confidence in its own advertising, so much so, in fact, that "we have installed a new rain gauge so we can measure it."

☆ ☆ ☆

A quarter-acre plot in Tecumseh has what its grower calls "citified corn." City "Farmer" John Hitzeman feels that maybe the hustle-and-bustle rush of city life has inflicted its fast pace upon a late variety of field corn which started tasseling just 41 days after it was planted. And one of Mr. Hitzeman's potato plants is pushing production somewhat, too, with 20 usable potatoes underground, and three more on the vine above the ground.

This being the rice-and-old-shoes season, Stanton Editor Jim Cornwell passes this on to the fathers of brides. Don't feel too badly, he consoles them. "Although you may be losing a daughter, you're probably gaining a bathroom!"

This is an excellent time for angel food cake making, says Helen Marr in the Walthill Citizen, what with the price of eggs getting lower and lower. Then there are plain hard-boiled eggs, deviled or scalloped for variety, and her family never seems to tire of the old standby, bacon and eggs, for breakfast . . .

By twilight, however, the temperatures drop to around 10 degrees, and by midnight go far below the zero mark. Leading Mr. Bohacek to the conclusion that it must have been a Martian who was the first victim of chills and fever . . .

A Fillmore County farm wife was overheard to say that she figured up and her chickens were losing her 75 cents a week, so "I just took them to town and sold them." Causing a columnist there to caution:

"Let's not overdo this chicken selling. There are still a lot of us who like fried chicken and it's not our fault nor the fault of the chickens that eggs are so cheap . . . Destroy the hens and there won't be any eggs. If there are no eggs, there won't be any chickens. If there are no chickens, there won't be any hens. If there aren't any hens . . ."

A Utility Board

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The city of Lincoln should have a utility board elected by the people of Lincoln, which would take full responsibility for the operation of Lincoln's municipal utilities, both water and light departments. This is a multi-million-dollar business (estimated valuation, $20, 00,000). Most cities of Lincoln's population and larger have utility boards.

The City Council and mayor admit they cannot do justice to the administration of these departments. I understand there is a water board and light department board acting without responsibility. Both these boards have good men appointed by the mayor. They simply listen to the projects put before them but they have no responsibility to the citizens of Lincoln. Why not give them proper authority?

The water and light department should have its own engineering department and thereby keep up with the growth of the city and the keeping of good engineering records. The present city engineering department has too much of a variation of work such as paving,, sewers, street, etc. They are unable to give each individual section the proper attention. The water department office is about as large as it was 45 years ago when we had about 4,000 consumers. Now there are about 27,000 consumers of water and about 10,000 light consumers. It is a big business! There should be adequate space in the utility office to file properly all records, accounts, etc.

I do not criticize the $6,000,000 work program, but we could have had immediate relief by putting in a booster pump halfway between Ashland and Lincoln and building more reservoirs. No reservoirs have been built in recent years except the one in the new project, and some of the old small reservoirs near A Street have bad leaks and are not very reliable. The five-million-gallon reservoir built on the north outer drive is not enough for a reserve. Omaha is about three times larger than Lincoln and built a 25-million-gallon reservoir last year. The solution for Lincoln is more reservoirs and not high water towers.

I do not know just what action must be taken to get an official utility board. Would it require a bill passed by the state Legislature or can Lincoln take action under the home rule charter? The city legal department can answer that question. I do not see how the Council can, without authority of an election, appoint a go-between or a sort of city manager. The Council is shirking its responsibility so it can pass the buck. I have heard people complain that they have taken their questions or grievances to the head of a department and are shunted to the City Council. The Council refers them back again. Why does not the Council let the people of Lincoln vote on the propostion of whether or not they want a utility board?

I have lived in Lincoln for over 70 years and am interested in the civic progress of the city. I have worked in the water department for 17 years and was a city commissioner within that time. I have no ax to grind, neither do I want to get into politics. I am too old for that. But I would like to see the younger generation get interested in the welfare of their home town. There is certainly something wrong when the City Council is not informed on all phases of the city's business. Why should there be a go-between or a city manager? There is an old saying, "An expert is a man away from home." We have a number of good men right here in Lincoln who can successfully administer the operation of the municipal water and light departments.

Women Candidates Work Quietly Behind Scenes To Secure Votes

By MILDRED HOLLINGSWORTH
AP Staff Writer

While dozens of men are using speeches as their campaign weapons for the August primary, 10 Nebraska women are working quietly behind the scenes in the hope of winning votes.

They're ringing doorbells and talking to housewives, appearing at small gatherings, mailing out literature and calling upon friends to help in their quest for nomination.

Mrs. George Abel of Lincoln, candidate for the Republican nomination for the short term Senate, explained: "It's a little hard to know the pattern of campaigning because women are pioneers in the field.

Economic Problem

"The problem is how to do it economically; how to work out an economical campaign," she said. "There's no yardstick to measure an effective way of campaigning for women. We're cutting the path so to speak."

Mrs. Abel has made one trip out in the state and plans visits to Omaha, her home as a school girl. She is a long-time GOP committee worker who has never before sought public office.

Mrs. Arabelle Peart Hanna, 61-year-old Superior civic leader and club woman, who is a candidate for the nomination on the Republican ticket as lieutenant governor, is conducting a bit more vigorous campaign.

Campaign Card

Mrs. Hanna has attended Republican party rallies in major cities over the state, is doing what "advertising I can afford," and is handing out campaign cards.

Mrs. Ada Shafer of Lincoln, who seeks the Legislature in the 20th District, "hopes to see as many housewives as I can at the door. I'll take it (the door bell ringing) as far as I can." Mrs. Shafer is 74 and once served as a Douglas County Board of Commissioners member.

She also has mailed out a leaflet entitled "tax relief for the housewife and consumer."

Mrs. Frank Foote of Axtell, who also aspires to the Legislature, is busy shaking hands, giving brief talks, putting up posters and sending out primary cards. A farm wife, she majored in political science at Stanford University.

Seeing People

Mrs. Mabel Gillespie of Omaha, candidate for the Democratic short term Senate nomination, "is seeing as many people as I can." She twice was a Congressional candidate.

Although women may not be conceded in some quarters to have much chance against their male opponents, Mrs. A. E. Hanneman of Lincoln, who seeks a seat on the new State Board of Education, explained:

"Women's chances for election are increased with more filings."

Mrs. Foote puts it this way:

"Talking about it is one thing. Women haven't been doing too much about it."

Opportunities Missed

Mrs. Abel declared: "I am firmly convinced that women in the Nebraska Republican party have not taken sufficient opportunity they have to participate in government by seeking offices through election."

What purpose have they if elected?

Mrs. Bertha Smith of Lincoln, candidate for the 20th District legislative seat, wants something done about Nebraska's mentally ill so "they can become taxpayers not tax sitters." She's also for progressive education and better juvenile courts. She has had "political experience" as president of The State League of Women voters.

Her feminine opponent, Mrs. Shafer, is concerned over the taxation trend, calling it "quite a fearful thing." She said the propaganda for a sales tax and state income tax is becoming "intensive."

Mrs. Foote is concerned about schools, roads and taxes.

Miss Mabel Fossler of Lincoln, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, said "if elected I shall work for good, honest Americanism, the type that George Washington stood for." This is her initial try in Nebraska politics.

Mrs. Hanna, past president of the Nebraska Business and Professional Women's Clubs and the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs, believes her experience as legislative chairman for the National Association of Business and Professional Women's Clubs together with the fact she is a registered parliamentarian equips her for the lieutenant governorship.

She is "especially interested in a more efficient business routine for the Legislature" as it concerns both time and money. As the present chairman of the State School Recorganization Committee, she is for better education for better education for Nebraska's children.

Education Betterment

Mrs. Glenn Buck of Lincoln, candidate for nomination to the State Board of Education, is interested in the betterment of Nebraska's educational system. A former teacher, she has three children in school.

Another candidate for the School Board, Mrs. Edith James Skinner of Herman, has a deep interest in schools and school activities and wants to work for progressive education. Her public work has been in the PTA.

Mrs. Abel said: "My candidacy will give pro-Eisenhower voters an opportunity to express approval of a Republican who accepts the forthright program of President Eisenhower."

10 Legislative Years

Mrs. Gillespie believes her experience over the years equips her to serve in the nation's legislative branch. It includes 10 years in the Nebraska Legislature and directorship of the Eastern Nebraska Public Power District. She is a real estate broker.

Mrs. Hanneman, who admits "I toyed with the idea for awhile," explains that she thought there should be a woman on the new State School Board. She is an immediate past president of the State PTA Congress.

The list of candidates:

Mrs. George Abel, Lincoln, Republican, short-term Senate.

Mrs. Mabel Gillespie, Omaha, Democrat, short-term Senate.

Miss Mabel Fossler, Lincoln, Democrat, governor.

Mrs. Arabelle Peart Hanna, Superior, Republican, Lieutenant governor.

Mrs. Bertha R. Smith, Lincoln, Legislature, 20th District.

Mrs. Ada E. Shafer, Lincoln, Legislature, 20th District.

Mrs. Kathleen A. Foote, Axtell, Legislature, 31st District.

Mrs. Glenn Buck, Lincoln, State Board of Education, First District.

Mrs. A. E. Hanneman, Lincoln State Board of Education, First District.

Mrs. Edith James Skinner, Herman, State Board of Education, Third District.

$7,200,000 Saving For Hay Industry Said Possible

Better Crop Treatment Urged

Dr. L. A. Moore, president of the American Dairy Science Association, told farmers attending the annual Dairy Field Day at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture Thursday afternoon, a saving of $7,200,000 could be made by Nebraska's hay industry by more careful treatment of the crop.

Two years ago, he said, Nebraska produced six million tons of hay from its approximate five and one-half million acres of hayland, a crop with a farm value of 144 million dollars.

"If just 5 per cent more of Nebraska's hay crop could be saved," Moore said "it would mean a money saving of $7,200,000 for Nebraska."

Moore said that experiments conducted at the USDA's Beltsville, Md., Agricultural Research Center indicate that improved methods of harvesting hay crops can mean much to farm income.

He suggested that farmers give more attention to the barn drying of hay as proposed to field drying and to making hay crops into silage.

Dr. Moore's talk climaxed the annual Dairy Day where farmers were able to see a new, horizontal silo built for experimental purposes by the Dairy Husbandry department.

Dr. Clifford M. Hardin, University of Nebraska chancellor, was on hand to greet the dairymen at the meeting.

Dr. A. B. Schultze, associate professor of dairy husbandry, and Reuben Peterson, manager of the Nebraska Dairy Breeders Association were at one station to show the procedure used to freeze semen for test tube calf production. Frozen samples could be compared under a microscope with samples collected at the same time that had not been frozen.

Extension dairyman, C. W. Nibler, showed 19 types of silage containing various grasses, sorghums and corn that had been harvested by different methods.

He pointed out the variation in the quality of silage, depending upon the crops used, stage of maturity of crops when harvested, and moisture content of crops when placed in the silo. Highlighting this portion of the program was the revelation of a new, experimental, horizontal silo recently constructed at the college dairy barns.

Sanitation Stressed

Bob Roselle, extension entomologist at the College of Agriculture, told the group that sanitation is the most important item in fly control. The entire farmstead, including barns, cow yards, garbage cans, etc., must be maintained in such a condition that fly breeding will be impossible.

Dr. I. L. Hathaway, associate professor of dairy husbandry, showed the groups that stopped at his station how the use of irrigated pasture at the college this past year had saved nearly eight and one-half tons of hay, approximately 60 tons of silage and about seven tons of grain to make a total value of $114 per acre. This figure was based on current feed prices of feeds saved.

University dairy herdsman, Phil Cole, displayed three groups of dairy calves that are each being fed different combinations of feed to show a comparison of the advantages and disadvantages of each.

Kearney, Neb., Enters Battle For Statue Of General Kearny

KEARNY, N.J. (AP) — A new statue of bewhiskered Civil War General Philip Kearny was presented to the city of Kearny Thursday and set up in a bank lobby under police guard.

Citizens of Kearney, who claim a full length statue of the general was kidnaped from Trenton and set up in the nearby city of Newark, want to be sure their new acquisition stays put.

"We've got to make sure Newark doesn't kidnap the general again," said Mayor Joseph M. Healey.

The large bust of the general, for whom this city was named, was presented to Kearny by his granddaughter, Miss Mary Kearny.

Six Descendents Attend

Miss Kearny of Richmond, Va., and five other descendents of Kearny were present for the ceremony installing the bronze bust in the lobby of the local bank.

They offered the new bust of General Kearny after the local Chamber of Commerce started a hubbub to get a statue of its own.

A full-length statue of the general has stood in Soldier's Park in Newark for more than a quarter of century.

On July 18, the Kearny Chamber of Commerce announced the monument was standing there "unnoticed, unheralded and unsung." It should be returned to Kearny, its rightful resting place they said.

Another city also got into the act, Kearney, Neb., whose Chamber of Commerce said it thought the general's statue should be moved there.

Glenn McEniry, manager of the Kearney Chamber of Commerce told the Newark Star-Ledger his organization is forwarding an official claim to the Newark City Council.

"Gen. Kearny was commander of Nebraska's old Ft. Kearny on Oregon Trail in the late 1850's and 1860," McEniry said. "He gave blood, sweat and tears to the opening of the Nebraska territory, and it is here his statue should stand."

One week ago, the Kearny, N. J., Chamber asked Newark to restore the statue to its "rightful resting place" there.

Answering both communities, Mayor Leo P. Carlin of Newark said:

"If Kearny, N. J., and Kearney, Neb., want a statue of Gen. Kearny, let them build one themselves."

Center Of Battle

This statue of Gen. Kearny, now located at Newark, N. J., has become the center of a controversy. Latest city to put in a bid for the monument is Kearney, Neb. (AP Wirephoto.)

☆ ☆ ☆

And noting the spelling of the Nebraska city, Carlin added:

"How can they claim the general's statue if they can't even spell his name?"

The spelling bothered McEniry a bit, too.

"I guess our founding fathers just slipped up on their spelling," he said.

The time-darkened bronze monument, sculptured by Henry Kirk Brown in 1869, originally was placed in the state house at Trenton.

This new Sunkist Orange weight-control plan helps you hold down weight to an attractive, healthful level and keep it there.

This is not a reducing plan as you know them. It's far simpler and makes much better sense. There is no dangerous dieting, no tiresome calorie counting, no back-breaking exercises, no expensive drugs.
All you do is follow this simple rule: Eat a Sunkist Orange 30 minutes before lunch and dinner each day.
Then eat moderately at mealtime, as you should. This becomes amazingly easy because eating the fresh orange with its healthful "meat" (rich in cellulose) helps curb your appetite the natural way and gives you new mealtime hunger control.
This new eat-an-orange plan is working for others. Why not give it a fair trial, say for three weeks? Take advantage of the big SLIM-JANE orange sale at your market.
Why so many modern diets call for fresh oranges
When you eat less, your supply of vitamins, minerals and other food essentials is reduced. Fresh oranges help maintain a proper balance of these values because they are a storehouse of health. Both their juice and meat are rich in vitamins and minerals. And their important protopectins actually help you get more of the health essentials from the other foods you eat. Whether you are on a weight-control plan or a strict reducing diet, include fresh oranges ... fresh Sunkist Oranges, the finest brand you can buy anywhere.

SLIM-JANE SALE!

KEEP WEIGHT DOWN

THIS SENSIBLE WAY

This new Sunkist Orange weight-control plan helps you hold down weight to an attractive, healthful level and keep it there.

This is not a reducing plan as you know them. It's far simpler and makes much better sense. There is no dangerous dieting, no tiresome calorie counting, no back-breaking exercises, no expensive drugs.

All you do is follow this simple rule: Eat a Sunkist Orange 30 minutes before lunch and dinner each day.

Then eat moderately at mealtime, as you should. This becomes amazingly easy because eating the fresh orange with its healthful "meat" (rich in cellulose) helps curb your appetite the natural way and gives you new mealtime hunger control.

This new eat-an-orange plan is working for others. Why not give it a fair trial, say for three weeks? Take advantage of the big SLIM-JANE orange sale at your market.

Why so many modern diets call for fresh oranges

When you eat less, your supply of vitamins, minerals and other food essentials is reduced. Fresh oranges help maintain a proper balance of these values because they are a storehouse of health. Both their juice and meat are rich in vitamins and minerals. And their important protopectins actually help you get more of the health essentials from the other foods you eat. Whether you are on a weight-control plan or a strict reducing diet, include fresh oranges ... fresh Sunkist Oranges, the finest brand you can buy anywhere.

Senate Opposes Red China In U.N.

. . . VOTE AGAINST ENTRANCE IS SOLID 91-0

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate spoke with one voice Thursday against the entrance of Red China into the United Nations.

It voted 91-0 to write into the $3,100,000,000 foreign aid bill a reiteration by Congress of "its opposition to the seating in the United Nations of the Communist China regime as the representative of China."

The amendment also requests President Eisenhower, in the event of Red Chinese admission, to inform Congress "of the implications of this action upon the foreign policy of the United States . . together with any recommendations which he may have with respect to the matter"

Majority Leader Knowland of California was the sponsor of this "wait and see" plan, which apparently reflects administration policy. It is a far cry, however, from Knowland's original proposal that the United States withdraw from the U N. the moment Communist China gets in, with the policy to be set by Congress beforehand.

Both Eisenhower and Dulles have advised going slow on the question of quitting the United Nations They also have expressed confidence that Red China will be unable to obtain a seat The issue may be raised at the U N. this fall.

After approving several other amendments the Senate recessed until Friday without reaching a final vote on the aid bill.

Sen. Long (D-La) told reporters during a break in the debate that he would ask the Senate to chop more than one billion dollars out of the big aid authorization bill

He said he has the support of "more than 30 senators, and I hope enough more to put through the amendment."

Two years ago Long was successful in cutting the foreign aid bill by 200 million dollars Last year he was defeated narrowly in an attempt to slash it by 500 million

The House has voted to appropriate $2,895 000,000 in new money for foreign aid in the current fiscal year.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) failed to win adoption of an amendment to require that 750 million dollars of the foreign aid funds requested for the fiscal year which began July 1 be in the form of loans rather than grants It was defeated on a 57 33 rollcall vote

Not Loans

Sen Olin D. Johnston (D SC) suggested that it didn't seem to make much difference whether the money is loaned or given away—"We're not going to get it back, anyway"

Secretary of State Dulles, in a letter read during today's debate, said the end of fighting in Indochina calls for more rather than less American aid to Southeast Asia. Dulles' views were presented by Sen. Wiley (R-Wis).

Wiley, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Dulles wrote him July 22 that:

"I believe the armistice does not diminish the need for these funds If anything, it increases the need to have available funds with which to build these defensive capabilities and strengthen the resistance of the free nations in the area."

President Eisenhower originally asked for 800 million dollars to help carry on the war against the Red Vietminh forces in Indochina. After the French came to terms with the Communists, yielding most of Viet Nam above the 17th Parallel, Eisenhower requested that the funds be earmarked for use at his discretion in any part of Southeast Asia.

The House has voted to approve 712 million for the purposes, and the same amount is contained in the pending Senate bill.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) meanwhile urged the Senate to abolish the Foreign Operations Administration as an independent agency, arguing it "creates unnecessary duplication and waste" and tends to regard the temporary foreign aid programs as permanent

Senate Opposes Red China In U.N.

. . . VOTE AGAINST ENTRANCE IS SOLID 91-0

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate spoke with one voice Thursday against the entrance of Red China into the United Nations.

It voted 91-0 to write into the $3,100,000,000 foreign aid bill a reiteration by Congress of "its opposition to the seating in the United Nations of the Communist China regime as the representative of China."

The amendment also requests President Eisenhower, in the event of Red Chinese admission, to inform Congress "of the implications of this action upon the foreign policy of the United States . . . together with any recommendations which he may have with respect to the matter."

Majority Leader Knowland of California was the sponsor of this "wait and see" plan, which apparently reflects administration policy. It is a far cry, however, from Knowland's original proposal that the United States withdraw from the U.N. the moment Communist China gets in, with the policy to be set by Congress beforehand.

Both Eisenhower and Dulles have advised going slow on the question of quitting the United Nations. They also have expressed confidence that Red China will be unable to obtain a seat. The issue may be raised at the U.N. this fall.

After approving several other amendments the Senate recessed until Friday without reaching a final vote on the aid bill.

Sen. Long (D-La) told reporters during a break in the debate that he would ask the Senate to chop more than one billion dollars out of the big aid authorization bill.

He said he has the support of "more than 30 senators, and I hope enough more to put through the amendment."

Two years ago Long was successful in cutting the foreign aid bill by 200 million dollars. Last year he was defeated narrowly in an attempt to slash it by 500 million.

The House has voted to appropriate $2,895,000,000 in new money for foreign aid in the current fiscal year.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) failed to win adoption of an amendment to require that 750 million dollars of the foreign aid funds requested for the fiscal year which began July 1 be in the form of loans rather than grants. It was defeated on a 57-33 rollcall vote.

Not Loans

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) suggested that it didn't seem to make much difference whether the money is loaned or given away—"We're not going to get it back, anyway."

Secretary of State Dulles, in a letter read during today's debate, said the end of fighting in Indochina calls for more rather than less American aid to Southeast Asia. Dulles' views were presented by Sen. Wiley (R-Wis).

Wiley, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Dulles wrote him July 22 that:

"I believe the armistice does not diminish the need for these funds. If anything, it increases the need to have available funds with which to build these defensive capabilities and strengthen the resistance of the free nations in the area."

President Eisenhower originally asked for 800 million dollars to help carry on the war against the Red Vietminh forces in Indochina. After the French came to terms with the Communists, yielding most of Viet Nam above the 17th Parallel, Eisenhower requested that the funds be earmarked for use at his discretion in any part of Southeast Asia.

The House has voted to approve 712 million for the purposes, and the same amount is contained in the pending Senate bill.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) meanwhile urged the Senate to abolish the Foreign Operations Administration as an independent agency, arguing it "creates unnecessary duplication and waste" and tends to regard the temporary foreign aid programs as permanent.

270 Bidders Compete For 56 Highway Improvement Jobs

The State Highway department Thursday opened bids on 56 highway improvement projects. Competition was furnished by 270 bidders for the estimated $3,000,000 in contracts. Larger projects attracted from 14 to 16 bidders.

It appeared that the bids would be considerably under the estimates with contractors "hungry" for work. Some asphaltic concrete bids approached the $3 per ton mark, the lowest ever received.

State construction funds of $1,400,000 were estimated to be expended to be matched with $1,000,000 in federal aid primary funds. The federal aid secondary contribution was estimated at $500,000 to be matched with $100,000 of county funds and state funds. Maintenance projects were estimated to cost $100,000.

Arnold Swanson and Co., Hastings, submitted the apparent low bid Thursday for the paving of a 1½ mile stretch of highway from Gering west in Scotts Bluff county. The Swanson bid was $116,569.

Other apparent low bids:

Howard County, gravel, 4.3 miles, Cushing east, Platte Valley Construction Co., Grand Island $5,261.

Thurston County, gravel, 2.1 miles Rosalie east, Lyman Ritchie Sand and Gravel Co., Omaha, $4,023.

Dixon County, 2.3 miles Martinsburg south, Theissen Brothers, Osmond, $19,119 for grading, ; Nichols Construction Co., Geneva, $26,834 for culverts and guard rail.

Richardson County, gravel, 1 mile, Verdon south, H. A. Risk Pipe and Construction Co., Nebraska City, $2,190.

Apparent low bids involving county funds, inculded:

Lancaster County, 3 miles, Davey east and west, Peterson Construction Co., Syracuse, $4,093 for grading; Nichols Construction Co., Geneva, $6,531 for culverts.

Lancaster, 5.4 miles, Denton east, Peterson Construction, $7,257 for grading; Capitol Bridge, Lincoln, $5,252 for culverts and guard rail.

Grant County bituminous, 13.6 miles, Whitman south, Missouri Valley Construction Co., Omaha, $54,243.

Arthur County, bituminous, 1 mile, Whitman south, Missouri Valley, $4,499.

REFRESHING THOUGHTS ON A JULY MORNING

IT'S hot and there's not too much water, but we haven't a complaint in the world because there is coolness in the thought of Montana mountains, which are in the morning news—and plenty of water in the Pacific ocean which also is in the news, though indirectly—

And of course both Montana and the ocean figure in the vacation picture—as do Minnesota, Wisconsin, the Black Hills—and points here and there—

* * *

IT IS the Deppen family—Dr. and Mrs. Earl N., and their daughters, the Misses Jane and Kay Deppen, who will be Montana bound today—The foursome will spend the few days left of July, and the greater share of August on a Montana ranch.

* * *

VIEWING the Pacific a few days from now will be Mr. and Mrs. James E. Thomas who leave this week-end for Long Beach, Calif., where they will spend a month as the guests of Mrs. Thomas' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Boyer.

* * *

HEARD someplace or other that Mr. and Mrs. Norman Yule and their family were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Craig O'Brien at Madeline Island, Wis., where Mrs. O'Brien and her two daughters, are spending the summer—

AND someone told us that Mrs. Frank Boehmer was taking off for Hackensack, Minn.. in a day or two.

* * *

BUT, of course, there always are those for whom the happy, carefree vacation days have ended — The Wilsons—Mr. and Mrs. Walter—for instance, who have returned from Glacier National Park—and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Prucha who are back in town after a holiday spent in the Black Hills.

* * *

ALSO ON the homecomers list are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hunt and their family who arrived Sunday from Alexandria, Minn., where they vacationed —And we learned that Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flansburg and their family are home again after a month spent at Pelican and Cass Lakes, Minnesota.

* * *

HOME again, too, is Dr. Marshall Neely who has returned from Shell Lake, Wis., where the Neely family does its vacationing. Hear that Mrs. Neely, the Neelys' son Jack, and Mrs. Neely's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Barlow, will remain at the lake until early August.

* * *

ADD to the vacation-has-ended assemblage the names of Mr. and Mrs. C. Myron Loomis who returned on Wednesday from Alexandria, Minn., where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Guenzel at the Guenzels' summer home—However before Mr. and Mrs. Loomis arrived at Alexandria, they joined Mr. and Mrs. Guenzel and Mr. and Mrs. Don Stewart for a trip into Canada—As you probably know the Stewarts have been back in town for several days.

* * *

ONE PHASE of the news that never can be ignored is the guest list which includes some interesting names this morning—In the potential category we have Mr. and Mrs. Guy Reed of Chicago who are due to arrive a week hence for a very brief visit with Mrs. Reed's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Everett Angle—Mr. and Mrs. Reed are barely pausing in Lincoln enroute to Aspen, Colo., where they will attend a house party.

* * *

JUST learned that Mr. and Mrs. John Dixon and their two children, Michael and Lynn, arrived from Kansas City, Mo., on Wednesday to spend a few days as the house guests of Mrs. Dixon's mother, Mrs. Charles Stahl.

* * *

ALMOST everyone, especially those members of former campus circles, remember the Carl Borgmans and their family who moved from Lincoln to Burlington, Vt., where Dr. Borgman, former dean of faculties at the University of Nebraska, is president of the University of Vermont— And naturally if you remember the Borgmans you remember young Miss Christy Borgman who at the moment, is the house guest of Dean and Mrs. Edmund O. Belsheim and their daughter, Karen.

Among the numerous courtesies for the young guest was the luncheon on Wednesday for which Mrs. P. J. Meehan and her daughter, Miss Mary Meehan, were hostesses at the University Club.

* * *

IF YOU happened to be out Lincoln Country club way yesterday you probably caught a glimpse of Mrs. Roma Donald of Grand Island, and her granddaughter, the young Margie Ollwine of Scarsdale, N. Y., who were lunching with Mrs. E. B. Drake and her granddaughter, Miss Halle Drake of Detroit, Mich., who is spending a few weeks in Lincoln as a guest of her grandparents.

* * *

INCIDENTLY—we hear Dr. and Mrs. Ellet Drake will come from Detroit on Aug. 3, and will spend some time in Lincoln before escorting their daughter home.

* * *

NEXT Tuesday, according to our calendar, is Aug. 3—the day that Mrs. John P. Miller will be a luncheon hostess at the Lincoln Country Club when she entertains in farewell courtesy to Mrs. Herbert R. Newman who, with her daughter, Sharon, leaves in mid-August to join Mr. Newman in Chicago.

Mrs. Miller has invited a guest eightsome for the luncheon — and an afternoon of bridge.

* * *

BUT before Tuesday comes Saturday and the mother-daughter luncheon for which Mrs. Glenn Baldwin will be hostess at the LCC when she honors Mrs. Newman and Miss Sharon Newman, and also pays courtesy to Mrs. Robert Kinsey, the former Dorris Newman.

And last Tuesday Mrs. Newman was the incentive for a party at the University Club when Mrs. Harry Good, Mrs. Freeman Everett and Mrs. Roland Mueller were luncheon hostesses.

* * *

APROPOS of courtesies of one variety or another—we have news this morning Miss Caroline Rogers, whose marriage to John Mills of Osceola will take place in the early autumn, will be honored next Saturday when Mrs. Robert Rosenlof of Omaha entertains at a luncheon and shower at her home. The guest list will include Kappa Alpha Theta sisters of the bride-elect and her hostess.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. Manford Lloyd and their children, Roger and Juliana of Mansfield, Pa., are in Lincoln visiting Mrs. Lloyd's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Sturdevant. Mrs. Lloyd is the former Florence Sturdevant.

Has Church Ceremony

Candles burning in seven-branched candelabra and basket arrangements of lavender asters and white gladioli decorated the altar and chancel of the First Baptist Church in Fremont, for the wedding of Miss Norma Wild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wild, of Fremont, and Arthur Hornung of Roca, which was solemnized Thursday evening, July 29. The Rev. R. M. Bailey, assisted by The Rev. Harold Shaw, read the lines of the 8 o'clock ceremony in the presence of 200 guests.

Mrs. Delmar Deerson of McCook, soloist, sang, and was accompanied by George Moore, of Mead, who also played the wedding music.

Mrs. Kenneth Yerger of Fremont, the matron of honor in pale green, the bridesmatrons, Mrs. Marilyn Mulder and Mrs. Lois Johnson, both of Omaha, in pastel lavender and green, and the bridesmaid, Miss Marion Iverson of Nebraska City in lavender, wore identical frocks of Chantilly-type lace and nylon net over taffeta. Empire jackets of lace covered the strapless basques which featured fichus, and the floor-length skirts were caught into fullness. They carried cascades of deep lavender daisies.

The bride chose for her wedding a gown of French hand-clipped Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The strapless lace basque was emphasized by a fichu of tulle and was completed by a long-sleeved lace jacket. Scalloped lace panniers accented the bouffant skirt and the lace motif was repeated in a deep triangle in the center back. A tiara encrusted with seed pearls and crystal held her double, finger-tip veil of imported silk illusion and she carried a cascade of stephanotis and white roses.

Tim Hornung of Washington, D. C., was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Al Heuser of Roca, Glenn Wild of Cedar Bluffs and Roger Wild of Mead, brothers of the bride.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately after the ceremony, following which the couple left for a wedding trip to the Rocky Mountains. For traveling, the bride wore a beige linen frock with brown accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Midland College, Fremont, and has taught the last two years in the Omaha Public Schools system. Mr. Hornung attended the University of Nebraska.

They will reside on a farm near Lincoln.

To Attend Ceremony

A group of members of Deborah Avery Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will go to Fort Calhoun on Tuesday to a rededication ceremony at the Lewis and Clark monument commemorating the 150th anniversary of Lewis and Clark's explorations.

Presiding at the ceremony will be Dr. James C. Olson, executive secretary of the Nebraska State Historical Society.

Included among those attending from Lincoln will be Mrs. Grant C. Ackerman, Miss Irma Jean Croft, Mrs. J. E. McLafferty and Mrs. Hattie Des Jardien.

Ice Cream Social Planned

In the center is Miss Mary Meehan who, with her mother, Mrs. P. J. Meehan, was a luncheon hostess on Wednesday at the University Club in honor of the guest. On the far right is Miss Karen Belsheim, daughter of Dean and Mrs. Edmund O. Belsheim, at whose home Miss Borgman is visiting.

Navy To Build Carrier; Private Bids 'Too High'

... Two A-Sub Contracts Announced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two private shipyards Thursday lost a chance to get the contract for a fourth big aircraft carrier of the Forrestal class because the Navy said their bids were too high. The contract went to the New York Naval Shipyard at Brooklyn, N.Y.

At the same time the Navy announced contracts for two new atom-powered submarines, which will bring the total of such craft to four.

One will be built at the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard at Kittery, Maine, thus giving the United States a second yard equipped and trained for that type of construction.

The contract for a third A-powered submarine was awarded to the Electric Boat Division of the General Dynamics Corp. at Groton, Conn., where the first two nuclear powered subs, the Nautilus and the Seawolf, were built.

Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, has said other A-powered subs will be built.

In announcing the awards, Rear Adm. William D. Leggett, chief of the Bureau of Ships, gave no details of the cost and construction plans for the new 60-000-ton Forrestal-type carrier, but Rep. Wigglesworth (R-Mass) said it would cost an estimated 124½ million dollars at the Brooklyn navy yard.

The private firms bidding for the job were the Quincy, Mass., yard of Bethlehem Steel Co., and the New York Shipbuilding Corp., of Camden, N.J.

Exception Considered

Under the law requiring that major shipbuilding contracts be alternated between private and naval shipyards, the new carrier was to have gone to a naval yard. But because of "the distressed condition of the private shipbuilding industry," Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas said in a statement read by Adm. Leggett that an exception had been considered.

Thomas noted that both the Quincy and Camden yards "are highly efficient and have outstanding records in the construction of combat ships."

"However," he said, "their proposals as submitted were substantially above the carefully calculated costs of building this fourth carrier at the New York Naval Shipyard."

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass), who joined Wigglesworth in expressing regret that the Quincy yard had lost out, said the Bethlehem Steel Co. bid was "nearly 30 million dollars above the cost of building the carrier at Brooklyn."

Without going into details, he said the Camden yard's bid was lower, but not close enough to the Brooklyn yard estimate to justify seeking an exception to the Vinson-Trammel Act requiring alternate awards.

The last contract for a 60-000-ton carrier, the Ranger, went to the Newsport News, Va., Shipbuilding and Drydock Co., a private yard, on a bid of 117 million dollars.

Actress Is Calm At Hit-Run Arraignment

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Actress Lynne Baggett, charged with manslaughter and hit-run driving in the auto crash death of 9-year-old boy was ordered Thursday to enter her plea on Aug. 12.

The 31-year-old blonde former Texas beauty queen was calm and composed at her arraignment before Superior Judge Harold W. Schweitzer Thursday—a sharp contrast to her demeanor when she fought back tears at her preliminary hearing last July 15.

The charges against Miss Baggett, estranged wife of film producer Sam Spiegel, grew out of her asserted flight from the scene of an accident last July 7 when the small station wagon she was driving collided with a larger station wagon.

Navy To Build Carrier; Private Bids 'Too High'

. . . Two A-Sub Contracts Announced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two private shipyards Thursday lost a chance to get the contract for a fourth big aircraft carrier of the Forrestal class because the Navy said their bids were too high. The contract went to the New York Naval Shipyard at Brooklyn, N.Y.

At the same time the Navy announced contracts for two new atom-powered submarines, which will bring the total of such craft to four.

One will be built at the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard at Kittery, Maine, thus giving the United States a second yard equipped and trained for that type of construction.

The contract for a third A-powered submarine was awarded to the Electric Boat Division of the General Dynamics Corp. at Groton, Conn., where the first two nuclear-powered subs, the Nautilus and the Seawolf, were built.

Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, has said other A-powered subs will be built.

In announcing the awards, Rear Adm. William D. Leggett, chief of the Bureau of Ships, gave no details of the cost and construction plans for the new 60-000-ton Forrestal-type carrier, but Rep. Wigglesworth (R-Mass) said it would cost an estimated 124½ million dollars at the Brooklyn navy yard.

The private firms bidding for the job were the Quincy, Mass., yard of Bethlehem Steel Co., and the New York Shipbuilding Corp., of Camden, N.J.

Exception Considered

Under the law requiring that major shipbuilding contracts be alternated between private and naval shipyards, the new carrier was to have gone to a naval yard. But because of "the distressed condition of the private shipbuilding industry," Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas said in a statement read by Adm. Leggett that an exception had been considered.

Thomas noted that both the Quincy and Camden yards "are highly efficient and have outstanding records in the construction of combat ships."

"However," he said, "their proposals as submitted were substantially above the carefully calculated costs of building this fourth carrier at the New York Naval Shipyard."

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass), who joined Wigglesworth in expressing regret that the Quincy yard had lost out, said the Bethlehem Steel Co. bid was "nearly 30 million dollars above the cost of building the carrier at Brooklyn."

Without going into details, he said the Camden yard's bid was lower, but not close enough to the Brooklyn yard estimate to justify seeking an exception to the Vinson-Trammel Act requiring alternate awards.

The last contract for a 60,000-ton carrier, the Ranger, went to the Newsport News, Va., Shipbuilding and Drydock Co., a private yard, on a bid of 117 million dollars.

Marciano, Charles To Meet In September

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Rocky Marciano, his eye cut completely healed, will give ex-champ Ezzard Charles another chance at his world heavyweight boxing title in a New York bout that probably will be held Wednesday, Sept. 15 at Yankee Stadium.

Promoter Jim Norris of the International Boxing Club announced two tentative dates, Sept. 15 at the Stadium or Thursday, Sept. 21 at the Polo Grounds. However, Norris prefers the earlier date.

The bronzed champion, rested after a six-week vacation at Cape Cod and Grossinger, N. Y., was examined in Norris' office by Dr. Vincent Nardiello, acting as Marciano's personal physician, and Dr. Alexander Schiff of the New York State Athletic Commission. They found the cut, which required 10 stitches and an operation for removal of scar tissue after the June 17 bout, healed completely. Both pronounced the champion fit for action in September.

As in their rousing first bout, Marciano will get 40 per cent of all receipts and Charles 20 per cent. The price scale again will run from $5 to $40.

Norris said the television question is "wide open" but it is believed there is very little chance of any home TV. Although Sept. 15 is a Wednesday, the regular Wednesday night fights have been preempted by another sponsor for a special show on that date.

Al Weill, Marciano's manager, is expected to insist on another theater-television deal similar to the arrangement that added about $250,000 to the receipts of the first bout.

The June match attracted 47,585 fans and grossed $543,092.24 at the gate, not counting theater-TV and $35,000 radio. Marciano got about $250,000 and Charles $125,000. Norris said he expects the rematch to draw "at least as much."

Marciano returned to Grossinger after the announcement and expects to start training right away. He will be back Tuesday for the official signing.

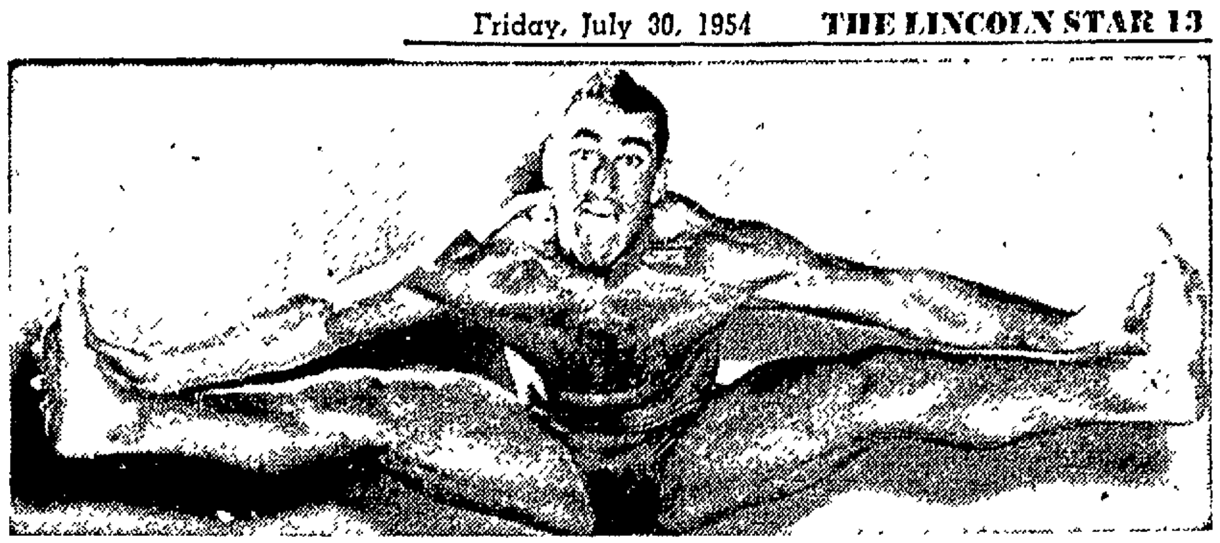
Charles and his managers were not present when Norris made the match. Tom Tannas, the ex-champ's co-manager, had agreed to terms previously.

Charles, the first man to get a third chance to win back the big title, is due to arrive Monday. He probably will train in the Catskills at Monticello, N. Y. where he worked before the first fight.

Both fighters came out of the first bout a little the worse for wear. Charles' right eye was blood shot and half closed and his left cheekbone was lumpy and lopsided. He thought he won the fight and challenged the champ to another bout "the sooner the better."

Blood streamed from a cut over Marciano's left eye from the fourth round on. It was an old cut first opened by a butt in his bout with Johnny Shkor in 1950. Three hours after the fight, Dr. Nardiello cut out the scare tissue and sewed up the cut at St. Clare's Hospital.

There were no knockdowns although Charles took brutal punishment, especially in the 15th round.



An Exercise For A Dull Morning

Argentina Rocca, who meets Art Neilson at the fairgrounds tonight, exhibits his quaint method of warming up before a match. Rocca's method is not recommended in the common household, mainly because the average individual cannot challenge his prowess as one of the world's top acrobats. The matches will be held in the ring in front of the outdoor grandstand.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jackie Jensen drove in six runs with two homers and a single Thursday as Boston's Red Sox thumped the league-leading Cleveland Indians, 10-2.

The loss, coupled with New York's victory over Chicago, cut the Tribe's lead to 1½ games.

Ted Williams drove in the first two Sox runs with a first inning homer.

Jensen, next man up collected his 15th round tripper then.

His 16th came in the sixth after Jim Piersall singled and Williams walked.

Jensen accounted for his other two runs in the second, hitting safely after Piersall singled, Billy Goodman doubled and Williams was walked to fill the bases.

Feller Shelled

Bob Feller, after his ninth victory, was driven from the mound by that outbreak. It was the aging fireball pitcher's second loss.

Southpaw Leo Kiely went all the way for the Red Sox, posting his fifth victory against six defeats as Boston won its second victory in 17 games with the Tribe. Kiely allowed seven hits, including an eighth-inning homer by Bob Avila.

Cleveland's other run was in the fifth when Al Smith tripled after Sam Dente had walked.

The other two Boston runs came in the seventh and eighth.

Billy Consolo singled, advanced on Kiely's sacrifice and scored on a single by Piersall in the seventh. In the eighth, Ted Lepcio and Consolo doubled.

Indians Hurl Five

The Red Sox batted their way past five Cleveland pitchers as they won the last of a three-game series.

It was the third time this season that as many as 10 runs have been scored against the Indians. The New York Yankees scored 11 against them twice, in successive games.

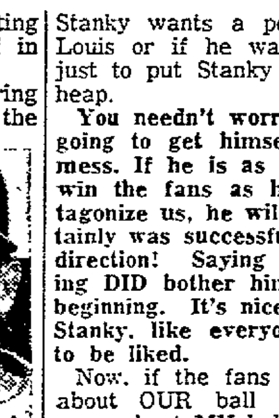
A Card Fan Talks To Mister Stanky

Eddie Stanky, the fire-eating competitor, is on fire himself in St. Louis and its invirons.

As his Cardinals keep foundering and Eddie keeps popping off, the fans have even started rooting for the opposition.



Eddie Stanky

J. Roy Stockton, who knows more about the Cards than any scribe we know, was recent recipient of a letter that gave the fans' side, thus:

Dear Sports Scribes:

So you fellows can't figure out why Eddie Stanky is so unpopular with the fans. Well, let me stick in my two cents.

Stanky tried to take the Cardinals away from the fans. Let's go back to the beginning. He began to get unpopular the very first season simply by taking the fans' favorites out of the lineup just so he could bat. Marion could get away with this, because he was a Cardinal (Stanky wasn't). Stanky's attitude from the start was, "Thus is MY ball club, the blazes with you!" Fans, you know, like to think "this is OUR ball club." And unless this feeling is nourished, you can't fill up the seats in the stadium.

The next thing we knew, Terry Moore was fired.. And again, we're told in no uncertain terms, "This is MY ball club!" How do you think this answer sits with the fans?

The next thing we knew, Enos Slaughter was gone. I say he was gone because he certainly wasn't traded. He was just gotten rid of. And again, we're told, if not in words, then certainly in attitude, "This is MY ball club." So the booing began. Then Stanky insisted this booing didn't bother him. Saying this only served to further infuriate the fans, because it was the only way they could get at him.

Finally, last Sunday, the fans got tired of this tug-of-war with Stanky over OUR ball club. They just up and let go of their end of the rope "They told him, in effect, "Okay, Eddie, you win, the ball club is yours. Take it. We'll root for the enemy."

Then when Stanky suddenly realized he had the Cardinals all to himself, he decided that wasn't the way he wanted it. How were the fans to know that wasn't the way he wanted it? Hasn't he been drumming at us for two and a half seasons that WAS the way he wanted it?

Stanky isn't being booed because the Cards are in the second division. Nobody doubts that he wants to win. Nobody doubts he has the makings of a fine manager. Nobody doubts that the players themselves have a good deal of respect for him. But dog-gone it, Stanky hasn't tried to be one of us. One can't help wondering if Stanky wants a pennant for St. Louis or if he wants a pennant just to put Stanky on top of the heap.

You needn't worry if Stanky is going to get himself out of this mess. If he is as determined to win the fans as he was to antagonize us, he will win. He certainly was successful in the other direction! Saying that the booing DID bother him was a good beginning. It's nice to know that Stanky, like everyone else, likes to be liked.

Now, if the fans can just hear about OUR ball club, and no more about MY ball club, I think everything will work out.

Cardinal Fan

The football season is breathing down our backs. A sure sign of the season is the first football magazine on the stands, Street and Smith's "Football" Yearbook.

Col. Bob Busby has this to say about Nebraska's Cornbuskers:

"Search for a quarterback successor to John Bordogna occupied most of the Spring session at Nebraska.

"Coach Bill Glassford weathered an out in the open uprising over things athletic in Cornhuskerland. There followed much speculation as to whether the affair will have a healthy or a deterrent effect.

"On the basis of Spring practice there is every reason to believe that things are looking up. There was a turnout of about 75 athletes and general harmony had returned.

"The quarterback probably will come from a list that includes Rex Fischer, Don Erway, Charles Smith, Don Margheim, Gordon Englert and Dan Brown. Two of the leading contenders are Smith, a 6-2, 185-pounder who is a right-handed passer and Margheim, who stands 6 feet and weighs 190.

"Glassford will build around a seasoned crew of halfbacks, two experienced guards and a center. Nine lettermen return including Bob Smith, halfback and leading groundgainer of the team; Jon McWilliams and Dennis Korinek; Andy Loehr, end; Bob Wagner and Don Glantz, guards, and Bob Oberlin, center.

"Experienced hands who will help the cause are Charles Bryant, guard, and Max Kitzelman, tackle.

"Tom Harper, a freshman in 1949, has returned from service and is one of the guard candidates. (Harper quit during spring drills.)

"But the main thing in this situation is a quaterback."

Sox Blanked, Yanks Gain

CHICAGO (AP) — Lefty Whitey Ford throttled the slipping Chicago White Sox on four scattered hits Thursday and the New York Yankees backed him with a 13-hit barrage and three big innings for a 10-0 whitewash. The decision gave the New Yorkers the series 2-1, and brought them 1½ games away from league-leading Indians, beaten 10-2 at Cleveland.

Ford, the first Yankee pitcher to go the route in six games, collected his 10th triumph against six setbacks. He boosted his season record over the white sox to 3-1 in blanking them for the second time.

Stobbs Pitches Senators' Win

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Washington Senators chased Baltimore's rookie bonus lefthander Bill O'Dell off the mound in the initial inning of his first major league game Thursday then coasted to a 6-0 triumph behind Chuck Stobb's five-hit pitching.

The 25-year-old Senator southpaw chalked up his fourth straight victory, bringing his won-loss mark all even at 6-6 for the season. Beaten twice before by Baltimore, today Stobbs hobbled the Orioles completely on five singles. No Oriole runner got beyond second base.

Cards Pound Five Hurlers

NEW YORK (AP) — Vic Raschi, flashing the form of his great New York Yankee days, stopped the New York Giants cold Thursday and the St. Louis Cardinals staged a 14-hit assault on five pitchers for an 8-0 rout. The 35-year-old righthander permitted only three hits for his third-straight victory over the Giants and his second shutout.

Ray Jablonski, Rip Repulski and Bill Sarni paced the Cardinals' attack that shelled starter and loser Don Liddle from the mound in the fifth inning and continued against Alan Worthington, Al Corwin, Paul Giel and Alex Konikowski in that order.

Pueblo Edges Chiefs, 5-4

Homer In 10th Gives Dodgers Sweep; Lincoln Now Sixth

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Frank Jeffers' leadoff homerun in the last of the 10th gave Pueblo a 5-4 Western League victory over the Lincoln Chiefs Thursday night and a sweep of the three-game series, all by the same score.

Two home runs by Willie Davis were the big blows for the Dodgers until Jeffers hit his game-winning four bagger.

Davis opened Pueblo scoring with his 14th homerun of the season in the fourth inning and pulled Pueblo even with another solo blast in the eighth.

The Dodgers got their other two runs in the sixth on back-to-back doubles by Jim Gentile and Jeffers, and a single by George Anderson.

Lincoln picked up single runs in the first and second and got a pair in the fifth, all off Pueblo starter Glenn McMinn. In the first, a single by Mel Rue, an infield out, a walk and a single by Tom Neill produced a tally. In the second, Manager Whitey Wietelmann singled and came home on Billy Smith's double.

The Chiefs used their last three hits to get their last two runs in the fifth. These were successive singles by Johnny Jones, Glenn McQuillen and Neill.

The victory moved Pueblo into fifth place in the league and Lincoln to sixth.

Lincoln will toss Frank Stewart (2-2) at Colorado Springs tonight.

Plan To Save Athletics Flops

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia business and industry leaders have turned a cold shoulder to a drive to keep the Philadelphia Athletics in Philadelphia.

A report not yet released by the mayor's office was turned over to the city's chief executive informing him that efforts to stimulate attendance at A's games have encountered apathy and in some instances outright resistance from the public as well as from business leaders.

Letters were sent to 125 leading citizens asking them to head up subsidiary groups for the purpose of selling tickets to A's games. Not one favorable reply was received, the report said.

Rocca Tops Mat Card Tonight

South American Meets Neilson

Argentina Rocco, the acrobatic pride of South America, meets Art Neilson, one of television's top villians, in the last summer wrestle card tonight in front of the fairgrounds outdoor grandstand.

Rocca has been promised a future shot at Vern Gagne's United States title if he can get by the rough Neilson.

Neilson, after a previous loss to Rocca on a close decision, has told Promoter Adam Krieger that he "intends to show up this showboat type of wrestler."

"I told Neilson that he must stay within the rules set up by the Nebraska State Athletic Commission," Krieger answered. "To see that he does not get out of line, Commissioner Charles Moon, will be on hand."

Ringside seats have been moved closer to the ring than they were during the recent Gagne-McClarity match. In event of rain, the matches will be staged in the indoor 4-H arena at the fairgrounds.

Mike DiBiase, the ex-Husker footballer, meets strongboy Harry Lewis, and Reggie Lisowski goes against Larry Hamilton in the other bouts.

Krieger said that his choice of referees would not be anonunced until the first bout opens 8:30 p.m.

Reds Whip Phils, Valentine Stars

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Corky Valentine pitched a four-hitter, hit a pair of doubles and a single, and scored two runs Thursday night as the Cincinnati Redlegs beat the Philadelphia Phillies 3-0.

The only other hits off Corky were a single by Del Ennis in the seventh and a safe bunt by Richie Ashburn in the eighth.

Unknown Tops KC Open Stars

KANSAS CITY, (AP) — Mike Krak shot a hole in one on the 18th green and an 8-under-par 65 for the first round lead in the $20,000 Kansas City Open golf tournament Thursday.

The Louisville, Ky., pro toured the 6,625-yard par 73 Blue Hills Country Club course in 34-31. He holed the 210-yard 18th with a two iron shot that caught the edge of the green and sneaked about 45 feet before dipping into the cup.

Krak is an unknown on the pro trail. He was born in Czechoslovakia 26 years ago and is a graduate of the University of West Virginia.

A stroke off the lead at 66 were Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., Earl Stewart Jr. of Dallas, and Ed "Porky" Oliver, the defending champion from Lemont, Ill.

Marciano, Charles To Meet In September

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Rocky Marciano, his eye cut completely healed, will give ex-champ Ezzard Charles another chance at his world heavyweight boxing title in a New York bout that probably will be held Wednesday, Sept. 15 at Yankee Stadium.

Promoter Jim Norris of the International Boxing Club announced two tentative dates, Sept. 15 at the Stadium or Thursday, Sept. 21 at the Polo Grounds. However, Norris prefers the earlier date.

The bronzed champion, rested after a six-week vacation at Cape Cod and Grossinger, N. Y., was examined in Norris' office by Dr. Vincent Nardiello, acting as Marciano's personal physician, and Dr. Alexander Schiff of the New York State Athletic Commission. They found the cut, which required 10 stitches and an operation for removal of scar tissue after the June 17 bout, healed completely. Both pronounced the champion fit for action in September.

As in their rousing first bout, Marciano will get 40 per cent of all receipts and Charles 20 per cent. The price scale again will run from $5 to $40.

Norris said the television question is "wide open" but it is believed there is very little chance of any home TV. Although Sept. 15 is a Wednesday, the regular Wednesday night fights have been preempted by another sponsor for a special show on that date.

Al Weill, Marciano's manager, is expected to insist on another theater-television deal similar to the arrangement that added about $250,000 to the receipts of the first bout.

The June match attracted 47,585 fans and grossed $543,092.24 at the gate, not counting theater-TV and $35,000 radio. Marciano got about $250,000 and Charles $125,000. Norris said he expects the rematch to draw "at least as much."

Marciano returned to Grossinger after the announcement and expects to start training right away. He will be back Tuesday for the official signing.

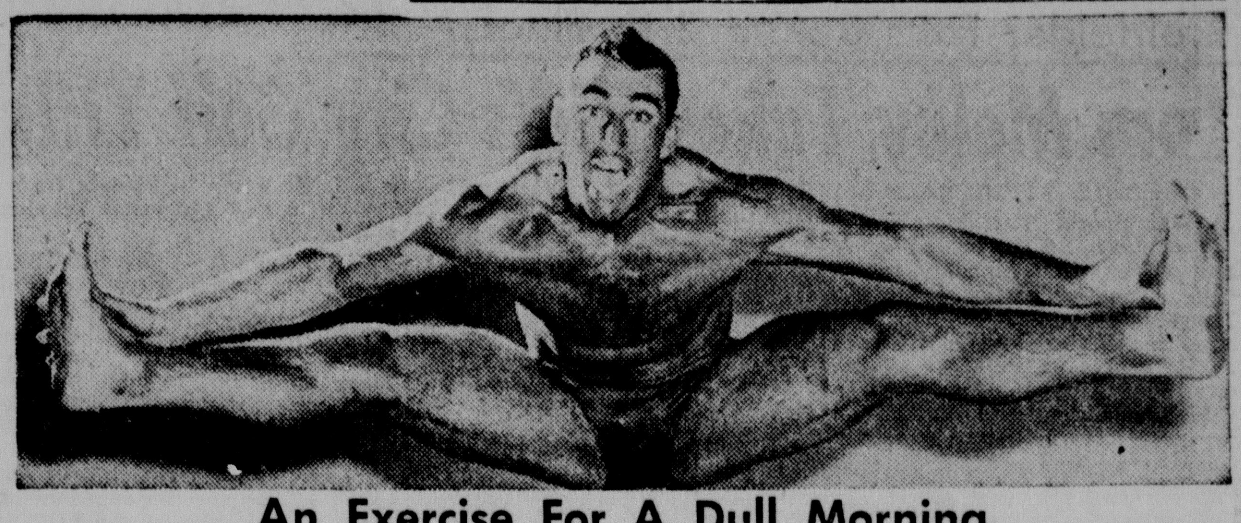
Charles and his managers were not present when Norris made the match. Tom Tannas, the ex-champ's co-manager, had agreed to terms previously.

Charles, the first man to get a third chance to win back the big title, is due to arrive Monday. He probably will train in the Catskills at Monticello, N. Y. where he worked before the first fight.

Both fighters came out of the first bout a little the worse for wear. Charles' right eye was blood shot and half closed and his left cheekbone was lumpy and lopsided. He thought he won the fight and challenged the champ to another bout "the sooner the better."

Blood streamed from a cut over Marciano's left eye from the fourth round on. It was an old cut first opened by a butt in his bout with Johnny Shkor in 1950. Three hours after the fight, Dr. Nardiello cut out the scare tissue and sewed up the cut at St. Clare's Hospital.

There were no knockdowns although Charles took brutal punishment, especially in the 15th round.



An Exercise For A Dull Morning

INDIANS LOSE, YANKS WIN

Three-Hitter By Raschi Blanks Skidding Giants

Giant Tamer

Vic Raschi

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jackie Jensen drove in six runs with two homers and a single Thursday as Boston's Red Sox thumped the league-leading Cleveland Indians, 10-2.

The loss, coupled with New York's victory over Chicago, cut the Tribe's lead to 1½ games.

Ted Williams drove in the first two Sox runs with a first inning homer.

Jensen, next man up collected his 15th round tripper then.

His 16th came in the sixth after Jim Piersall singled and Williams walked.

Jensen accounted for his other two runs in the second, hitting safely after Piersall singled, Billy Goodman doubled and Williams was walked to fill the bases.

Feller Shelled

Bob Feller, after his ninth victory, was driven from the mound by that outbreak. It was the aging fireball pitcher's second loss.

Southpaw Leo Kiely went all the way for the Red Sox, posting his fifth victory against six defeats as Boston won its second victory in 17 games with the Tribe. Kiely allowed seven hits, including an eighth-inning homer by Bob Avila.

Cleveland's other run was in the fifth when Al Smith tripled after Sam Dente had walked.

The other two Boston runs came in the seventh and eighth.

Billy Consolo singled, advanced on Kiely's sacrifice and scored on a single by Piersall in the seventh. In the eighth, Ted Lepcio and Consolo doubled.

Indians Hurl Five

The Red Sox batted their way past five Cleveland pitchers as they won the last of a three-game series.

It was the third time this season that as many as 10 runs have been scored against the Indians. The New York Yankees scored 11 against them twice, in successive games.

Cards Pound Five Hurlers

NEW YORK (AP) — Vic Raschi, flashing the form of his great New York Yankee days, stopped the New York Giants cold Thursday and the St. Louis Cardinals staged a 14-hit assault on five pitchers for an 8-0 rout. The 35-year-old righthander permitted only three hits for his third-straight victory over the Giants and his second shutout.

Ray Jablonski, Rip Repulski and Bill Sarni paced the Cardinals' attack that shelled starter and loser Don Liddle from the mound in the fifth inning and continued against Alan Worthington, Al Corwin, Paul Giel and Alex Konikowski in that order.

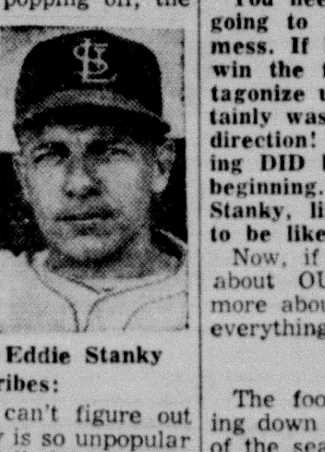
A Card Fan Talks To Mister Stanky

Eddie Stanky, the fire-eating competitor, is on fire himself in St. Louis and its invirons.

As his Cardinals keep foundering and Eddie keeps popping off, the fans have even started rooting for the opposition.



Eddie Stanky

J. Roy Stockton, who knows more about the Cards than any scribe we know, was recent recipient of a letter that gave the fans' side, thus:

Dear Sports Scribes:

So you fellows can't figure out why Eddie Stanky is so unpopular with the fans. Well, let me stick in my two cents.

Stanky tried to take the Cardinals away from the fans. Let's go back to the beginning. He began to get unpopular the very first season simply by taking the fans' favorites out of the lineup just so he could bat. Marion could get away with this, because he was a Cardinal (Stanky wasn't). Stanky's attitude from the start was, "Thus is MY ball club, the blazes with you!" Fans, you know, like to think "this is OUR ball club." And unless this feeling is nourished, you can't fill up the seats in the stadium.

The next thing we knew, Terry Moore was fired,. And again, we're told in no uncertain terms, "This is MY ball club!" How do you think this answer sits with the fans?

The next thing we knew, Enos Slaughter was gone. I say he was gone because he certainly wasn't traded. He was just gotten rid of. And again, we're told, if not in words, then certainly in attitude, "This is MY ball club." So the booing began. Then Stanky insisted this booing didn't bother him. Saying this only served to further infuriate the fans, because it was the only way they could get at him.

Finally, last Sunday, the fans got tired of this tug-of-war with Stanky over OUR ball club. They just up and let go of their end of the rope "They told him, in effect, "Okay, Eddie, you win. the ball club is yours. Take it. We'll root for the enemy."

Then when Stanky suddenly realized he had the Cardinals all to himself, he decided that wasn't the way he wanted it. How were the fans to know that wasn't the way he wanted it? Hasn't he been drumming at us for two and a half seasons that WAS the way he wanted it?

Stanky isn't being booed because the Cards are in the second division. Nobody doubts that he wants to win. Nobody doubts he has the makings of a fine manager. Nobody doubts that the players themselves have a good deal of respect for him. But dog-gone it, Stanky hasn't tried to be one of us. One can't help wondering if Stanky wants a pennant for St. Louis or if he wants a pennant just to put Stanky on top of the heap.

You needn't worry if Stanky is going to get himself out of this mess. If he is as determined to win the fans as he was to antagonize us, he will win. He certainly was successful in the other direction! Saying that the booing DID bother him was a good beginning. It's nice to know that Stanky, like everyone else, likes to be liked.

Now, if the fans can just hear about OUR ball club, and no more about MY ball club, I think everything will work out.

Cardinal Fan

The football season is breathing down our backs. A sure sign of the season is the first football magazine on the stands, Street and Smith's "Football" Yearbook.

Col. Bob Busby has this to say about Nebraska's Cornhuskers:

"Search for a quarterback successor to John Bordogna occupied most of the Spring session at Nebraska.

"Coach Bill Glassford weathered an out in the open uprising over things athletic in Cornhuskerland. There followed much speculation as to whether the affair will have a healthy or a deterrent effect.

"On the basis of Spring practice there is every reason to believe that things are looking up. There was a turnout of about 75 athletes and general harmony had returned.

"The quarterback probably will come from a list that includes Rex Fischer, Don Erway, Charles Smith, Don Margheim, Gordon Englert and Dan Brown. Two of the leading contenders are Smith, a 6-2, 185-pounder who is a right-handed passer and Margheim, who stands 6 feet and weighs 190.

"Glassford will build around a seasoned crew of halfbacks, two experienced guards and a center Nine lettermen return including Bob Smith, halfback and leading groundgainer of the team; Jon McWilliams and Dennis Korinek; Andy Loehr, end; Bob Wagner and Don Glantz, guards, and Bob Oberlin, center.

"Experienced hands who will help the cause are Charles Bryant, guard, and Max Kitzelman, tackle.

"Tom Harper, a freshman in 1949, has returned from service and is one of the guard candidates. (Harper quit during spring drills.)

Sox Blanked, Yanks Gain

CHICAGO (AP) — Lefty Whitey Ford throttled the slipping Chicago White Sox on four scattered hits Thursday and the New York Yankees backed him with a 13-hit barrage and three big innings for a 10-0 whitewash. The decision gave the New Yorkers the series 2-1, and brought them 1½ games away from league-leading Indians, beaten 10-2 at Cleveland.

Ford, the first Yankee pitcher to go the route in six games, collected his 10th triumph against six setbacks. He boosted his season record over the white sox to 3-1 in blanking them for the second time.

Stobbs Pitches Senators' Win

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Washington Senators chased Baltimore's rookie bonus lefthander Bill O'Dell off the mound in the initial inning of his first major league game Thursday then coasted to a 6-0 triumph behind Chuck Stobb's five-hit pitching.

The 25-year-old Senator southpaw chalked up his fourth straight victory, bringing his won-loss mark all even at 6-6 for the season. Beaten twice before by Baltimore, today Stobbs hobbled the Orioles completely on five singles. No Oriole runner got beyond second base.

Pueblo Edges Chiefs, 5-4

Homer In 10th Gives Dodgers Sweep; Lincoln Now Sixth

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Frank Jeffers' leadoff homerun in the last of the 10th gave Pueblo a 5-4 Western League victory over the Lincoln Chiefs Thursday night and a sweep of the three-game series, all by the same score.

Two home runs by Willie Davis were the big blows for the Dodgers until Jeffers hit his game-winning four bagger.

Davis opened Pueblo scoring with his 14th homerun of the season in the fourth inning and pulled Pueblo even with another solo blast in the eighth.

The Dodgers got their other two runs in the sixth on back-to-back doubles by Jim Gentile and Jeffers, and a single by George Anderson.

Lincoln picked up single runs in the first and second and got a pair in the fifth, all off Pueblo starter Glenn McMinn. In the first, a single by Mel Rue, an infield out, a walk and a single by Tom Neill produced a tally. In the second, Manager Whitey Wietelmann singled and came home on Billy Smith's double.

The Chiefs used their last three hits to get their last two runs in the fifth. These were successive singles by Johnny Jones, Glenn McQuillen and Neill.

The victory moved Pueblo into fifth place in the league and Lincoln to sixth.

Lincoln will toss Frank Stewart (2-2) at Colorado Springs tonight.

Plan To Save Athletics Flops

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia business and industry leaders have turned a cold shoulder to a drive to keep the Philadelphia Athletics in Philadelphia.

A report not yet released by the mayor's office was turned over to the city's chief executive informing him that efforts to stimulate attendance at A's games have encountered apathy and in some instances outright resistance from the public as well as from business leaders.

Letters were sent to 125 leading citizens asking them to head up subsidiary groups for the purpose of selling tickets to A's games. Not one favorable reply was received, the report said.

Unknown Tops KC Open Stars

KANSAS CITY, (AP) — Mike Krak shot a hole in one on the 18th green and an 8-under-par 65 for the first round lead in the $20,000 Kansas City Open golf tournament Thursday.

The Louisville, Ky., pro toured the 6,625-yard par 73 Blue Hills Country Club course in 34-31. He holed the 210-yard 18th with a two iron shot that caught the edge of the green and sneaked about 45 feet before dipping into the cup.

Krak is an unknown on the pro trail. He was born in Czechoslovakia 26 years ago and is a graduate of the University of West Virginia.

A stroke off the lead at 66 were Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., Earl Stewart Jr. of Dallas, and Ed "Porky" Oliver, the defending champion from Lemont, Ill.

Rocca Tops Mat Card Tonight

South American Meets Neilson

Argentina Rocco, the acrobatic pride of South America, meets Art Neilson, one of television's top villians, in the last summer wrestle card tonight in front of the fairgrounds outdoor grandstand.

Rocca has been promised a future shot at Vern Gagne's United States title if he can get by the rough Neilson.

Neilson, after a previous loss to Rocca on a close decision, has told Promoter Adam Krieger that he "intends to show up this showboat type of wrestler."

"I told Neilson that he must stay within the rules set up by the Nebraska State Athletic Commission," Krieger answered. "To see that he does not get out of line, Commissioner Charles Moon, will be on hand."

Ringside seats have been moved closer to the ring than they were during the recent Gagne-McClarity match. In event of rain, the matches will be staged in the indoor 4-H arena at the fairgrounds.

Mike DiBiase, the ex-Husker footballer, meets strongboy Harry Lewis, and Reggie Lisowski goes against Larry Hamilton in the other bouts.

Krieger said that his choice of referees would not be anonnuced until the first bout opens 8:30 p.m.

Reds Whip Phils, Valentine Stars

Breitfelder Falls 3 And 2 In Final Match

Tom Melby Takes Kid's City Golf Title

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

Tom Melby, a 15-year-old caddy and player at the Lincoln Country Club, won the Junior City Golf Tournament on a 3-2 victory over a golfing friend, Phil Breitfelder, in the finals at Pioneers Thursday.

Melby, a graduate of Blessed Sacrament grade school and a freshman at Cathedral High in September, was never behind in the championship match against Breitfelder, a St. Patrick's grade school grad who will be a classmate of the champion at Cathedral this fall.

Melby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Melby of 2425 Sewell. He came to Lincoln from Boston in 1950 and began playing golf in 1951.

In clinching the title on the 16th green, he closed three days of golfing in which he trailed his opponents only once. That was in his opening match when he came from behind and battled Bud Williamson to the 20th hole where he defeated the son of the LCC pro.

It was his first victory over young Williamson, an opponent of many golfing days at the LCC.

Breitfelder also has played Melby in practice matches at the Country Club and has defeated the champion several times.

In other title matches Thursday Jon Van Bloom won the First flight over Bill Arledge, 6-4; Bob Lane went past Steve Miller in the Second flight, 5-4; and Jere Carey won the Third flight on the 18th green in a match with Tom Bainbridge. The count was 1-up.

Tom Dunovan took the Fourth flight finals against Tom Ogden, 4-2, and Bob Power won a 1-up match and the Fifth flight against Herb Probasco.

Lincoln's Youngest Champion

Power Hitters Feature Midgets

Power hitters had their day in the Midget Baseball League in Lincoln Thursday.

Pitcher Bill Honor of Peter Pan B belted a triple and single and knocked in six runs in his team's 8-3 triumph over College View.

Mike Drake of Peter Pan A homered in the first with two on to give his club a fast start in its 10-4 win over the Viewmen's A team.

Larry Spadt of Prescott A clouted two home runs which carried to the center field fence in his team's triumph over Muny A, and Catcher George Mechlin of Prescott B homered and tripled against Muny B.

Legion Game Off

OGALLALA (AP)—The American Legion Junior Baseball Class A area tourney championship game scheduled for Thursday night between North Platte and McCook was postponed to Friday night because of rain.

Hal Jeffcoat Halts Bums

BROOKLYN (AP)—Brooklyn's belated ninth inning rally fell one run short Thursday as relief pitcher Hal Jeffcoat came in to dispose of pinch hitter George Shuba for the final out to leave the bases loaded and preserve the Chicago's Cubs' 6-5 victory.

The Dodgers, encouraged by the posting of the final result on the scoreboard showing that St. Louis had just beaten New York, tried desperately to pull the game out of the fire in the ninth. Instead the defeat snapped the Dodgers' five-game winning streak and prevented them from gaining on the Giants whose lead remained at two games.

Hoeft Finally Goes Distance

DETROIT (AP)—Southpaw Billy Hoeft, who failed nine straight times to win a game at home, busted that jinx Thursday and pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 7-3 victory over the Philadelphia A's in the second game of a doubleheader.

The Tigers also captured the opener 4-2 behind George Zuverink, and the sweep moved them into fourth place, two percentage points ahead of the Washington Senators.

Hoeft's victory was only his fifth of the season, compared to 11 losses. Before the game, the 22-year-old lefthander sat in the dugout reading a book entitled "How To Pitch."

Hoeft, who permitted eight hits in all, was behind 3-0 going into the bottom of the third. Philadelphia's lead was quickly erased when Bob Nieman hit a 420-foot bases-loaded home run, following a walk to Hoeft and singles by Harvey Kuenn and Bill Tuttle.

Leo, Lockman Feud Before Home Fans

NEW YORK (INS)—Tempers flared on the bench of the slumping New York Giants Thursday and there was an argument between Manager Leo Durocher and First Baseman Whitey Lockman.

Durocher angrily took Lockman out of the game when Whitey grounded to Joe Cunningham at first for the last out of the fifth inning as the Cardinals were beating the Giants, 8 to 0.

Durocher apparently bawled Lockman out for not running out his grounder. Lockman flared back at Leo and a towel was flung on the steps of the dugout.

St. Louis manager Ed Stanky yelled across the diamond:

"Tell him off, Whitey."

Durocher shifted Bob Hoffman from second to first and Lockmans' batting streak ended at 15 straight games.

Maxwell Leads Army Golf Tournament

WASHINGTON (AP)—Billy Maxwell, the 1951 National Amateur champ, shot his second-straight two-under-par 70 Thursday to jump into a three-stroke lead at the three-quarter mark of the All-Army golf tournament.

Maxwell's hot round gave him a 54 hole total of 211, good for a three-stroke margin over John Weaver of Houston, Tex., whose par 72 gave him a total of 214 for three days' play over the 7,028-yard Woodmont Country Club course.

Busso Kayos Foe

BROOKLYN (AP)—Johnny Busso (139½), New York, dropped Fredrico Escalera (139), New York, for a count of eight in the second round and went on to score a technical knockout in 2:05 of the fifth of the scheduled eight-round main event at Fort Hamilton Arena Thursday night.

Schlitz
If you like beer you'll love Schlitz

SCHLITZ POURS FROM THE BOTTLE WITH A HAPPY LITTLE CHUCKLE...shimmers and dances with life as it fills your glass. And as you lift that glass, your taste gets a lift in enjoyment, too...a flavor never matched by any other beer. In Schlitz you taste the richness of time, the essence of care, the perfection of skill. And through every glass runs the delicate fragrance and flavor of the hops...just the kiss of the hops ...not a trace of harsh bitterness.

Breitfelder Falls 3 And 2 In Final Match

Tom Melby Takes Kid's City Golf Title

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

Tom Melby, a 15-year-old caddy and player at the Lincoln Country Club, won the Junior City Golf Tournament on a 3-2 victory over a golfing friend, Phil Breitfelder, in the finals at Pioneers Thursday.

Melby, a graduate of Blessed Sacrament grade school and a freshman at Cathedral High in September, was never behind in the championship match against Breitfelder, a St. Patrick's grade school grad who will be a classmate of the champion at Cathedral this fall.

Melby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Melby of 2425 Sewell. He came to Lincoln from Boston in 1950 and began playing golf in 1951.

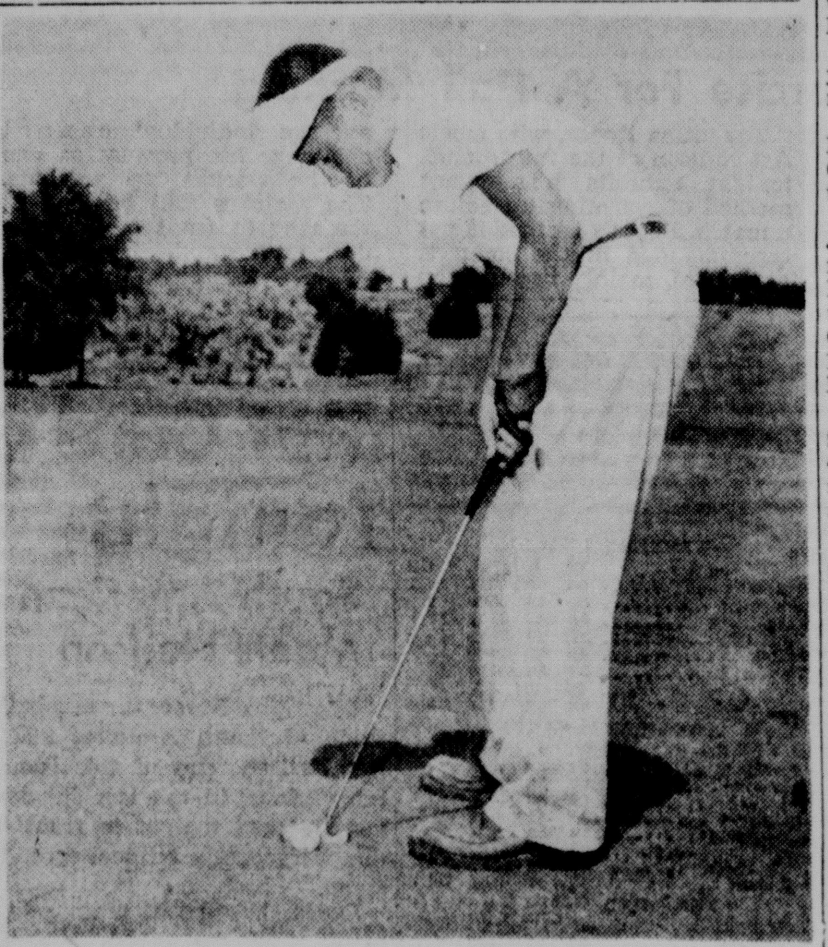
In clinching the title on the 16th green, he closed three days of golfing in which he trailed his opponents only once. That was in his opening match when he came from behind and battled Bud Williamson to the 20th hole where he defeated the son of the LCC pro.

It was his first victory over young Williamson, an opponent of many golfing days at the LCC.

Breitfelder also has played Melby in practice matches at the Country Club and has defeated the champion several times.

In other title matches Thursday Jon Van Bloom won the First flight over Bill Arledge, 6-4; Bob Lane went past Steve Miller in the Second flight, 5-4; and Jere Carey won the Third flight on the 18th green in a match with Tom Bainbridge. The count was 1-up.

Tom Dunovan took the Fourth flight finals against Tom Ogden, 4-2, and Bob Power won a 1-up match and the Fifth flight against Herb Probasco.



Lincoln's Youngest Champion

Tom Melby, nine strokes behind the medalist during the qualifying round of the City Junior Golf Tournament, won the championship Thursday in a close match against Phil Breitfelder. He has been playing about two-and-one-half years. (Star Photo.)

Mike Drake of Peter Pan A homered in the first with two on to give his club a fast start in its 10-4 win over the Viewmen's A team.

Larry Spadt of Prescott A clouted two home runs which carried to the center field fence in his team's triumph over Muny A, and Catcher George Mechlin of Prescott B homered and tripled against Muny B.

Hal Jeffcoat Halts Bums

BROOKLYN (AP)—Brooklyn's belated ninth inning rally fell one run short Thursday as relief pitcher Hal Jeffcoat came in to dispose of pinch hitter George Shuba for the final out to leave the bases loaded and preserve the Chicago's Cubs' 6-5 victory.

The Dodgers, encouraged by the posting of the final result on the scoreboard showing that St. Louis had just beaten New York, tried desperately to pull the game out of the fire in the ninth. Instead the defeat snapped the Dodgers' five-game winning streak and prevented them from gaining on the Giants whose lead remained at two games.

Hoeft Finally Goes Distance

DETROIT (AP)—Southpaw Billy Hoeft, who failed nine straight times to win a game at home, busted that jinx Thursday and pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 7-3 victory over the Philadelphia A's in the second game of a double-header.

The Tigers also captured the opener 4-2 behind George Zuverink, and the sweep moved them into fourth place, two percentage points ahead of the Washington Senators.

Hoeft's victory was only his fifth of the season, compared to 11 losses. Before the game, the 22-year-old lefthander sat in the dugout reading a book entitled "How To Pitch."

Hoeft, who permitted eight hits in all, was behind 3-0 going into the bottom of the third. Philadelphia's lead was quickly erased when Bob Nieman hit a 420-foot bases-loaded home run, following a walk to Hoeft and singles by Harvey Kuenn and Bill Tuttle.

Leo, Lockman Feud Before Home Fans

NEW YORK (INS)—Tempers flared on the bench of the slumping New York Giants Thursday and there was an argument between Manager Leo Durocher and First Baseman Whitey Lockman.

Durocher angrily took Lockman out of the game when Whitey grounded to Joe Cunningham at first for the last out of the fifth inning as the Cardinals were beating the Giants, 8 to 0.

Durocher apparently bawled Lockman out for not running out his grounder. Lockman flared back at Leo and a towel was flung on the steps of the dugout.

St. Louis manager Ed Stanky yelled across the diamond:

"Tell him off, Whitey."

Durocher shifted Bob Hoffman from second to first and Lockmans' batting streak ended at 15 straight games.

Maxwell Leads Army Golf Tournament

WASHINGTON (AP)—Billy Maxwell, the 1951 National Amateur champ, shot his second-straight two-under-par 70 Thursday to jump into a three-stroke lead at the three-quarter mark of the All-Army golf tournament.

Maxwell's hot round gave him a 54 hole total of 211, good for a three-stroke margin over John Weaver of Houston, Tex., whose par 72 gave him a total of 214 for three days' play over the 7,028-yard Woodmont Country Club course.

Busso Kayos Foe

BROOKLYN (AP)—Johnny Busso (139½), New York, dropped Fredrico Escalera (139), New York, for a count of eight in the second round and went on to score a technical knockout in 2:05 of the fifth of the scheduled eight-round main event at Fort Hamilton Arena Thursday night.

Tax Revision Bill Affects Every Taxpayer In U.S.

. . . Major Provisions Explained

WASHINGTON (INS) — The big tax revision bill now headed for President Eisenhower's signature into law affects every taxpayer in the country.

Here is an explanation of some of the major provisions:

Corporation dividends — Corporation income now is taxed twice, once when corporations pay their income taxes and again when stockholders pay taxes on their shares of the corporation income in the form of dividends.

The bill will exempt the first $50 of dividend income received after July 31 from federal taxes. In addition, stockholders can subtract 4 per cent of the remaining dividend income from their final tax bill.

For instance, a single person making $6,000 a year, of which $1,000 is from stock dividends, normally would pay a tax of $931. The 4 per cent credit, after subtracting the first $50 in dividend income, would be $38, so his new tax bill would be $893.

Medical deductions — If you itemize deductions on your tax return rather than take the standard 10 per cent deduction, you can subtract from your income all medical and dental expenses greater than 5 per cent of your income. The maximum deduction allowed now is $5,000 on a joint return or $2,500 on a single return.

The bill will allow deduction of all expenses above 3 per cent of your income. The limitation is raised to $10,000 on a joint return and $5,000 on a single return.

Under present law, you can count all of your drugs and medicines under medical expenses in figuring deductions. However, the bill sets a ceiling on 1 per cent of total income for these items.

In other words, if you make $4,000 a year and your drug and medicine bill is $45, you can count only five dollars of that in figuring your total medical expenses.

Tax Return Filing Dates — Everyone will have an extra month to pay his taxes. For most, this means until April 15.

Persons filing estimates of their income every three months will also have until April 15 to file their first estimate and make their first installment payment.

The second and third installments will still be due on June 15 and Sept. 15. But the final date, except for farmers, will be moved from Jan. 15 to Jan. 31.

Retirement Income — Under present law, retired persons don't have to pay taxes on social security benefits and certain other federal retirement payments.

The bill will exempt all kinds of retirement income. The maximum limit is $1,200. A person can earn up to $900 a year and still not pay taxes on the first $1,200 in income received from pension plans, annuities, rents or dividends.

However, for each dollar earned above $900, one dollar must be subtracted from the maximum allowed exemption, or from $1,200.

In other words, a person getting $1,000 in wages and $1,400 from dividends and an annuity must pay taxes on $1,300 —that is, on all of his wages and $300 of his retirement income.

Child-Care Costs — A working woman or widower will be able to deduct up to $600 in expenses paid to a person for taking care of a child under 12 years of age or of any dependent who is mentally or physically incapable of caring for himself.

If a deduction is claimed by a working wife whose husband is also employed, she must file a joint return. Deductions on combined income begin at $4,500.

In other words, if a couple made more than $5,100 a year, no benefit could be claimed. If they made $4,800, a $300 deduction would be allowed.

Spending Speedup Is Under Way

Step Taken To Give 'Economy A Nudge'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spending speedup to "give the economy a little nudge" has been set in motion by the Eisenhower administration, Secretary of Commerce Weeks disclosed Thursday. It includes a 385-million-dollar shipbuilding program, which Weeks called a peacetime record.

He told a news conference of the adoption of "a conscious government policy to speed up procurement", without boosting total budget outlays.

The commerce secretary said the idea of the "little nudge" is to offset the deflationary effect of the decline in defense expenditures, without being inconsistent with the administration's basic policies of economy and stable money.

No Overall Increase

Appropriations will be spent sooner than they otherwise would be, he said, but total expenditures over the long run will not be increased.

The effort, he said, embraces the shipbuilding program, accelerated aid for highway and airport construction, and special consideration for depressed industries, including soft coal and anthracite, textiles and metals mining.

Weeks announced a $65,800,000, government - subsidized expansion program for the American President Lines, as a start toward rejuvenating the merchant fleet and reviving U.S. shipyards — which, Weeks said, have not received a private shipbuilding order this year.

The President Lines, he said, will build two new passenger-cargo ships of "the most advanced design," will buy and rebuild four of the maritime administration's fast "Mariner" cargo vessels, and will buy two luxury liners which it now operates in the Pacific under charter, the government-owned President Cleveland and President Wilson.

Pen Riot Ended

Tax Revision Bill Affects Every Taxpayer In U.S.

. . . Major Provisions Explained

WASHINGTON (INS) — The big tax revision bill now headed for President Eisenhower's signature into law affects every taxpayer in the country.

Here is an explanation of some of the major provisions:

Corporation dividends — Corporation income now is taxed twice, once when corporations pay their income taxes and again when stockholders pay taxes on their shares of the corporation income in the form of dividends.

The bill will exempt the first $50 of dividend income received after July 31 from federal taxes. In addition, stockholders can subtract 4 per cent of the remaining dividend income from their final tax bill.

For instance, a single person making $6,000 a year, of which $1,000 is from stock dividends, normally would pay a tax of $931. The 4 per cent credit, after subtracting the first $50 in dividend income, would be $38, so his new tax bill would be $893.

Medical deductions — If you itemize deductions on your tax return rather than take the standard 10 per cent deduction, you can subtract from your income all medical and dental expenses greater than 5 per cent of your income. The maximum deduction allowed now is $5,000 on a joint return or $2,500 on a single return.

The bill will allow deduction of all expenses above 3 per cent of your income. The limitation is raised to $10,000 on a joint return and $5,000 on a single return.

Under present law, you can count all of your drugs and medicines under medical expenses in figuring deductions. However, the bill sets a ceiling on 1 per cent of total income for these items.

In other words, if you make $4,000 a year and your drug and medicine bill is $45, you can count only five dollars of that in figuring your total medical expenses.

Tax Return Filing Dates — Everyone will have an extra month to pay his taxes. For most, this means until April 15.

Persons filing estimates of their income every three months will also have until April 15 to file their first estimate and make their first installment payment.

The second and third installments will still be due on June 15 and Sept. 15. But the final date, except for farmers, will be moved from Jan. 15 to Jan. 31.

Retirement Income — Under present law, retired persons don't have to pay taxes on social security benefits and certain other federal retirement payments.

The bill will exempt all kinds of retirement income. The maximum limit is $1,200. A person can earn up to $900 a year and still not pay taxes on the first $1,200 in income received from pension plans, annuities, rents or dividends.

However, for each dollar earned above $900, one dollar must be subtracted from the maximum allowed exemption, or from $1,200.

In other words, a person getting $1,000 in wages and $1,400 from dividends and an annuity must pay taxes on $1,300 —that is, on all of his wages and $300 of his retirement income.

Child-Care Costs — A working woman or widower will be able to deduct up to $600 in expenses paid to a person for taking care of a child under 12 years of age or of any dependent who is mentally or physically incapable of caring for himself.

If a deduction is claimed by a working wife whose husband is also employed, she must file a joint return. Deductions on combined income begin at $4,500.

In other words, if a couple made more than $5,100 a year, no benefit could be claimed. If they made $4,800, a $300 deduction would be allowed.

Spending Speedup Is Under Way

Step Taken To Give 'Economy A Nudge'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spending speedup to "give the economy a little nudge" has been set in motion by the Eisenhower administration, Secretary of Commerce Weeks disclosed Thursday. It includes a 385-million-dollar shipbuilding program, which Weeks called a peacetime record.

He told a news conference of the adoption of "a conscious government policy to speed up procurement", without boosting total budget outlays.

The commerce secretary said the idea of the "little nudge" is to offset the deflationary effect of the decline in defense expenditures, without being inconsistent with the administration's basic policies of economy and stable money.

No Overall Increase

Appropriations will be spent sooner than they otherwise would be, he said, but total expenditures over the long run will not be increased.

The effort, he said, embraces the shipbuilding program, accelerated aid for highway and airport construction, and special consideration for depressed industries, including soft coal and anthracite, textiles and metals mining.

Weeks announced a $65,800,000, government - subsidized expansion program for the American President Lines, as a start toward rejuvenating the merchant fleet and reviving U.S. shipyards — which, Weeks said, have not received a private shipbuilding order this year.

The President Lines, he said, will build two new passenger-cargo ships of "the most advanced design," will buy and rebuild four of the maritime administration's fast "Mariner" cargo vessels, and will buy two luxury liners which it now operates in the Pacific under charter, the government-owned President Cleveland and President Wilson.

Pen Riot Ended

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) —Advices Thursday from San Miguel, capital of Tucuman Province in northern Argentina, said a prison riot there had been quelled with tear gas. Some of the prison's 425 prisoners were reported injured slightly.

Air Base Housing Authorization OKd

No Cutback Planned Here

There are no planned cutbacks in Lincoln home construction in the face of federal legislation authorizing the armed services to build 13,583 housing units at military bases in the United States and overseas, Ervin Peterson, president of the Lincoln Home Builders Association, said

The House Thursday passed by voice vote the measure which includes 443 housing units for the Lincoln Air Force Base at a cost of $6,397,300.

Peterson said it is expected that it will take from one to two more years before the military homes are ready to be built By that time, he added, "we expect to have done such a good job of building that the houses won't be needed here." In that event the funds might be used to build military housing units elsewhere in Peterson's opinion.

Senate Next

The measure, which provides that 60 per cent of the units are to be for use of families of enlisted men, now goes to the Senate.

It authorizes the Defense Department to undertake the $175,000,000 building program as "a modest start toward alleviating the critical shortage of housing" for military personnel, according to a Washington Associated Press dispatch A similar bill was approved Thursday by the Senate Armed Services Committee.

The House bill follows recommendations of its Armed Services Committee, with one exception. The House adopted an amendment by Rep. Phillips (R-Calif) to eliminate 30 housing units planned for the Dugway Proving Ground in Utah at a cost of $499,000

It refused to delete 175 units for the Navy at Port Lyautey, French Morocco, and declined to add 25 units for the Topeka, Kan. Air Force Base.

The requirement that at least 60 per cent of the new housing be provided for enlisted personnel was added to the bill in an amendment sponsored by Rep. O'Hara (R-Minn).

Actual funds for construction of the new units must be provided in separate legislation.

The housing is to be built by private builders under Army, Navy or Air Force contracts, with the armed services owning the housing. Contracts will be awarded on competitive bids.

14 Israelis Die As Plane Hits Crowd

The crash occurred during commemorative rites for World War II Jewish parachutists at the Maagan settlement on the south shore of Lake Tiberias in Galilee

Sharett and his wife returned here late Thursday and told reporters they were less than 10 meters from the spot when the plane fell.

The Communications Ministry said the Israel Aviation Club, whose Piper Cub gave the acrobatics display, had not applied for the license required for such flights It said an inquiry would begin at once

CHERRY POINT, N C — "Okay, sarge, come on along with us"

Sgt G C Robeson of the Lincoln Marine Air Reserve squadron, with his camera aimed at the Marine Corsairs, was caught unaware by a Marine Corps "Dick Tracy" standing behind him

"But, lieutenant, this is my job," Sgt Robeson fumed as the officer began marching him away.

"These are our planes and the CO wants a shot of them . . . and they aren't classified . . . are they?" he asked

"I don't mind the Corsairs," the security officer said, "but we can't take any chances with those night fighters over there. You can explain to the Provost Marshal."

So Sgt. Robeson did explain that he was the photographer for the Lincoln detachment taking part in "Operation Alert" at Cherry Point

The two-week summer training period is the largest Marine Air maneuver since the end of Korean hostilities

Security measures are necessarily strict at Cherry Point, the world's largest Marine air station.

Many of the most recent Marine aviation developments and deadliest fighter planes are on the field, so unauthorized personnel must be careful not to break security regulations

But after he was issued a photographer's pass, Sgt Robeson went right back to taking pictures—on the safe side

Juvenile Crime Group Hits 'Inadequate' Detention Home

The city's Juvenile Crime Prevention Committee has cited an "inadequate Detention Home" and the "mishandling of children by inadequately trained personnel" in its initial report suggesting a complete survey in October of Lincoln facilities for handling juveniles

"The committee," said the report from Dr. Frank A Court, chairman, "has been concerned with the present facilities for recreation, both from the city and private agency viewpoint, the juvenile court and a city wide curfew.

"A study of the need for co-operation between the government and social agencies is also being made Also, recommendations will be forthcoming as to qualifications for workers with youth and a study of our present salary scale and personnel to see if it is adequate."

The committee reported it has been co-operating with the Omaha Committee in a study of existing state laws in regard to the handling of juveniles

Commenting on the report, Acting Mayor Mrs Fern Hubbard Orme, who was responsible for organization of the committee, stated "I believe the situation regarding juveniles in Lincoln is one of the priority problems at this time. At no time have I been contacted by anyone who has been adverse to the study that has been made up to this time."

Red China Ignores Protests

American Objections Treated With Contempt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Red China has contemptuously turned down American protests against Communist fighter plane attacks on British and American aircraft over the South China Sea.

The Reds refused even to consider the protests.

The State Department disclosed Thursday the rejection had occurred Wednesday at Peiping. It announced that the matter "will not be permitted to rest there" but did not say what new steps might be taken.

No Assurances

Two salient points emerged from the situation:

1 The rejection means that the Chinese Communists are refusing to promise this country to punish those persons responsible for the China Sea attacks, or to give assurances there won't be more such incidents.

2 The State Department disclosed that Britain has sent a formal commendation for the rescue efforts of the U.S. Navy in connection with the shootings. American officials have viewed the Communist tactics, of being contemptuous toward America, and placatory toward Britain, as an effort to drive a wedge between them.

One possible course of new America action could be in the United Nations. There, the United States might use Red China's conduct in the whole affair as further and dramatic proof of the American argument that Communist China is unfit to be given a membership in the U.N.

Bears Out Ike

The latest turn of events appeared to bear out President Eisenhower's view at a news conference Wednesday that the Chinese Reds are trying to play the clashes in such a way as to divide the United States and Britain.

For, while Peiping refused to accept the American protests, it has apologized promptly to Britain for the destruction of the British plane involved.

Two American protests were delivered to the Chinese Foreign Office Wednesday by the ranking British diplomat there, Humphrey Trevelyan.

Despite American Lives

Here, the State Department related, is what happened:

Trevelyan told Chinese Vice Minister of Foreign Affairs Chang Han-fu, that he was instructed by his government to present the protest of the United States against what the United States called the "barbarous and lawless attack" of Chinese Communist fighter planes against an unarmed British airliner 30 miles south of Hainan Island last Friday. Three American citizens were lost.

Chang said that this was a matter between the Chinese Communist and British governments and was no concern of the United States. State Department press officer Henry Suydam emphasized that Chang took this line despite the fact that three American lives were lost.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

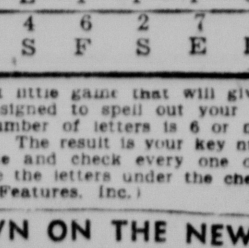
BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

(Distributed By International News Service)

This stack of polished stupidity said Churchill's crack about the war-war and jaw-jaw was an individual epidemic called jabbinosis.

☆ ☆ ☆



Bugs Baer

It is not contagious above a whisper in the reading room at the New York Library. There is no cure for it because everything you eat turns to conversation.

☆ ☆ ☆

Jabbinosis was a word we coined in order to get out to the Polo Grounds. Where the Brooklyns were playing footsies with infield grounders.

☆ ☆ ☆

The correct tag for the repetition of lingual acoustics is onamatomania. It means the reiteration of a word for fear of forgetting it. But there never was any danger of Winsome forgeting any of his words.

☆ ☆ ☆

So we're holding him to the recently published statistics that the time is not mellow for the Chinese Commies to be dealt a hand from the U.N. discard.

Up until the time he cracked wisely Winnie had been as coy as a dame with a new hair dye.

☆ ☆ ☆

Until Churchill blurbed for the back flap our Mr. Dulles has been running in circles like a kitten with a long tail. He was making more motions than a bear fighting bumble-bees.

☆ ☆ ☆

Trouble with our international diplomacy is we have been gimmicking Tibetan prayer wheels. The Lamas wouldn't stand for the double O.

☆ ☆ ☆

We don't even know that the grand vizer of Persia rates three less hoss-tails than the sultan. They are still very handy in fly-time.

☆ ☆ ☆

England's Oriental policy is pretty much like chop suey. It was invented in San Francisco by a man named Gallagher. Whose first name was Ah Sing.

☆ ☆ ☆

Winnie's statement takes Dulles off the hook like a three-inch trout.

☆ ☆ ☆

But English business men said it was a blow below the plimsoll mark. Tsau Chung-shu, the Commie look-out, admits it puts him right back in the visitors' gallery.

All Grains Firm After Mixed Day

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains closed firm on the Board of Trade after showing mixed trends from the start.

Soybeans and corn sold off quite sharply in early dealings. They remained below the previous close until about the last 10 minutes when short covering by floor traders found the market bare of offerings. Most contracts quickly went above the previous close.

Wheat was quite firm all day, acting better than it has on other days this week. Wheat appeared to have developed some technical strength after its slide of Wednesday and the day before.

Wheat closed 1½-2¼ higher, corn ⅝ lower to ⅝ higher, oats ¼-⅝ higher, rye 1½-2½ higher, soybeans 1¼ lower to 1 cent higher and lard 10 to 40 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Export business was a help to wheat. During the day West Germans took 1,400,000 bushels, half of it hard and half red. Export circles said the current buying by West Germany was expected to reach 3,700,000 bushels.

Steels Lead Climb For Stock Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market climbed up a little bit Thursday but not without some troubles along the way.

The steels, golds and aircrafts were leaders with frequent flurries of highly selective activity.

Just before the close Bethlehem Steel declared the usual dividend of $1.25 and reported a betterment in second quarter earnings. It closed up ⅝ at 77⅝, under its best.

Eugene G. Grace, the chairman, confirmed that Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet & Tube were discussing a merger.

Youngstown closed off ¼ at 52⅞. Both stocks had been unusually strong while merger rumors circulated.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 30 cents at a new high of $132.60, its third straight peak since Oct 22, 1929.

The industrial component was up 40 cents at $179.10, the utilities were up 30 cents at new high of $63.80, while the railroads slipped 10 cents.

Volume came to 2,710,0000 shares compared with 2,740,000 Wednesday.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP) — Utilities and industrials turned the corporate bond market upward Thursday. U S government securities fluctuated narrowly.

Railroads became irregular during the final hours after sparking the market upward during most of the session. High grade carriers came under selling pressures but some medium grade roads extended early gains.

Trading in the corporate list was selective and changes generally small. "Big Board" volume declined to $3,400,000 par value from $4,170,000 Wednesday.

Slow over the counter dealings produced few alterations in the Treasury list. But a new gain by the 30-year 3¼'s was enough to establish a new peak of 111½ bid.

State Tax Board Is 'Attempting Another Alibi,' Ritchie Says

By The Associated Press

William Ritchie of Omaha, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, said Thursday "the governor and other state officers on the State Board of Equalization are attempting another alibi."

In a statement, Ritchie declared:

"The special session of the Legislature failed to remove them from the firing line. The people still demand their removal because of the atrocious taxes they foisted upon the farmers and small home owners by the favors they gave the special interests and their excessive state expenditures.

"Now they hope to escape the voters wrath by reducing valuations just before election. This, however, will not solve the tax mess they have forced upon us. The mill levies will have to be raised to get the money to pay bills. Taxes will not be lowered by the so-called Republican crowd."

Beynon For End Of Foreign Aid

Lincoln Star Special

OXFORD, Neb. — America should discontinue its foreign aid programs, Ira D. Beynon told members of the Oxford Rotary Club Thursday noon.

Beynon, candidate for the Republican Congressional nomination in the First District, said that grants to European countries were intended to fill in the void created by destruction of war.

"However," he said, "under the Truman administration we started a program of free aid to many countries who were neutral during the war. We have given millions to Portugal, Ireland and Sweden. These countries traded with both sides and came out of the war with a profit."

Europe has made remarkable recoveries with American aid, he said. Beynon pointed out that industrial production in central Europe is about 140 per cent of what it was in 1938. Western Germany's commerce, he said, is 150 per cent of what it was in 1938.

"It is not that European countries do not have problems," he said. "Their troubles stem largely from over-population, inefficiency and even corruption in government. In France and Italy in particular, tax evasion is the usual practice and not the exception."

Red Plane Attack 'Cruel'–Hruska

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Rep. Roman Hruska of Omaha lashed out bitterly at what he described as a cruel and ruthless act on the part of Communist China in attacking the United States planes engaged in rescue operations off the China coast.

Hruska said the United States was fully justified in "fighting back" and downing two Chinese planes as it did because the Reds respect only force and nothing else.

This is a typical Communist strategy," Hruska declared. "While the Reds cry out to the world they are only seeking peace, they are sneaking around committing cold-blooded cruelty. And then they brazenly announce it was just an accident."

Hruska is the Republican candidate for the four-year Senate term created by the death of Sen. Hugh Butler.

Tariff Increase Pleases Curtis

By the Associated Press

Rep. Carl T. Curtis Thursday expressed "great satisfaction" over President Eisenhower's action in increasing duties on Swiss watches by 50 per cent over existing tariff rates.

Curtis, who is campaigning for the Republican nomination for the long-term Senatorial nomination, said he and other Republican members of the House Ways and Means Committee had petitioned the President to take this action to protect American industry sometime ago.

Curtis said he was particularly interested in the President's action because the Elgin Watch Co. in Lincoln employs 1,200 persons "and without tariff protection such plants might be forced to close and many workers made jobless."

He was campaigning Thursday in Saunders and Dodge Counties.

Honorable Peace Wanted By Martin

OMAHA (AP)—David Martin of Kearney, candidate for the Republican nomination for the U. S. Senate, long term, Thursday night called for a "peace with honor. A peace that cannot be bought."

Said Martin:

"I believe in a peace of the free and strong.

"A peace fought for in the Western Hemisphere or in the seas around it or the skies above it.

'A peace for free Americans and all people who believe in real freedom.

"A peace in which Congress preserves the delegated rights of the citizens.

"A peace of work and sweat and saving and the satisfaction that comes with it.

"A peace with the 'whip' that drove the money-changers out of the temple."

Violation Charged

TOKYO (Friday) (AP)—The Communists have accused the United States of shipping into South Korea 35 planes and large quantities of ammunition in violation of the armistice, Peiping radio said today.

Nebraska To Have 2,111 Primary Voting Precincts

Nebraska will have 2,111 voting precincts in the Aug. 10 primary election, compared with 2,075 in the last election, the secretary of state's office reported Thursday.

Douglas County's precinct total has jumped from 228 to 251.

Lancaster County's total has increased by one—to 131.

Two More Give Receipt Reports

Reports of campaign receipts by two more senatorial candidates were on file with the secretary of state Thursday.

Joseph V. Benesch of Omaha, who seeks the Democratic full-term nomination, has received campaign contributions of $316.

Mac Baldrige of Omaha, bidder for the republican nomination to the short-short term, reported receipts of $750, all from himself.

Several other senatorial candidates had filed their reports earlier.

Last Monday was the deadline for campaign committee treasurers to file a list of names of contributors of amounts $25 or higher.

Weaver Favors Fixed Supports

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP) — Phil Weaver of Falls City, First District Republican congressional candidate, said Thursday he favors fixed supports for farm products except under emergency conditions.

In an emergency, he said, he would support 100 per cent parity supports.

Weaver had been quoted as saying at an Adams County Republican picnic rally Wednesday night that he favored flexible supports.

'Business Expense' Tax Chislers Are Facing Crackdown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews reported Thursday the government is getting tougher with taxpayers who deduct such items as yachts and honeymoons as business expenes in figuring income taxes.

Andrews told a House Ways and Means subcommittee about recent unsuccessful efforts to evade taxes by charging to "business expense" a society debut, weddings, jewelry and even the funeral expense of a taxpayer's mother.

All Grains Firm After Mixed Day

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains closed firm on the Board of Trade after showing mixed trends from the start.

Soybeans and corn sold off quite sharply in early dealings. They remained below the previous close until about the last 10 minutes when short covering by floor traders found the market bare of offerings. Most contracts quickly went above the previous close.

Wheat was quite firm all day, acting better than it has on other days this week. Wheat appeared to have developed some technical strength after its slide of Wednesday and the day before.

Wheat closed 1½-2¼ higher, corn ⅛ lower to ⅝ higher, oats ½-¾ higher, rye 1¾-2⅛ higher, soybeans 1¼ lower to 1 cent higher and lard 10 to 40 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Export business was a help to wheat. During the day West Germany took 1,400,000 bushels, half of it hard and half red. Export circles said the current buying by West Germany was expected to reach 3,700,000 bushels.

Steels Lead Climb For Stock Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market climbed up a little bit Thursday but not without some troubles along the way.

The steels, golds and aircrafts were leaders with frequent flurries of highly selective activity.

Just before the close, Bethlehem Steel declared the usual dividend of $1.25 and reported a betterment in second quarter earnings. It closed up ⅝ at 77⅝, under its best.

Eugene G. Grace, the chairman, confirmed that Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet & Tube were discussing a merger.

Youngstown closed off ¼ at 52⅞. Both stocks had been unusually strong while merger rumors circulated.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 30 cents at a new high of $132.60, its third straight peak since Oct. 22, 1929.

The industrial component was up 40 cents at $179.40; the utilities were up 30 cents at new high of $63.80, while the railroads slipped 10 cents.

Volume came to 2,710.0000 shares compared with 2,740,000 Wednesday.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP) — Utilities and industrials turned the corporate bond market upward Thursday. U. S. government securities fluctuated narrowly.

Railroads became irrigular during the final hours after sparking the market upward during most of the session. High grade carriers came under selling pressures but some medium grade roads extended early gains.

Trading in the corporate list was selective and changes generally small. "Big Board" volume declined to $3,400,000 par value from $4,170,000 Wednesday.

Slow over the counter dealings produced few alterations in the Treasury list. But a new gain by the 30-year 3¼s was enough to establish a new peak of 111½ bid.

WITH THE CANDIDATES:

State Tax Board Is 'Attempting Another Alibi,' Ritchie Says

By The Associated Press

William Ritchie of Omaha, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, said Thursday "the governor and other state officers on the State Board of Equilization are attempting another alibi."

In a statement, Ritchie declared:

"The special session of the Legislature failed to remove them from the firing line. The people still demand their removal because of the atrocious taxes they foisted upon the farmers and small home owners by the favors they gave the special interests and their excessive state expenditures.

"Now they hope to escape the voters wrath by reducing valuations just before election. This, however, will not solve the tax mess they have forced upon us. The mill levies will have to be raised to get the money to pay bills. Taxes will not be lowered by the so-called Republican crowd."

Beynon For End Of Foreign Aid

Lincoln Star Special

OXFORD, Neb. — America should discontinue its foreign aid programs, Ira D. Beynon told members of the Oxford Rotary Club Thursday noon.

Beynon, candidate for the Republican Congressional nomination in the First District, said that grants to European countries were intended to fill in the void created by destruction of war.

"However," he said, "under the Truman administration we started a program of free aid to many countries who were neutral during the war. We have given millions to Portugal, Ireland and Sweden. These countries traded with both sides and came out of the war with a profit."

Europe has made remarkable recoveries with American aid, he said. Beynon pointed out that industrial production in central Europe is about 140 per cent of what it was in 1938. Western Germany's commerce, he said, is 150 per cent of what it was in 1938.

"It is not that European countries do not have problems," he said. "Their troubles stem largely from over-population, inefficiency and even corruption in government. In France and Italy in particular, tax evasion is the usual practice and not the exception."

Red Plane Attack 'Cruel'—Hruska

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Rep. Roman Hruska of Omaha lashed out bitterly at what he described as a cruel and ruthless act on the part of Communist China in attacking the United States planes engaged in rescue operations off the China coast.

Hruska said the United States was fully justified in "fighting back" and downing two Chinese planes as it did because the Reds respect only force and nothing else.

This is a typical Communist strategy," Hruska declared. "While the Reds cry out to the world they are only seeking peace, they are sneaking around committing cold-blooded cruelty. And then they brazenly announce it was just an accident."

Hruska is the Republican candidate for the four-year Senate term created by the death of Sen. Hugh Butler.

Tariff Increase Pleases Curtis

By the Associated Press

Rep. Carl T. Curtis Thursday expressed "great satisfaction" over President Eisenhower's action in increasing duties on Swiss watches by 50 per cent over existing tariff rates.

Curtis, who is campaigning for the Republican nomination for the long-term Senatorial nomination, said he and other Republican members of the House Ways and Means Committee had petitioned the President to take this action to protect American industry sometime ago

Curtis said he was particularly interested in the President's action because the Elgin Watch Co. in Lincoln employs 1,200 persons "and without tariff protection such plants might be forced to close and many workers made jobless."

He was campaigning Thursday in Saunders and Dodge Counties.

Honorable Peace Wanted By Martin

OMAHA (AP)—David Martin of Kearney, candidate for the Republican nomination for the U. S. Senate, long term, Thursday night called for a "peace with honor. A peace that cannot be bought."

Said Martin:

"I believe in a peace of the free and strong.

"A peace fought for in the Western Hemisphere or in the seas around it or the skies above it.

'A peace for free Americans and all people who believe in real freedom.

"A peace in which Congress preserves the delegated rights of the citizens.

"A peace of work and sweat and saving and the satisfaction that comes with it.

"A peace with the 'whip' that drove the money-changers out of the temple."

Violation Charged

TOKYO (Friday) (AP)—The Communists have accused the United States of shipping into South Korea 35 planes and large quantities of ammunition in violation of the armistice, Peiping radio said today.

Nebraska To Have 2,111 Primary Voting Precincts

Nebraska will have 2,111 voting precincts in the Aug. 10 primary election, compared with 2,075 in the last election, the secretary of state's office reported Thursday.

Douglas County's precinct total has jumped from 228 to 251.

Lancaster County's total has increased by one—to 131.

Two More Give Receipt Reports

Reports of campaign receipts by two more senatorial candidates were on file with the secretary of state Thursday.

Joseph V. Benesch of Omaha, who seeks the Democratic full-term nomination, has received campaign contributions of $316.

Mac Baldrige of Omaha, bidder for the republican nomination to the short-short term, reported receipts of $750, all from himself.

Several other senatorial candidates had filed their reports earlier.

Weaver Favors Fixed Supports

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP) — Phil Weaver of Falls City, First District Republican congressional candidate, said Thursday he favors fixed supports for farm products except under emergency conditions.

In an emergency, he said, he would support 100 per cent parity supports.

Weaver had been quoted as saying at an Adams County Republican picnic rally Wednesday night that he favored flexible supports.

'Business Expense' Tax Chislers Are Facing Crackdown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews reported Thursday the government is getting tougher with taxpayers who deduct such items as yachts and honeymoons as business expenes in figuring income taxes.

Andrews told a House Ways and Means subcommittee about recent unsuccessful efforts to evade taxes by charging to "business expense" a society debut, weddings, jewelry and even the funeral expense of a taxpayer's mother.

'All-Out' Cherry County Assessment Claimed

Cherry County told the State Board of Equalization it has gone all out to assess property at 100 per cent of actual value.

By doing so, County Commissioner Elvin Adamson of Nenzel told the board, Cherry County has put itself in the position of footing part of the tax bill for other counties who've been permitted to get by with less than 100 per cent valuations.

Adamson cited assessment figures for a string of more populous counties including Douglas, Lancaster, Adams, Lincoln, Scotts Bluff and others not originally called to account for their figures.

Politics Should Be Out

"We cannot see why the same consideration should not be given to every county, regardless of size, population and location," said the commissioner.

"I wouldn't want to think that politics entered into the consideration," he observed. "If it did, it shouldn't."

Adamson said Cherry County was not asking that its valuations be decreased but that other counties be brought up to its level.

Cherry, given the hearing at its own request, brought in a reporter to transcribe the proceedings and Adamson said if the state board doesn't do the equalizing job, "we intend to bring legislation to require the board to do so."

One Of Nine

Cherry County, Nebraska's largest, was one of nine Western Nebraska counties heard by the state board Thursday forenoon. Lancaster and Douglas counties were heard in the afternoon.

Hearings Thursday completed those for the 42 counties originally scheduled. But the state board Wednesday broadened the call to including all 93 counties, with hearings to resume Monday.

The board thus put itself in position to make a general downward revision from last year for all counties.

Other counties heard Thursday were Sioux, Kimball and Grant, called to show why farm values should not be increased; Dawes and Box Butte, called to show why both town and farm values should not be hiked; Morrill, called to show why farm values should not be decreased; Deuel, called to show why town values should not be decreased, and Keith, called to show why town values should not be increased.

Box Butte Defended

Most of the counties agreed to permit Thursday's hearings to suffice for the new hearings covered by Wednesday's order. Most said they would not object to decreases in valuations should they be made equitably among the counties.

Robert Moran of Hemingford, county attorney, defended Box Butte's valuations, down 17 per cent from last year on farm property and 13 per cent on town property. Persons in position to know have estimated that property values in the county are down 15 to 20 per cent, Moran said.

C. E. Chamberlain of Chadron, county assessor, appeared to defend the 15 per cent cut made by Dawes County in its valuations this year. Half the lots in Chadron and Crawford could be purchased for less than the tax assessment value, he said.

A picture of agricultural distress was painted by Jack H. Myers of Kimball, county attorney for Kimball County.

"It (Kimball County) not only borders a "disaster area (Wyoming), it is a disaster area," said Myers.

Value Down

County Attorney W. E. Mumby of Harrison acknowledged that assessed valuations have been dropped by about 20 per cent on farm land and about 18 per cent on town property in Sioux County but said "it should be more than that as of today."

Grant County Commissioner George Peterson of Ashby said dropping cattle and land prices justified Grant County's 20 per cent drop in valuations.

Morrill County Attorney J. C. Conover said Morrill's valuations are about right and if farm valuations are going to be lowered city valuations ought to be dropped also.

Convict-Author Gets Another Reprieve From Gas Chamber

SAN QUENTIN (INS)—Condemned convict-author Caryl Chessman Thursday won another last-minute round in his desperate six-year-old battle to escape the California gas chamber.

State Supreme Court Justice Jess W. Carter in San Francisco granted a stay of execution less than 24 hours before Chessman was to enter the gas chamber. The condemned man had been scheduled to die in San Quentin's deadly "Green Room" at 10 a.m. Friday.

Justice Carter's move came after California Gov. Goodwin J. Knight turned down a last-minute appeal for clemency on the grounds it contained nothing new which could change the case.

High Court Try

Chessman's attorney, Berwyn A. Rice, was in Washington attempting to get a stay from U S Supreme Court Justices Hugo Black or William O. Douglas, but th prospects appeared dim for High Court action.

The High Court previously had turned down one of the many appeals filed by Chessman. Chessman, with a "genius" IQ rating, wrote most of the briefs himself from his cell in condemned row.

Chessman, 34, was convicted and sentenced to death under California's "Little Lindbergh Law" for a series of Los Angeles rape-kidnapings in 1948. He has never been charged with murder.

Resolved To Die Calmly

His recently-published autobiography, "Cell 2455, Death Row," mirrored six years of legal maneuvering to escape the gas chamber.

Before Justice Carter granted a reprieve, and as all hopes for life seemed to be fading, Chessman said he was resolved to die calmly.

He explained:

"I've faced it so long that I'm used to the idea. I've looked at it sharply from all sides. If it does come, I'll just take it with a shrug."

"I've done everything possible to prevent it."

The 1954 Bonds are being issued for the purpose of paying (i) the cost of construction of a steam generating station at Ogallala, Nebraska, including electrical facilities to connect with the District's western transmission system, (ii) the amount required by the Resolutions to be paid into the Western System Debt Service Fund created thereby, and (iii) incidental financing, legal, engineering, administrative and other related costs.

For further information as to the 1954 Bonds, including the District's covenants with respect thereto, reference is hereby made to the Resolutions and to the form of proposed Official Statement mentioned in the closing paragraph of this Notice of Sale.

Each proposal must be submitted in duplicate on the Official Form of Proposal and must be a bid of not less than $2,205,000 plus interest on the 1954 Bonds accrued to the date of delivery, and must specify in a multiple of ⅛ of 1% the rate per annum of interest which the 1954 Bonds of each maturity are to bear. Only one interest rate may be specified for the 1954 Bonds of the same maturity, and not more than three different interest rates may be named. The maximum average rate of interest is 3¼% per annum. Each proposal must be enclosed in a sealed envelope and should be addressed to the Board of Directors, Consumers Public Power District, Columbus, Nebraska, and marked on the outside, in substance, "Proposal for Bonds." As a condition precedent to the consideration of his proposal, each bidder must enclose with it, as a good-faith deposit, with the Treasurer of the District, a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank, payable to the order of "Consumers Public Power District," for $45,000. No interest will be allowed on any good-faith deposit.

The right is reserved to reject all proposals or any proposal not conforming to this Notice of Sale or not on the Official Form of Proposal (without alteration except for the insertions required by the form). The right is also reserved to waive, if permitted by law, any irregularity or informality in any proposal.

As between acceptable proposals complying with this Notice of Sale, the 1954 Bonds will be sold to the highest responsible bidder whose proposal offers to purchase all the 1954 Bonds at such rate or rates of interest as will produce the lowest interest cost to the District over the life of such Bonds, after deducting the amount of premium bid above $2,250,000 or adding the amount of discount bid below $2,250,000. It is requested that each proposal be accompanied by a statement of the interest cost (after deducting the premium offered or adding the discount, if any) computed at the interest rate or rates specified in the proposal in accordance with the said method of computation, and of the percentage of net interest cost. But such statement is not to be considered as a part of the proposal.

Proposals will be accepted or rejected by the Board of Directors of the District (at a meeting called for that purpose at the office of the District in Columbus, Nebraska) not later than 3:00 o'clock P.M., central standard time, (5:00 o'clock P.M., eastern daylight saving time), on the date for receiving proposals. When the successful bidder has been ascertained, the Board of Directors of the District will adopt a resolution awarding the purchase of the 1954 Bonds, and the President or other authorized officer of the District will execute the acceptance of the Board of Directors on the duplicate of the proposal of such bidder, deliver or mail it to such bidder, and notify such bidder by telegraph of the acceptance of his proposal. The Treasurer of the District will promptly return all good-faith deposits made to the persons making the same except the deposit made by the successful bidder. The deposit of the successful bidder will be applied as part payment for the 1954 Bonds or, if he fails to comply with the terms of his proposal, will be retained as liquidated damages and in full satisfaction of any claims of the District against the successful bidder relating to the 1954 Bonds, or if the District fails to fulfill the conditions stated in the proposal, the deposit will be returned.

As soon as possible after the successful bidder is ascertained, the form of the Official Statement of the District will be dated August 12, 1954, the interest rate or rates will be inserted therein, and the table therein entitled "Debt Service Schedule" will be revised as to the 1954 Bonds to reflect the actual interest rate or rates, and the successful bidder will be furnished with copies, in reasonable quantity as required in connection with the sale by him of the 1954 Bonds, of such Official Statement (including a copy of Resolution No. 853 attached thereto), including one copy thereof signed manually by the President or Vice President of the District.

The 1954 Bonds will be delivered in definitive form as coupon Bonds in the denomination of $1,000, registrable as to principal only, and as to both principal and interest. 'All-Out' Cherry County Assessment Claimed

Cherry County told the State Board of Equalization it has gone all out to assess property at 100 per cent of actual value

By doing so, County Commissioner Elvin Adamson of Nenzel told the board, Cherry County has put itself in the position of footing part of the tax bill for other counties who've been permitted to get by with less than 100 per cent valuations.

Adamson cited assessment figures for a string of more populous counties including Douglas, Lancaster, Adams, Lincoln, Scotts Bluff and others not originally called to account for their figures.

Politics Should Be Out

"We cannot see why the same consideration should not be given to every county, regardless of size, population and location," said the commissioner.

"I wouldn't want to think that politics entered into the consideration," he observed. "If it did, it shouldn't."

Adamson said Cherry County was not asking that its valuations be decreased but that other counties be brought up to its level.

Cherry, given the hearing at its own request, brought in a reporter to transcribe the proceedings and Adamson said if the state board doesn't do the equalizing job, "we intend to bring legislation to require the board to do so."

One Of Nine

Cherry County, Nebraska's largest, was one of nine Western Nebraska counties heard by the state board Thursday forenoon. Lancaster and Douglas counties were heard in the afternoon.

Hearings Thursday completed those for the 42 counties originally scheduled. But the state board Wednesday broadened the call to including all 93 counties, with hearings to resume Monday.

The board thus put itself in position to make a general downward revision from last year for all counties.

Other counties heard Thursday were Sioux, Kimball and Grant, called to show why farm values should not be increased; Dawes and Box Butte, called to show why both town and farm values should not be hiked; Morrill, called to show why farm values should not be decreased; Deuel, called to show why town values should not be decreased, and Keith, called to show why town values should not be increased.

Box Butte Defended

Most of the counties agreed to permit Thursday's hearings to suffice for the new hearings covered by Wednesday's order. Most said they would not object to decreases in valuations should they be made equitably among the counties.

Robert Moran of Hemingford, county attorney, defended Box Butte's valuations, down 17 per cent from last year on farm property and 13 per cent on town property. Persons in position to know have estimated that property values in the county are down 15 to 20 per cent, Moran said.

C. E. Chamberlain of Chadron, county assessor, appeared to defend the 15 per cent cut made by Dawes County in its valuations this year. Half the lots in Chadron and Crawford could be purchased for less than the tax assessment value, he said.

A picture of agricultural distress was painted by Jack H. Myers of Kimball, county attorney for Kimball County.

"It (Kimball County) not only borders a disaster area (Wyoming), it is a disaster area," said Myers.

Value Down

County Attorney W. E. Mumby of Harrison acknowledged that assessed valuations have been dropped by about 20 per cent on farm land and about 18 per cent on town property in Sioux County but said "it should be more than that as of today."

Grant County Commissioner George Peterson of Ashby said dropping cattle and land prices justified Grant County's 20 per cent drop in valuations.

Morrill County Attorney J. C. Conover said Morrill's valuations are about right and if farm valuations are going to be lowered city valuations ought to be dropped also.

Period during which redeemed (both dates inclusive)	Redemption Price

The 1954 Bonds are being issued for the purpose of paying (i) the cost of construction of a steam generating station at Ogallala, Nebraska, including electrical facilities to connect with the District's western transmission system, (ii) the amount required by the Reolutions to be paid into the Western System Debt Service Fund created thereby, and (iii) incidental financing, legal, engineering, administrative and other related costs.

For further information as to the 1954 Bonds, including the District's covenants with respect thereto, reference is hereby made to the Resolutions and to the form of proposed Official Statement mentioned in the closing paragraph of this Notice of Sale.

Each proposal must be submitted in duplicate on the Official Form of Proposal and must be a bid of not less than $2,205,000 plus interest on the 1954 Bonds accrued to the date of delivery, and must specify in a multiple of ⅛ of 1% the rate per annum of interest which the 1954 Bonds of each maturity are to bear. Only one interest rate may be specified for the 1954 Bonds of the same maturity, and not more than three different interest rates may be named. The maximum average rate of interest is 3½% per annum. Each proposal must be enclosed in a sealed envelope and should be addressed to the Board of Directors, Consumers Public Power District, Columbus, Nebraska, and marked on the outside, in substance, "Proposal for Bonds." As a condition precedent to the consideration of his proposal, each bidder must enclose with it, as a good-faith deposit, with the Treasurer of the District, a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank, payable to the order of "Consumers Public Power District," for $45,000. No interest will be allowed on any good-faith deposit.

The right is reserved to reject all proposals or any proposal not conforming to this Notice of Sale or not on the Official Form of Proposal (without alteration except for the insertions required by the form). The right is also reserved to waive, if permitted by law, any irregularity or informality in any proposal.

As between acceptable proposals complying with this Notice of Sale, the 1954 Bonds will be sold to the highest responsible bidder whose proposal offers to purchase all the 1954 Bonds at such rate or rates of interest as will produce the lowest interest cost to the District over the life of such Bonds, after deducting the amount of premium bid above $2,250,000 or adding the amount of discount bid below $2,250,000. It is requested that each proposal be accompanied by a statement of the interest cost (after deducting the premium offered or adding the discount, if any) computed at the interest rate or rates specified in the proposal in accordance with the said method of computation, and of the percentage of net interest cost, but such statement is not to be considered as a part of the proposal.

Proposals will be accepted or rejected by the Board of Directors of the District (at a meeting called for that purpose at the office of the District in Columbus, Nebraska) not later than 3:00 o'clock P.M., central standard time, (5:00 o'clock P.M., eastern daylight saving time), on the date for receiving proposals. When the successful bidder has been ascertained, the Board of Directors of the District will adopt a resolution awarding the purchase of the 1954 Bonds, and the President or other authorized officer of the District will execute the acceptance of the Board of Directors on the duplicate of the proposal of such bidder, deliver or mail it to such bidder, and notify such bidder by telegraph of the acceptance of his proposal. The Treasurer of the District will promptly return all good-faith deposits made to the persons making the same except the deposit made by the successful bidder. The deposit of the successful bidder will be applied as part payment for the 1954 Bonds or, if he fails to comply with the terms of his proposal, will be retained as liquidated damages and in full satisfaction of any claims of the District against the successful bidder relating to the 1954 Bonds, or if the District fails to fulfill the conditions stated in the proposal, the deposit will be returned.

As soon as possible after the successful bidder is ascertained, the form of the Official Statement of the District will be dated August 12, 1954, the interest rate or rates will be inserted therein, and the table therein entitled "Debt Service Schedule" will be revised as to the 1954 Bonds to reflect the actual interest rate or rates, and the successful bidder will be furnished with copies, in reasonable quantity as required in connection with the sale by him of the 1954 Bonds, of such Official Statement (including a copy of Resolution No. 853 attached thereto), including one copy thereof signed manually by the President or Vice President of the District.

The 1954 Bonds will be delivered in definitive form as coupon Bonds in the denomination of $1,000, registerable as to principal only, and as to both principal and interest. Such delivery will be made in the City of New York or the City of Chicago, on September 2, 1954, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. (eastern daylight saving time), or such other place, time and date as shall be acceptable to the District and the successful bidder, at which time the successful bidder shall pay the balance of the purchase price by one or more certified or cashier's checks upon solvent banks in the City of New York or the City of Chicago, payable to the order of "Consumers Public Power District".

It shall be a condition of the obligation of the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the 1954 Bonds that contemporaneously with or before acceptang such Bonds and paying therefor he shall receive the following documents, dated the date of such delivery:

Upon the delivery of the 1954 Bonds, or as soon as practicable thereafter, the successful bidder will be furnished with a record of proceedings taken in connection with the issuance of such Bonds.

Convict-Author Gets Another Reprieve From Gas Chamber

SAN QUENTIN (INS) -Condemned convict-author Caryl Chessman Thursday won another last-minute round in his desperate six-year-old battle to escape the California gas chamber.

State Supreme Court Justice Jess W. Carter in San Francisco granted a stay of execution less than 24 hours before Chessman was to enter the gas chamber. The condemned man had been scheduled to die in San Quentin's deadly "Green Room" at 10 a.m. Friday.

Justice Carter's move came after California Gov. Goodwin J. Knight turned down a last-minute appeal for clemency on the grounds it contained nothing new which could change the case.

High Court Try

Chessman's attorney, Berwyn A. Rice, was in Washington attempting to get a stay from U S Supreme Court Justices Hugo Black or William O. Douglas, but the prospects appeared dim for High Court action.

The High Court previously had turned down one of the many appeals filed by Chessman. Chessman, with a "genius" IQ rating wrote most of the briefs himself from his cell in condemned row.

Chessman, 34, was convicted and sentenced to death under California's "Little Lindbergh Law" for a series of Los Angeles rape-kidnapings in 1948. He has never been charged with murder.

Resolved To Die Calmly

His recently-published autobiography, "Cell 2455, Death Row," mirrored six years of legal maneuvering to escape the gas chamber.

Before Justice Carter granted a reprieve, and as all hopes for life seemed to be fading, Chessman said he was resolved to die calmly.

He explained:

"I've faced it so long that I'm used to the idea. I've looked at it sharply from all sides. If it does come, I'll just take it with a shrug."

"I've done everything possible to prevent it."

The 1954 Bonds shall be redeemable on published notice, as provided in the Resolutions, at any time on or after July 1, 1959, in whole, or in part in inverse order of maturities to the extent and in the manner provided in the Resolutions (and in the event that less than all of the 1954 Bonds of an entire maturity are redeemed, the 1954 Bonds of such maturity to be redeemed shall be selected by lot), at the respective redemption prices (expressed as percentages of the principal amount of the Bonds to be redeemed) set forth below, in each case together with accrued interest to the redemption date:

Period during which redeemed (both dates inclusive)	Redemption Price
July 1, 1959 to July 1, 1963	103%
July 2, 1963 to July 1, 1967	102½
July 2, 1967 to July 1, 1971	102

July 2, 1975 to July 1, 1979	101
Thereafter	100

The 1954 Bonds are being issued for the purpose of paying (i) the cost of construction of a steam generating station at Ogallala, Nebraska, including electrical facilities to connect with the District's western transmission system, (ii) the amount required by the Resolutions to be paid into the Western System Debt Service Fund created thereby, and (iii) incidental financing, legal, engineering, administrative and other related costs.

For further information as to the 1954 Bonds, including the District's covenants with respect thereto, reference is hereby made to the Resolutions and to the form of proposed Official Statement mentioned in the closing paragraph of this Notice of Sale.

Each proposal must be submitted in duplicate on the Official Form of Proposal and must be a bid of not less than $2,205,000 plus interest on the 1954 Bonds accrued to the date of delivery, and must specify in a multiple of ⅛ of 1% the rate per annum of interest which the 1954 Bonds of each maturity are to bear. Only one interest rate may be specified for the 1954 Bonds of the same maturity, and not more than three different interest rates may be named. The maximum average rate of interest is 3½% per annum. Each proposal must be enclosed in a sealed envelope and should be addressed to the Board of Directors, Consumers Public Power District, Columbus, Nebraska, and marked on the outside, in substance, "Proposal for Bonds." As a condition precedent to the consideration of his proposal, each bidder must enclose with it, as a good-faith deposit, with the Treasurer of the District, a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank, payable to the order of "Consumers Public Power District," for $45,000. No interest will be allowed on any good-faith deposit.

The right is reserved to reject all proposals or any proposal not conforming to this Notice of Sale or not on the Official Form of Proposal (without alteration except for the insertions required by the form). The right is also reserved to waive, if permitted by law, any irregularity or informality in any proposal.

As between acceptable proposals complying with this Notice of Sale, the 1954 Bonds will be sold to the highest responsible bidder whose proposal offers to purchase all the 1954 Bonds at such rate or rates of interest as will produce the lowest interest cost to the District over the life of such Bonds, after deducting the amount of premium bid above $2,250,000 or adding the amount of discount bid below $2,250,000. It is requested that each proposal be accompanied by a statement of the interest cost (after deducting the premium offered or adding the discount, if any) computed at the interest rate or rates specified in the proposal in accordance with the said method of computation, and of the percentage of net interest cost, but such statement is not to be considered as a part of the proposal.

Proposals will be accepted or rejected by the Board of Directors of the District (at a meeting called for that purpose at the office of the District in Columbus, Nebraska) not later than 3:00 o'clock P.M., central standard time, (5:00 o'clock P.M., eastern daylight saving time), on the date for receiving proposals. When the successful bidder has been ascertained, the Board of Directors of the District will adopt a resolution awarding the purchase of the 1954 Bonds, and the President or other authorized officer of the District will execute the acceptance of the Board of Directors on the duplicate of the proposal of such bidder, deliver or mail it to such bidder, and notify such bidder by telegraph of the acceptance of his proposal. The Treasurer of the District will promptly return all good-faith deposits made to the persons making the same except the deposit made by the successful bidder. The deposit of the successful bidder will be applied as part payment for the 1954 Bonds or, if he fails to comply with the terms of his proposal, will be retained as liquidated damages and in full satisfaction of any claims of the District against the successful bidder relating to the 1954 Bonds, or if the District fails to fulfill the conditions stated in the proposal, the deposit will be returned.

As soon as possible after the successful bidder is ascertained, the form of the Official Statement of the District will be dated August 12, 1954, the interest rate or rates will be inserted therein, and the table therein entitled "Debt Service Schedule" will be revised as to the 1954 Bonds to reflect the actual interest rate or rates, and the successful bidder will be furnished with copies, in reasonable quantity as required in connection with the sale by him of the 1954 Bonds, of such Official Statement (including a copy of Resolution No. 853 attached thereto), including one copy thereof signed manually by the President or Vice President of the District.

The 1954 Bonds will be delivered in definitive form as coupon Bonds in the denomination of $1,000, registerable as to principal only, and as to both principal and interest. Such delivery will be made in the City of New York or the City of Chicago, on September 2, 1954, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. (eastern daylight saving time), or such other place, time and date as shall be acceptable to the District and the successful bidder, at which time the successful bidder shall pay the balance of the purchase price by one or more certified or cashier's checks upon solvent banks in the City of New York or the City of Chicago, payable to the order of "Consumers Public Power District".

It shall be a condition of the obligation of the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the 1954 Bonds that contemporaneously with or before accepting such Bonds and paying therefor he shall receive the following documents, dated the date of such delivery:

(a) Copies, in reasonable quantity as required in connection with deliveries by the successful bidder of the 1954 Bonds, of the opinion of Hawkins, Delafield & Wood, Bond Counsel to the District, in the form referred to in the closing paragraph of this Notice of Sale and attached to the Official Form of Proposal, including one copy thereof signed manually;

(b) A certificate signed by the President or other authorized officer of the District, showing delivery of such Bonds and payment in full therefor, and

(c) A certificate, signed by the general counsel to the District, stating that there is no litigation pending in any court (either State or Federal) restraining or enjoining the issuance or delivery of such Bonds or questioning the creation, organization or existence of the District, the title to office of the members or officers of the District, the validity of the Resolutions, or the proceedings for the authorization, execution and delivery of such Bonds, or the validity of such Bonds.

Upon the delivery of the 1954 Bonds, or as soon as practicable thereafter, the successful bidder will be furnished with a record of proceedings taken in connection with the issuance of such Bonds.

Copies of the form of proposed Official Statement of the District relating to the 1954 Bonds, including Resolution No. 853, of this Notice of Sale, of the Official Form of Proposal, and of the form of the opinion of Hawkins, Delafield & Wood, Bond Counsel to the District, will be furnished upon application to the District, Columbus, Nebraska, or to Hawkins, Delafield & Wood, 67 Wall Street, New York 5, N. Y.

Convict-Author Gets Another Reprieve From Gas Chamber

SAN QUENTIN (INS) Condemned convict-author Caryl Chessman Thursday won another last-minute round in his desperate six-year-old battle to escape the California gas chamber.

State Supreme Court Justice Jess W. Carter in San Francisco granted a stay of execution less than 24 hours before Chessman was to enter the gas chamber. The condemned man had been scheduled to die in San Quentin's deadly "Green Room" at 10 a.m. Friday.

Justice Carter's move came after California Gov. Goodwin J. Knight turned down a last-minute appeal for clemency on the grounds it contained nothing new which could change the case.

High Court Try

Chessman's attorney, Berwyn A. Rice, was in Washington attempting to get a stay from U S Supreme Court Justices Hugo Black or William O. Douglas, but the prospects appeared dim for High Court action.

The High Court previously had turned down one of the many appeals filed by Chessman. Chessman, with a "genius" IQ rating wrote most of the briefs himself from his cell in condemned row.

Chessman, 34, was convicted and sentenced to death under California's "Little Lindbergh Law" for a series of Los Angeles rape-kidnapings in 1948. He has never been charged with murder.

Resolved To Die Calmly

His recently-published autobiography, "Cell 2455, Death Row," mirrored six years of legal maneuvering to escape the gas chamber.

Before Justice Carter granted a reprieve, and as all hopes for life seemed to be fading, Chessman said he was resolved to die calmly.

He explained:

"I've faced it so long that I'm used to the idea. I've looked at it sharply from all sides. If it does come, I'll just take it with a shrug."

"I've done everything possible to prevent it."
